Cynthia Percival Education 1

Yes. I think it will be good for furtherance of education. I am even willing to contribute towards the installation.

Stewart Walker Surveying Eng. 2

I am inclined to classify it a luxury. But I am in favour of it due to the education values involved.

Lorne Drake Computer Sc. 4

Yes. But I think it should be a low priority investment. However, I don't think it a luxury.

Chris Pratt Arts 3

I would rather have cable TV's in the SUB and other academic buildings but not in residences. Serious conflict of interests in viewing would be unavoidable.

Louis Ho M. Sc. Eng. 1

Yes. I think it is worthwhile because the channels we have are not enough. I like it even if it means contribution.

Wayne McLennan Law 2

I personally feel there is a lot of money involved. Kind of luxury at this stage. We can do without very nicely.

Roxanne Brennan Nursing 2

I don't think it is necessary. I don't have spare time to watch it anyway.

Berlee Dunham Nursing 2

No. Money involved is too much. Such money could be used for something better.

Vivian Pine Forestry 1

It wouldn't be of any use to me because I hardly even watch TV. Since it costs so much money, is it really needed at all?

Lynn Reeves Education 1

I think it is worthwhile but people might fight over the channels.
