

Special trips

Special trips, those escorted excursions for people with a single and special interest, are seldom inexpensive, but they can offer a lifetime of memories, or even a skill that will serve the individual traveller for generations.

One such special trip has been introduced by two enterprising Toronto women, working in liaison with Roger Verge. Verge, you might remember, was the once fat chef who slimmed down the pleasant way by feasting on his own invention known as nouvelle cuisine.

Gail Rowe and Vivian de Boice Baker have formed a partnership with Verge under the name Cuisine Nouvelle de France Inc., for the exclusive marketing of instruction in the preparation of Verge's nouvelle cuisine.

Travellers will stay in Mougins, just seven kilometres north of Cannes and the Cote d'Azur in the south of France, in a converted old farmhouse with a breathtaking view of the southern Alps. Each day, they'll cook along with Verge's chefs from 9 a.m. until 2 p.m., eating the results of their labors for lunch.

Weekly departures begin Sept. 13 and continue until Dec. 13 and then from Jan. 12 to April 17.

Inquiries and reservations can be made by calling 922-6885, or by writing to Cuisine Nouvelle de France, Inc., 44 Jackes Avenue, Suite PH2, Toronto, M4T 1E5.

Also along exotic lines is World Wide Tours first Canadian Gem and Photo Adventure Tour to India, Nepal, and Sri Lanka.

This flight leaves Toronto on Nov. 2 for Delhi (via New York), and returns to Toronto from Bombay on Nov. 21.

Described as a gem collector's dream and a photographer's delight, the escorted tour includes airfares, deluxe hotels, three meals daily, escorted sightseeing by private motor coach, an elephant ride, and guidance to wholesale gem shopping with a local gemologist.

The cost of the tour is $2,995. Inquiries and bookings should be directed to World Wide Tours, 104 Markham Road, Scarborough, M1M 2Z7.
