

boys will dig down to the moist soil all around the rock, to make the fire quite safe. One boy has a bunch of sticks dipped in oil, that will make a quick hot flame. After the meal the leader shows the boys how to put the fire out. Before they leave for home the boys will gather stones to make a cairn.

They will hoist the flag and poise it on the stones. Then they will sing the National Anthem. The boys will have much toil, but it will not spoil the day, and all will joyously return.
