

few minutes and ask yourself, What shall I do with Jesus? The One who was with God before the world was (Prov. ix: 22 to 30); by whom and for whom all things were and are created, and by whom all things subsist (Col. i.: 15 to 17). This is the One, "Who being in the form of God thought it not robbery to be equal with God: but made Himself of no reputation, and took upon Him the form of a servant, and was made in the likeness of men: and being found in fashion as a man, He humbled Himself, and became obedient unto death, even the death of the cross (Phil. ii.: 6 to 8). Yes, reader, this Jesus, the Lord of Glory, left the place He had with His Father in Heaven, came into this scene to be the sin bearer for you and me, and gave Himself for us (Eph. v.: 2), "that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life" (John iii.: 16). "Wherefore God also hath highly exalted Him, and given him a name which is above every name: that at the name of Jesus every knee should bow, of things in heaven, and things in earth, and things under the earth: and that every tongue should confess that Jesus Christ is Lord, to the glory of God the Father" (Phil. ii.: 9 to 11). There is no excuse, for the invitation is to "whosoever," and that includes you and me; and God's desire is that all should be saved and come to a knowledge of the truth. Reader, if you
