I Cured My Rupture I Will Show You How To Cure Yours FREE!

I was helpless and bed-ridden for years from a double rupture. No truss could hold. Doctors said I would die if not operated on. I fooled them all and cured myself by a simple discovery. I will send the cure free by mail if you write for it. It cured me and has since cured thousands. It will cure you.

Fill out the coupon below and mail it to me today

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS. Miscellaneous.

WART ON SOW.

Sow has a large wart on one of her teats. J. P.

LAME HENS—ROUP.

1. Two or three of my chickens seem to have no power in the joints of their legs. When I feed them, they hop around very stiff for a few yards, then lie down again. Otherwise they look healthy enough, nice and red in the face.

2. I also have two, each with a sore eye on the right side of the head. The right side of the head, around the eye, is swollen, and the eye is pale and watery, and also discharges matter. There does not seem to be anything the matter with the other eye, and the birds eat well. R. C.

Ans.—1. These chickens have probably had roup, and have been left weak, and the lameness has resulted from the lack of grit and lime. See that they are supplied with these, which are necessary to health in chickens.

2. These have roup, a dangerous and infectious disease, which may start from a simple cold, caused by a draft, or from too warm quarters, or from filth. The affected birds had better be separated from the others, and their heads bathed with a five-per-cent. solution of potassium permanganate. Place as much of the permanganate as will lie on a five-cent piece in a gallon of water. Use this for the drinking water of the rest of the fowls. It will tend to lessen danger of infection.

SCALY LEG—OATS AND WHEAT, BEST VARIETIES—NITRO- CULTURE—WHEN TO SOW PEAS.

We are very much pleased with your paper. It certainly gives us a lot of helpful instruction. My wife enjoys very much Hope's Quiet Hour, and The Ingle Nook.

1. Our hens' legs are very scaly. In fact, some of their legs are all covered with white scales. They pick them sometimes till they bleed.

2. Which do you consider the better kind of oats, Gartland's Abundance or the American Banner, and which is the better wheat, the Early Windsor or the Dawson Golden Chaff?

3. How much culture is required for treating 1½ bushels seed of alfalfa, and how much would it cost me?

4. When, during seeding time, do you recommend sowing peas, in the beginning, or at the end? Do you think that the full of the moon has anything to do with their growth? J. A. B.

Ans.—1. "Scaly leg" is caused by a mite which burrows under the scales of the feet and shanks. It is contagious. Treatment consists in soaking the feet and legs in warm, soapy water, to loosen the scales, and brushing vigorously with an old tooth or nail brush, afterwards applying sulphur ointment, or a mixture of lard and kerosene. Sulphur ointment is made by mixing a teaspoonful of lard with a dessertspoonful of sulphur.

2. On the experimental plots, O. A. C., Guelph, the American Banner oat yielded two bushels per acre more than the Abundance, in the average of several years' test, as reported in 1909, and Dawson's Golden Chaff wheat outyielded, on the average, the Early Windsor. Even if the result had been somewhat in favor of the new varieties, we would prefer to bank on the old standard sorts.

3. One lot, costing 25 cents, will treat a bushel. It is supposed to be sent out from the Ontario Agricultural College for experiment, and we are not sure whether more could be obtained by one person in one season. However, you might try.

4. The average of five years' experiments at the Ontario Agricultural College, indicated the advisability of sowing spring grains in this order: Wheat, barley, oats, peas. Where the pea weevil is troublesome, it is wise to defer sowing until the last or even the 20th of May; otherwise it is desirable to sow moderately early, though a delay after the most desirable date does not cause so serious reduction of yields as with the other grains.

Durability

By
The Philosopher of Metal Town

Durability—just the difference between a roofing that lasts only a few years and one that remains in perfect condition for a life-time.

That's the difference between "Eastlake" Steel Shingles and other roofings.

Actual service is the only sure test of roof quality.

"Eastlake" Steel Shingles have been proven positively superior by the test of time.

Barn and house roofs covered 25 years ago with "Eastlakes" are in perfect condition to-day.

That's your proof—your only protection, and is safer than all the highly-colored, many-worded guarantees that really guarantee nothing.

"Eastlake" Steel Shingles are made of the finest sheet steel, and have a patented side-lock and gutter that locks permanently—makes the roof one sheet of indestructible steel.

They are easy to lay, and remain weathertight, snow, wind, rain, lightning and rust proof as long as the building stands.

Send for our illustrated booklet, "Eastlake Metallic Shingles." It gives more reasons. Write to-day—a post-card brings the booklet.

We also manufacture Corrugated Iron, Barn and House Siding, Metallic Ceiling, Eave-trough, Conductor Pipe, Ventilators, etc.
