

twice to the candy on the table. I've no objections to my helpers having a taste of the good things here occasionally—in fact, I've been accustomed to giving my boy a box of candy to take with him every Saturday night; but not a lad here had a right to take one piece off that table."

Then the speaker called to him the boy who alone had not yielded to the temptation, and after asking a few questions that were answered satisfactorily, gave him the place.

"Such a fuss to make about nothing!" remarked one boy, in disgusted tones, as he passed out.

Was it about "nothing?" Is it nothing to take even a piece of candy that one has no right to take? Everything has a beginning; little things lead to greater; and if one begins taking little things wrongfully, who can tell what he will end in taking? Far wiser is it to be on the safe side and strictly honest, even in trifles.

THE YIELDING TO IMPULSES.

The gardener who sees the fruit withering and decaying upon his trees does not content himself with cutting it off. He knows that it bespeaks a disease far deeper than itself, and it is to the very root of the tree that he directs his efforts. So when we discover that we are the victims of impulses injurious to ourselves, hurtful to others, and contrary to our best ideals of what is right and true and good, it is not sufficient simply to curb them, although that is the first duty. We must search for their causes, discover the forces in our character that created them, and centre upon these our chief attention. If the desires are pure, if the principles are firm, if the heart is true and loving, the impulses will be upright, truthful, honourable, sympathetic, and trustworthy. If, on the contrary, the heart is full of bitterness, envy, and hatred, if the character is selfish and weak,

Exhaustion

Horsford's Acid Phosphate

Overworked men and women, the nervous, weak and debilitated, will find in the Acid Phosphate a most agreeable, grateful and harmless stimulant, giving renewed strength and vigor to the entire system.

Dr. Edwin F. Vose, Portland, Me., says: "I have used it in my own case when suffering from nervous exhaustion, with gratifying results. I have prescribed it for many of the various forms of nervous debility, and it has never failed to do good."

Clergyman's Statement

Unable to Attend to His Duties on Account of Nervous Troubles—How He Found a Complete Cure.

The high character of the testimonials published in behalf of Hood's Sarsaparilla is well known. These testimonials come from a class of people whose words are worth considering. Many clergymen testify to the value of this medicine. Rev. Bernard M. Shulick of Brighton, Iowa, owing to weakness of the nerves, was for a time unable to attend to his duties. He makes the following statement: "I have suffered for a long time from weak nerves. After I had taken a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla I became quite well. The weakness of the nerves has now wholly disappeared and I am able to attend to my duties again. I am therefore grateful to Hood's Sarsaparilla and I recommend it to everyone who suffers from weak nerves."

and the wishes are impure, then the impulses will share the same character, and can never be yielded to with impunity.

THE BABY BOY COVERED WITH ECZEMA AND CURED BY DR. CHASE.

Mrs. Jas. Brown of Molesworth, Ont., tells how her boy (eight months old) was cured of torturing Eczema. Mothers whose children are afflicted can write her regarding the great cure, Dr. Chase's Ointment. Her child was afflicted from birth and three boxes of Dr. Chase's Ointment cured him.

WATCH ALWAYS.

Bad social influences, or a corrupt public opinion, or the weakness and treachery of our own hearts—any one of these, or all, may combine with the indefatigable enemy of our salvation. Nor is age, or experience, or cultivation and refinement, or even a high degree of religious knowledge, or the privilege of having done great works for God, or years of faithful service, any sufficient warrant that we can never fall. Let us watch the issues—we never can fully explore the depths—of these hearts of ours. Let us be sure that the best and most intelligent of men are, when left to themselves, incapable of thinking rightly, of judging rightly, of acting rightly, that they are capable of falling into the worst sins, of being irretrievably lost. And let us, therefore, look constantly, humbly, to God as the source of our strength. Let us grasp the hands that were pierced in mercy for us on the Cross. Let us ask for "the spirit to think and do always such things as be rightful, so that we who cannot do anything that is good without" God may, by God's Holy Spirit, be enabled to live according to His will here, and to die in His peace, through Jesus Christ our Lord.

—The most beautiful thing in the Oriental life is that the Oriental husband looks for and finds his pleasure at home. There are no clubs in the Orient, no bar-rooms or saloons, and men cannot flirt with other men's wives, to the neglect of their own.

There are not even operas or theatres. The outside world is the place for business, for education, diplomacy, law and war; but the pleasures of life are all at home,

JOIN HANDS

In Telling of the Curing Powers of Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart.

Mr. V. Thomas, of Stanley House, Kingston, writes: "Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart has proved a wonderful medicine in my case. I was a great sufferer from heart trouble. I found it a great health builder and have received great benefit. My wife also has used the Heart Cure and can bear equally as strong testimony of the wonderful benefit received." It relieves in 30 minutes.

CONTENTMENT.

As a poor pious man was sitting by his little fire, one cold evening, with his wife and children, he said to them, "I have been thinking a great deal today about that part of the Scripture 'The Son of Man hath not where to lay His head.' How wonderful it is, that we who are so sinful, unworthy, and helpless, should be more favoured than He was!"

"It is wonderful, indeed, father," said the eldest girl; "for though our house be mean, and our victuals scanty, compared with the houses and way of living of great folks, yet it seems that Jesus Christ was not so well provided for as we are."

"I am very glad to hear you speak in that way, Sarah," said the wife. "How happy we all are in our little dwelling this cold night. As soon as we wish, we have beds to rest ourselves upon; there, sharp and piercing as the frost is, and bleak and stormy as the winds blow, we shall be comfortable and warm, and yet the Son of Man, as your father has just told us, had nowhere to lay His head! O that this thought may make us thankful for our many mercies."

PILE TERROR SWEEP AWAY.

Dr. Agnew's Ointment stands at the head as a reliever, healer, and sure cure for Piles in all forms. One application will give comfort in a few minutes, and three to six days application according to directions will cure chronic cases. It relieves all itching and burning skin diseases in a day. 35c.

THE BASKET OF WATER.

"My son," said an Arab chief, "bring me a basket of water from the spring."

The boy tried and tried to fill the basket, and before he could get back to his father's tent the water leaked. At last he returned and said:

The germs of consumption are everywhere.

There is no way but to fight them.

If there is a history of weak lungs in the family, this fight must be constant and vigorous.

You must strike the disease, or it will strike you.

At the very first sign of failing health take Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil with Hypophosphites.

It gives the body power to resist the germs of consumption.

"Father, I have tried to fill the basket but the water will not stay in."

"My son," said the old chief, "what you say is true. The water did not stay in, but see how clean the basket is. So will it be with your heart. You may not be able to remember all the good words you hear, but keep trying to treasure them and they will make your heart clean and pure."

Linseed and Turpentine are not only popular remedies, but are also the best known to medical science for the treatment of the nervous membranes of respiratory organs. Dr. Chase compounded this valuable Syrup so as to take away the unpleasant tastes of turpentine and linseed.

Mothers will find this medicine invaluable for children, it is so pleasant to take, and will positively cure Croup, whooping cough and chest troubles.

INWARD PEACE.

When you look at the believer's busy life, you may see no trace of his inward peace of soul. But you know that the ocean under the hurricane is lashed into those huge waves and that wild foam only upon the surface. Not very far down the waters are as still as an autumn noon; there is not a ripple or breath or motion, and so, my friends, if we had the faith we ought, though there might be ruffles upon the surface of our lot, we should have the inward peace of perfect faith in God.

—Conscience is harder than our enemies; knows more, accuses with more nicety.
