EX-COUNCILLOR JOHN CLYDE. Ex-Town councillor John Clyde, of Kingston, brother in law of Jas. Clement, Northport, met instant death on Saturday evening, Jan. 17, in the yard at the rear of his home as a result of being kicked in the head by a horse, which he had taken to the pump to water. It appears that Mr. Clyde had returned from the city and was in the act of placing a halter on the horse's head when the animal reared, kicking Mr. Clyde in the face, death being instantaneous as a result of both jaws and neck being dislocated. His wife was standing by his side at the time of the accident. The funeral was very largely attended at his home on the following Tuesday afternoon. The service was conducted by Rev. John Boyd of Zion Presbyterian church, Kingston. A memorial service was held in that church on Sunday and the remains were placed in Cawthra's vault. Want Prince Edward Tobacco Samples. Mr. W. J. Wright of West Lake, has sold his tobacco to the Dominion Tobacco Company, Montreal. Mr. Wright suggested to the company that they buy the balance of the Prince Edward county crop. In reply to Mr. Wright the company suggests that the various growers might send a few hands which would represent the average sample of their crop, shipped together by express, and the company would then decide what to do in the matter. They also asked Mr. Wright to hold his shipment until further advised as the freight rate is rather less in car lots. It takes ten tons to make the smallest car of leaf tobacco and there are supposed to be from 20 to 25 tons in Prince Edward county.

NEWS CLIPPED FROM OUR MANY EXCHANGES. To Take Year's Rest. Rev. G. H. Coppeland, pastor of the Methodist church, who for some time past has been in rather poor health, intimated to the officials at their meeting on Monday evening his intention to take a year's rest from active work at the close of the conference year, in June next. As many of our readers are already aware, Mr. Coppeland, a few months ago, finding the work too much for his strength, engaged an assistant in the person of the Rev. Mr. Snider, and although he has since been gradually gaining strength he feels the need of further rest to complete restoration. We are sure that not only the members of his own congregation, but people of all denominations who have come to know him, will regret the necessity of his retirement on this account all will unite in the wish that he may be speedily restored to health. -Norwood Register.

AN APPRECIATION CANADA'S BIG SEISMIC SHOCK

Editor The Ontario. It gave yours truly a heap of satisfaction the way your municipal election turned out, almost as much as to have had the people made Mr. Albert Robinson their chief magistrate for a year or two. And, believe me, they would have nothing to regret had going to be defeated on account of not possessing the necessary qualification for the position. Not by a jug-full intimate acquaintance with the gentleman extending over a number of years, taught me that he knows pretty nearly where he is at most of the time. And also included me to the belief that he knows a whole lot more than a goosy mayor, Albert Robinson, is willing to give him credit for. However the large vote he received on the 6th of January would indicate that Bellevillians are getting better acquainted with him, and are justly proud to have him as their chief magistrate. He would be given the privilege of wearing it.

When you consider the interest he has taken in, and the time he has given up for the city's advancement, it looks as though he was entitled to any honor the citizens have in their power to bestow. Now it is just about time that he should be given a name that they belong exclusively to him, and it is his business if he wants to make use of them.

If you accept an invitation up to the big house on Commercial street you will find abundant hospitality. I have enjoyed it myself on more than one occasion so know whereof I speak. Concluding I would say hand out the bouquets to your worthy ones before they are discouraged and move out. If you'll take my word for it there is any number of mighty good people living here in Toronto who rightfully belong to the Bay City. And should be down there now being to bring your population up to the twelve thousand mark. Don't let any more of them away, you need them in your business, and if you want to make Mayo or M.P.C. of them, let them keep them on the payroll. do it. T. F. Brown

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Wright of Chapman, presented a very pleasing scene on Wednesday evening Dec. 17th, 1913, being their golden wedding anniversary. A purse of gold and a telephone message came from those who were too far away to be present. An only daughter, Mrs. J. H. Foster and family and her pastor Rev. S. Crook shanks and wife spent a very pleasing evening together. After prayer by their pastor this highly esteemed couple were left to think of the golden wedding, and the way he had led them for fifty years. -Tweed News.

February seems to be a favorite month for Canadian earthquakes, for it was on the fifth of that month, in 1863, that the worst seismic shock ever recorded in Canada took place. Lacomont, a Jesuit, thus records it: "It began with a great roaring sound heard through the whole extent of Canada. Bells sounded of themselves; beams and joists cracked; the logs of the palisades at Quebec danced about and many inhabitants were nauseated by the rocking of the earth. "The shock struck against one another and leaped on each other with such noise and confusion that the Indians said the whole forest was drunk. A number of men in a boat near Tadoussac stood at a large hall which sank into the water before their eyes. And Mother Marie de l'Incarnation tells of a man who ran all night to escape a crack in the earth which opened behind him as he fled. Streets ran rampant in the forest."

Geology's Testimony. Tangible evidence was not wanting to prove, by geological signs, that a severe convulsion of nature took place at that time, and although the silent records are not so eloquent as the flamboyant language of the Jesuit historian they provide confirmation. The earthquake of 1863 was felt even by the Puritans of New England and the burghers of New Netherlands. The shocks continued though with lessening severity, for several months. Small rivers were dried up; some mountains appeared to be much breaking and moved at an midway between Quebec and Tadoussac two mountains were shaken down, forming a point of land that extended some distance into the St. Lawrence.

SAD FATALITY AT OMEMEE

A shocking fatality occurred at Stephenson Brothers' flour mill at Omemee on Tuesday, when Mr. Thomas C. Stephenson, a member of the firm, and one of the most highly respected residents of the village, met his death by the bursting of a chopper. The accident occurred at four o'clock. The unfortunate man was working at that time, and although the silent records are not so eloquent as the flamboyant language of the Jesuit historian they provide confirmation. The earthquake of 1863 was felt even by the Puritans of New England and the burghers of New Netherlands. The shocks continued though with lessening severity, for several months. BLACKSMITH BAGS 7 COON

Mr. Len Duffy, a Downsville blacksmith, killed seven coons on Friday last, the animals having had their winter quarters in a hollow tree in a nearby wood. Mr. Duffy, like William Penn, used neither sword nor gun in the capture. With an axe in one hand and a wagon spoke in the other he proceeded to the bush. Len knew the coons were there from divers tracks and snoring reports heard from the people who traded in his blacksmith shop. He located the tree without difficulty, and after stuffing the aperture which the coon family had used as an exit to one of their nests on their excursions around the country, he directed his attention to a point in the fallen trunk where he thought the animals were resting. With several well directed strokes of his axe he succeeded in making an opening in the trunk which permitted the animals to rush out, and as they did a sharp stroke of the axe of thought struck each one ready for the hunter's scalpel.

He sold the pelts in Lindsay on Saturday for $2 each and as he walked up Kent street with the skins thrown over his shoulder he excited more curiosity than a wild westerner, from a number of morbidity curious.

Mr. Duffy said the seven coons young ones would be not more than one year old. The fur was in first class condition, well striped and rich in color. -Port Hope Guide.
