THE PRESENTATION OF ADDRESSES in the Senate Chamber this afternoon was scarcely an exhilirating performance, but it was marked by an occurrence which my remarks of yesterday on the Indian address at Montreal make it doubly obligatory on me to record. Here, after divers corporations and societies had bowed to Lord Lorne with varying degrees of angular contestion straight as a remord stood lar contortion, straight as a ramrod stood Dr. Oronhyatekha before the throne in the leather dress and moccasins of a chief, First he read his address in the low-toned, gorgling murmurs of his native tongue, and then with a pure English accent read the translation. At the conclusion of the ceremony he was presented to Dr. Andrew Clark, who exclaimed, "The most interesting introduction to which was access to the control of the control of the ceremony has been accessed as a control of the control of th was ever a party!" and immediately engaged the learned Chief in an animated conversation. Mr. Hall and Mr. Prior, artists of the Graphic and Illustrated London News, were both busily sketching throughout the whole performance, and in about a month we may expect to see the london London papers replete with representations of the incidents described in my several despatches. Hamilton and Toronto came out especially strong at the Senate Chamber, and both had reason to be proud of their representatives. Mr. Adam Brown went through his part as if he had been born a courtier. Mr. McKinnon, the athlete, was among those whom he presented, the Belleville man's broad breast being literally of the course of the manifest of the manifest of the polling.

You were straid to meet me to-day because you knew it, you did, you would not get back to that party of yours in fact, when you told me last night that if it rained in the morning you would see me as soon as it cleared up. I did not believe you; I thought I would try you, and I am satisfied I am altogether puzzled how to account for your determined conduct on which covered have a reception was held at the Re

VALUABLE INFORMATION.

MR. H. R. STEVENS :-MR. H. R. STEVENS:

Dear Sir.—My only object in giving you this testimonial is to spread valuable information. Having been badly afflicted with Salt Rheum, and the whole surface of my skin being covered with pimples and cruptions, many of which caused me great pain and annoyance, and knowing it to be a blood disease, I took many of the advertised blood preparations, among which was any quantity of Sursaparilla, without obtaining any benefit until I commenced taking the VEGETINE, and before I had completed the first bottle I saw that I had got the right medicine. Consequently I followed on with it until I had taken seven bottles, when I was pronounced a well man, and my skin is smooth and entirely free from pimples and cruptions. I have never enjoyed so good health before, and I attribute it all to the use of VEGETINE. To benefit those afflicted with Rheumatism, I will make mention also of the VEGETINE S wonderful power of curing me of this acute complaint, from which I have suffered s5 intensely.

Nervousness.—A very great number of those in the middle and higher classes of society who, without being even actually sick, never know what real health is; who live constantly in a lower plane of living than is normal in man; who are weak all over, though not specially and constantly weak in any one organ; who may not ex-perience piercing and grinding pain, yet suffer at times, if not always, that pro-found exhaustion which in many respects is worse than pain.
