Norway Invades West Indies.

Norwegian competition in dried fish is becoming very active in the West Indies. Formerly this country confined itself to European markets, but with increased production, it has found that wider areas had to be obtained, and markets across the Atlantic invaded. Hence the entry of Norwegian fish into the West Indian islands. And Norway is a pusher. Once her fish is put on new markets, there is no let up in filling the supply and maintaining the demand. Progressive in building up new industries in fish production, Norway is a formidable rival to Newfoundland. And once the fish of that country comes into competition with ours, there will have to be some hustling done to run even. Mr. G. K. Stevens, one of the most wide awake trade commissioners of Canada, whose territory covers Jamaica, Cuba, and other islands of the Caribbean Sea, contributes a timely article to the Commercial Intelligence Journal, in which he calls the attention of Canadian Codfish exporters to Norwegian competition in these islands. Although Norway is at a distance of several thousand miles further from Cuba than Canada, and has to rely upon a monthly steamship service, with freight rates 65 per cent. higher than those Canadians have to pay, and further being subject to a landing charge which most British fish escape, and also the slowness of mails and the more expensive cable rates, yet spite of all these trade difficulties Norwegians are capturing the codfish trade of Cuba and other islands of the greater Antilles. The Canadian trade with Cuba and Porto Rico came to Canada as a war legacy. Newfoundland too had some share in the new business thus created. To-day, owing to not having continued relations and kept the markets thus made, both Canada and Newfoundland have failed to meet West Indian requirements in the codfish industry. There are two influences favoring Norwegian competition, says Mr. Stevens in his very readable article, but one of these only is important. Norwegians are great believers in the consignment plan, and are always willing to ship new markets on this principle. Newfoundland too is a believer in consignments and persists in them, because old traditions die hard. But yet who will be bold enough to deny that cargoes on consignment did not prove generally profitable in the whole history of fish exportations? Nevertheless the time now seems opportune for the abandoning of this old and time honored practice. Newer methods, quicker sales, smaller profits and more frequent returns must be the new order, and its inauguration will spell prosperity to all who are directly connected with the staple industry of this colony. Mr. Stevens argues that the solution of the trouble is simple. The Cubans and other West Indians, demand a certain quality of fish. Norway supplies that grade. Nova Scotia and Newfoundland, refuse to take pains in the preparation of the article demanded. Therefore they lose out. There is something wrong about this. If a good customer demands and insists upon a certain article and wants it put up to suit his taste, why not give it to him? There is no reason why this could not be done. The man who consumes knows exactly the quality he requires and if one country will not give this to him, another will. Norway caters to the taste of her customers. Newfoundland and Nova Scotia do not. Hence the Norwegians carry off the palm. There is a moral in this which our fishermen and merchants would do well to study out.

Schooner Colonia Driven Ashore.

MAY BE TOTAL LOSS.

A message was received by Messrs. Steer Bros., this morning, stating that the schooner Colonia, Capt. W. Blackmore, went ashore last night at Seal Cove, White Bay, and was rapidly filling with water, while the seas were raging, and it was feared that the little vessel would become a total loss. No further particulars have been received, but it is presumed the crew arrived ashore safely, as when the vessel struck she was only ten miles from her destination. The schooner referred to has been carrying freight all season. Her last shipment, which consisted of provisions and stores, was taken from Messrs. Bowring Bros. about four weeks ago, and it was while the supplies were being conveyed to Messrs. Wm. Dawe & Sons at Western Arm, White Bay, that the vessel went ashore. The Colonia was built in Lunenburg, N.S., in 1901, and was registered at 98 tons. Her owners are Messrs. Steer Bros.

Fire at Job's Cove.

TWO PEOPLE BADLY BURNED.

A special train which arrived in the city at 1:15 o'clock this morning brought two victims of a disastrous fire, for admission to the General Hospital. The patients are Miss Agnes Colbert and Ronald Davis of Job's Cove, B.D.V. The accident occurred on Wednesday night last, and was caused by the explosion of gasoline. It appears that Miss Colbert, whose parents are dead, had been keeping on the home with her younger sister, with a young lad named Ronald Davis as helper for the winter. On the night in question, Miss Colbert being short of kerosene, was in the act of substituting gasoline in the lamp, when both the lamp and can exploded. The flaming contents went over herself and Davis, and both were very seriously burned. Fortunately for herself the younger sister was not present at the time. The young lad did all possible to subdue the flames, despite the fact that he was terribly burned about the face and hands. Miss Colbert was even in a worse state, her arms face and back being horribly seared. Neighbours who were attracted to the scene did all possible to beat out the fire, but in spite of their efforts, the home and its contents were totally destroyed. The two victims were removed to a neighbour's house, where all possible was done to alleviate their pain. As there was no doctor resident at Job's Cove one had to be summoned from Wilkes Bay. Dr. McLean responded as soon as possible, but in the meantime, Nurse Hudson of Lower Island Cove had been called. She arrived first and rendered excellent service. The doctor prescribed for the patients and made arrangements to send them to hospital for further treatment. The connections, however, were not completed until yesterday. Miss Hudson accompanied the patients to the city. The ambulance was at the station last night and removed the sufferers to hospital. The loss of their home will be a severe blow to the Misses Colbert as it was not covered by insurance.

McMurdo's Store News.

THURSDAY, Dec. 14.

If you wish to give a friend something new in the candy line this Christmas, why not let it be a box of Whitman's? This is the first Christmas that Whitman's have been on the market, indeed, but we have had two or three shipments during the fall, fully sufficient to try them out, and convince our customers—some of whom are the most discriminating people in town—of their singularly rich and delightful flavor. These candies are daintily gotten up, and do not cost any more than other first class candies. So you are safe in giving Whitman's this Christmas.

RESTORATION OF LOST VALISE
THE CAUSE.

Editor Evening Telegram.
My Dear Editor.—As the fates would have it some one inadvertently took my valise on the depot platform on the arrival of the express a week ago to-day, and through an "ad" in the Telegram it was returned to Mr. A. W. Martin, of the Post Office, who promptly sent it to the Crosbie Hotel, where I am staying for a few days. I wish to say that the Telegram is a good advertising medium. I've learned a great lesson—"It pays to advertise." I am exceedingly happy to-day as I am between $200 and $300 richer than yesterday.

I am grateful to the party who sent my valise to Mr. Martin and likewise grateful to him for his courtesy. I am now in a better mood to enjoy my "winter vacation" and will—Deo Volente—return to my adopted country, the U.S.A., with still a warmer corner in my heart for the Dominion of Newfoundland—the land of my nativity. Christmas greetings to you, Mr. Editor, and all your readers.

Yours sincerely,
GIBBON L. POWELL.

Star Musicales.

LOCAL VOCALIST MAKES FAVORABLE IMPRESSION.

At the Musicales given in the Star of the Sea Hall last evening, in aid of Rev. Dr. Greene's night school for boys an excellent selection of vocal and instrumental numbers was rendered. A feature of the program was the singing of Mr. Leo Dillon, a local tenor, who made his first public appearance since taking up a special course of voice culture under Professor Moncrieff Mawer. Mr. Dillon has an exceptionally fine tenor voice with unusual power and range and those who heard him last evening predict that he has a brilliant future as a vocalist. His opening number was "Queen of the Earth" and the audience was not satisfied till he had sung three other solos viz "An Old Town," "Smile Thru Your Tears," and "Mother Macree." Other items were:—
Dance—Mr. McGrath.
Song—Mrs. J. P. Moakler.
Piano Solo—Miss T. Power.
Horn Solo—Mr. Darcy.
Piano Solo—Miss K. Payne.
Selections from Orchestra of the Academy of Our Lady of Mercy.
Dance—Miss M. Rossiter.
Recitation—Miss B. O'Neill Primm.
Violin Solo and Dance—Miss Major.
Selections from Star Jazzola Orchestra.
Vocal Solo—Mr. P. Dobbin.

Following the concert tests and light refreshments were served by the Ladies' Auxiliary.

Santa Claus at Bishop's.

Quite a unique and interesting event was witnessed yesterday by a large number of children at BISHOP'S dry goods store. Promptly at 4.30 Santa Claus appeared in all his splendour and needless to say the youngsters "went fairly wild over him." The old fun of "Grab Bag" was very much in evidence, the customers having access to its contents by paying a small charge. The affair on the whole was splendidly arranged and well carried out, the beautiful decorations adding extensively to this spectacular view. As a visitor to the store I must say that there are a great many who if they had been at BISHOP'S to see the smiling faces of the kiddies, would certainly feel it was good to have been there.

Auction Sale.

GOOD PRICES REALIZED.

There was a large attendance at the auction sale of goods landed from S. S. Canadian Gunner held at the Furness Withy pier to-day. A bulk of Purty flour containing over 500 barrels was sold at $6.70 per barrel. It was considered the best purchase of the day as the packages appeared to be untouched by smoke or water. 38 barrels "Maple" flour fetched $7.10 the purchaser taking the lot. Eight barrels of this brand, which showed evidence of smoke and water, were purchased at $6.20. Other brands sold at from $6.25 to $6.80, according to condition, some few small lots being secured by other than storekeepers. Bran sold as high as $1.50 per sack. All this lot appeared to have been affected by water. Another lot piled outside the shed fetched from 80 cents to $1.25. The purchasers were practically all made by farmers in 10 sack lots. A large quantity of oats which was soaking wet and heated fetched from $1.05 down to 60 cents per sack. The sale of butter and cheese which was to take place was called off until advice is had from Montreal. The sale will probably take place to-morrow.

Obituary.

JAMES WILKIE RENDLE.

On Tuesday afternoon, whilst yet the glorious rays of the sun flooded the hill sides, there was laid to rest one of our most esteemed and respected citizens. The person of James Wilkie Rendle, son of the late John Rendle (H.M. Customs) of Dartmouth, Devon, England. For over fourteen years his once familiar figure had been missed from our streets, as he was unable to leave his bedside, but uncomplaining and perfectly resigned he was always happy in seeing his visitors, who were legion, for he was a man with an attractive personality and brilliant intellect, and to the last maintained a keen interest in the world. The funeral was largely attended, fully attesting his popularity. The service was conducted by his Lordship Bishop White, assisted by Rev. J. Brinton. The hymn "Jesus, Lover of My Soul" was beautifully rendered by Messrs. F. Cornick, H. Cornick, J. Dewling and G. Somerville of the Cathedral Choir, in the Chapel, while at the grave side, after the body had been laid to rest, and as the evening shades lingered, "Abide with Me" was soulfully sung by all present.

JAMES VEY.

It is with feelings of regret that the Telegram has to chronicle to-day the passing of one of our most prominent and highly esteemed citizens in the person of Mr. James Vey, who died at the age of 70 years at his home, Patrick St., yesterday morning, after an illness of very short duration. Up to a week ago the late Mr. Vey was in apparent good health, and it was while he was visiting the country scenes, which he had always cherished and loved, that a cold overtook him, and in trying to fight the malady off, the dread disease pneumonia set in. Only a week ago, after combating the disease for some days his recovery looked hopeful, but a change for the worse followed, and the sufferer remained in a lingering condition until yesterday morning when the summons came. The late Mr. Vey was a photographer by profession, having served his apprenticeship with the late Mr. F. W. Woods, who at one time conducted a photographic establishment opposite S. E. Garland's on Water Street. Later the deceased entered the firm of Messrs. S. H. Parsons & Sons, and after receiving his tuition, a partnership was formed with Mr. E. W. Lyon in the year 1886. Six years later this firm dissolved partnership and Mr. Vey started business for himself in the top flat of the Bank of Montreal building, where he remained until five years ago, having at that time decided to discontinue this sphere of his labor, which he had so successfully conducted for a number of years. Since then the late Mr. Vey had visited the icefields on several occasions as medical attendant, and up to the time of his death was connected with the picture framing department of S. E. Garland, Water Street. The deceased was a son of the late Samuel Vey, carpenter, and married Alice, daughter of the late Wm. H. Whiteley, who survives him. Two sons, Stan and William, are in Vancouver, Alice a nurse residing in Toronto, while Bert, George and Hilda, living at home, are left to mourn the loss of a kind and loving father. Mr. Vey was a life-long member of George St. Methodist Church. The funeral will take place from his home Patrick Street to-morrow (Friday), interment being at the General Protestant Cemetery. The Telegram extends sincere condolence to the friends and relatives in the sad hour of their bereavement.

Britain War Effort.

LITHOGRAPHIC WORKS EXHIBIT.

An exhibition of lithographic prints of a series of subjects dealing with Britain's effort in the war opened at the Museum Building this afternoon. Many of the prints are in colors and all are exceedingly interesting, apart from their artistic merits. The display is arranged on the cases on the main floor of the building, and visitors are being looked after by Mr. Wm. Dugan and two assistants. One set of subjects "Making of Soldiers" by Eric Kennington is as follows: Bayonet practice; gas mask ready for service; In the trenches; Over the top; Bringing up prisoners; "Making of Sailors" is the subject of another interesting set by Frank Brangwyn, A.R.A., H.R.S.A., etc. The reproductions depict youthful ambition "Duff" (meal hour on board ship). Boat drill: Going abroad: The lookout: The gun: The making of guns is also shown in a set of six drawings by Geo Clausen, R.A. In these drawings an idea of the huge furnaces, cranes, hammers and turning lathes used. The coloured lithographs are from drawings by different artists. Twelve subjects are treated under the head of Britain's Ideals. Included in these are "The reign of Justice" by Edmund Sullivan; "The Rebirth of Arts" by Charles Shannon; "The Triumph of Democracy" by Professor Wm. Rothenstein. Six subjects in black and white by Muirhead Bone are of special attractiveness. The title "Building Ships." Building aircrafts is treated in a series of 6 subjects by G. R. Levison. Work on the land, which includes various agricultural efforts is treated in an interesting manner by Wm. Rothenstein. The exhibition is open to the general public from 2 to 4 each evening until Saturday.

Mexico Objects to Uncomplimentary Films.

MEXICO CITY.—The Mexican "bad man," as he is usually depicted in motion pictures made in the United States, is to be barred from this country by presidential orders. The wide-spread villain, adorned with no less than six guns and as many knives, who commits all sorts of atrocities and is excused because he is a Mexican bandit, it is not only not typical of Mexico, but is an insult, according to officials here. It has therefore been decided to bar all films of this offending nature, and picture houses showing those already in the country will be subjected to a heavy fine.

SUPREME COURT.—In the matter of G. F. Fonseca Araujo vs. W. S. Monroe and G. M. Barr, the Chief Justice has delivered judgment finding that there was a sale by the defendant to the plaintiff, and ordered that the plaintiff does not recover for brokerage and advances.

MONTREAL, Dec. 14.

President Victor Bertram of the Overseas Trade Association at a general meeting, last night, declared as far as the British West Indies is concerned he had found that the Canadian Government merchant marine and subsidized lines were using engine preference to their own profit, and charging such exorbitant rates that his company could ship goods five times as far for the same rates, while European firms could under sell Canada in these markets, despite empire preference and short haul.
