NINE-FOOT CHANNEL PLAN WINN-ING WIDER SENATORIAL SUPPORT.

Washington, Nov. 22.-The movement for development of the inland waterways is not only showing great strength as members of Congress assemble for the opening of the session but it is beginning to take more definite form.

A committee of Senators has been conducting hearings from the Great Lakes along the Mississippi to the channel from lakes to gulf. This has resulted not only in helping along the cause of the nine-foot channel but also the general proposition of improgramme carried out. On Sunday, Sydney. He has been greatly impressed with the expanding barge traffic on the Mississippi south of St. Louis He wants that traffic extended north to St. Paul, with traffic on the Ohio developed to Pittsburgh and on the Missouri to Kansas City.

Efforts will be made to crowd through a project of this nature this winter. It may be enlarged to cover a few other big streams. The association is understood to be friendly to it and if it goes through, as it is likely to do, it will give a impetus to the St. Lawrence project, impetus to the St. Lawrence project, and strongly and vocated by a number of members.
