Readers of the ADVERTISER are reminded that the plan for this great attraction opens to the public to-morrow morning at the box office at 10 a.m. Be early for good seats, It is nuite certain that the "Grand Opera Hous on Friday next will contain one of the most fashionable audiences ever seen in London. Requests for seats keep coming from surrounding towns, nearly 100 having been booked for St. Thomas alone, and the prospects are that the house will be crowded. Gallery tickets are now on sale at the Bell Piano Company's store (75 cents). These admit holders to the east entrance of the opera house at 7:20 p.m., or ten minutes before the other doors are opened, thus avoiding the crush for tickets opened, thus avoiding the crush for tickets and insuring good seats.

DEATH-DEALING FLAMES.

An Aged Couple on Bathurst Street Badly Burned.

rehibald McInnis and His Wife Badly Burned-An Old Rookery Destroyed.

Destroyed.

In a small, dilapidated frame cottage at 286 Bathurst street, between Dodds' planing mill and Elliott & Co.'s implement manufactory, there have lived for some time four families. In the front portion were Mrs. Elsie McNeil and her little boy, in the east side Martin Rickard, the landlord; in the center old Patrick Murtugh and his aged wife, and at the rear Archibald McIonis and his wife. The house was in a wretched condition and unit for habitation. McIonis and his wife, notwithstanding their advanced age, are rather fond of the flowing bowl, and are frequently guests at Chief Williams' head-quarters. Yesterday they imbibed too treely, and about 9 o'clock in the evening they are supposed so have upset the lamp. At any rate Mrs. McNeil, attracted by the shrieks of the old woman, went to see what was wrong, and was horrifed to find the rear of the house in flames. Mrs. McNeil was excited and did not know where to go to give the alatm. She told some men who were passing and box 31 was pulled. The firemen were soon on the spot, and in a few minutes had the blaze extinguished. The building is a total wreck.

During the progress of the fire the old couple were in a small bedroom. A young man named Harry Sweet noticed Mrs. McIonis leaning against the window, and with timely presence of mind he kicked in the frame and pulled her out. She was unconscious and badly burned about the arms and back. P. C. Thomas Howise telephoned for the ambulance and the woman was taken to the hospital. The physicians say she will recover.

The injuries sustained by her husband, however, were of a more serious nature, and his death may be expected. He inhaled some of the flumes and was extentions.

The injuries sustained by her husband, however, were of a more serious nature, and his death may be expected. He inhaled some of the flames and was otherwise badly burned. The patrol wagon, through the thoughtfulness of Sergeant McGuire, was transformed into an ambulance, and the old man followed his wife to the hospital.

The residents of the other portions of the house were badly scared, but escaped injury.

The Kissos Cost Him $5.

Woburn, Mass., May 9.—The kisses which James Torrey stole from Mrs. Robert Stewart a few nights ago have cost him $5. The case was tried in court today. Mrs. Stewart testified that Torrey threw his arms around her and kissed her twice. Torrey denied it. Mrs. Stewart said she had told her husband about it, but the neighbors had heard of it in some way and teased her about it. That made her angry, and she had Torrey arrested. He paid the fine.

Exciting Scene in a Court Room. Exciting Scene in a Court Roon.

Dorchester N. B., May 10.—There was an exciting scene at court here yesterday. Judge Landry had just pronounced three years sentence in penitentiary on Morton Ricker for uttering a forged note, when Ricker cried out that he was innocent, and had been convicted on false evidence, and drawing a razor slashed it across his throat. He was at once disarmed and conducted bleeding back to jail. He swallowed the contents of a bottle of ammonia, given him by his wife. Doctors used emetics and soon brought him around and sewed up his throat. He will recover.

A Rebel Defeat.

New York, May 10.—The Herald's Caracas, Venezuela, special says an engagement was fought last Saturday a few miles south of Los Teines between Government troops and 350 insurgents mounted on mustangs and armed with lances. The Government troops were escorting a party of engineers to repair the roads to Victoria and establish communication between there and Caracas previous to forwarding and caracas previous to forwarding troops and provisions to the aid of the former town. The rebels were defeated and left nearly one-third dead and dying or the field. They retreated to the hills. The Government troops sustained a loss of 25 men killed and 13 injured. The Government troops were under the command of an American, who was sent away from West Point before his term of study was completed for acts of insubordination.

An Eight-Tailed Comet.

New York, May 10.—In a letter to the Heraid Prof. Barnard, of the Lick Observatory on Mount Hamilton, Cal., says on April 10 he secured a photograph of Swift's comet in which eight tails were shown. The comet, he states, is still a naked-eye object and will be easily seen as soon as the moon withdraws from the morning sky. It is passing a short distance west of the great Square of Pegassus. The head is as bright as a star of the fourth magnitude. Photographs will be made at the observatory regularly of the comet as long as it remains visible. In the photo the lens was made to follow the comet in its motion among the stars. Each star has therefore trailed its image on the plate, producing a short line of light representing the motion of the comet during the exposure. The most remarkable of these is the one made April 7, where a unique phenomenon of the comet's tails is shown in the southern track of the trail as a projection. The pictures show the rapid changes that take place in the tails from day to day.
