"Lindy just moaned.
"Don't you feel well enough to get it for her? saked John, and Lindy moaned again. After a minute she says, real feeble-like, I can't get up! Oh, I can't get up! "Well, just lay there, poor Lindy, says John, patient as a kitten.

DEAR AUNT PRUDENCE:
May I be one of yeur nephews? I am 13 years old and have a sister Allie and a brother Frank, both younger than I am. I study arithmetic grammar, Latin, geometry, history and reading at school, the tricks. He is a cockern of the first things I had to teach him was that that kitten was not there for him to scare the wits out of. I hope for Christmas
I shall got a sied, as I am wild about coasting. I belong to a gymnaium, which is in connection with our school. Well, I must not take up so much room, so I shall cease.

JOHN RANDALL.

TORONTO, Oct. 2, 1890.

DEAR ALEST PRUDENCE:

We are three little girls who want to tell you about a bear we are getting up for the Christmas holidays, because people are all buying Christmas presents then and are glad to come. Every day after school we meet at our several houses in turns and dress our dolls and all the rest of it. We are going to have four tables—a fancy article table, a flower table and a candy table. We can all make different sorts of candy, and perhaps will have ice cream and cake. Our mothers and friends are all helping us to make things, so we hope to make lots of money for the sick children's hospital. We shall write and tell you when it is over how much money we take in. From your loving friends.

My DEAR AUNT PRUDENCE:
I am a girl 10 years old. I don't write letters to people very often, because it is very hard for me to write, but I would so like to see something of mine in a big newspaper. I have not told mother I am going to write you, so she will be very much surprised if you printit. We have a lovely garden back of our flower beds. My chum lives next door, and we always play in our place, as they have only two or three inches of grass in front. My shand is pretty tired now, so I must stop. Goodbye, from

THOUGHTS THAT BREATHE.

God always has an angel of help for those who are willing to do their duty.—[Dr. Cuyler.

Remember that there are two guests to be entertained, the body and the soul. What you give the body is soon lost; what you give to the soul remains forever.

Preserve your conscience always soft and sensitive. If but one sin force its way into that tender part of the soul and dwell easy there, the road is paved for a thousand iniquities.

Perhaps the subtlest self of all is the saintly self—the self that asserts itself in denying itself and fosters a subtle spiritual pride in the emphatic professions of humility. I meet with dear Christian souls who seem calmly to take it for granted that they are living on a higher plane than their less enlightened fellow-Christians. "We are living the higher Christian life, and we have such wonderful times up here on the mountain top; we are sorry for you poor, dear, half-ealightened souls who are still on him—not so much that he did not speedily forget the point.

That night on returning home he said to his wife. 'Bichardson said an awfully good thing this afternoon. I asked him why he didn't wear a wig, and he said he'd rather commit suicide than do such a thing. Why don't you laugh? But, then, women haven't any sense of humer to speak of !" the wilderness side of Jordan, and haven't yet entered the promised land, with which we are now quite familiar." There is a deal of dying to be done still by those who cherish these lefty thoughts of their own attainments. The hollest man will ever be the man who thinks least of his own holiness.—[Rev. W. H. Aitkin.

Have something special to pray for each day. Pray as though you meant to have an answer, no matter what may happen. Think before you pray what you mean to ask for. You would not ask a favor of anyone until you thought beforehand what you needed. So study first your needs, then pray God to supply them.

Prayer in the morning fastens the whole day to God. To start a day without prayer is to begin it without God.

In doing that you take upon yourself a fearful responsibility.—[Selested.

"Why, how that map has changed since I was a child! Then it had only a few towns about the coast, and all the middle was a blank. We didn't have to learn much about the map of Africa in those days."

"I know it," cried the little girl, almost in tears, "and it's all the fault of that dreadful Mr. Stanley."

"Well, I think this dispatch relates to the birth of twins at home, and is congratulatory."
"That lets me out, thank heaven!" exclaimed one Johnston, as he sat down to wipe his brow, while the other flushed red and white for a moment and then received the dispatch.—[New York Sun. She had sent off a telegram and was waiting for an answer. Suddenly the peculiar halting click of the receiving machine sounded in the office and she said to her companion; "That's from George, I know. I can tell his stutter."

He (fiercely)—We don't need that rug any more than a cat needs two tails. How often have I told you, my dear, never to buy anything because it is cheap?"

Grandma (to young hopeful who has been an hour with her, and has not yet received an invitation to partake)—Dordie, what did your mother tell you just before you left home?

MR. JOAB SCALES, of Toronto, writes: "A short time ago I was suffering from Eidney Complaint and Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach and Lame Back; in fact, I was completely prostrated and suffering intense pain. While in this state a friend recommended me to try a bottle of Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery. I used one bottle, and the permanent manner in which it has cured and made a new man out of me is such that I cannot withhold from the proprietors this expression of my gratitude."

WONDERFUL CURES.

POR THIRTY YEARS.—Mrs. L. Squire, Ontario Steam Dye Works, Toronto, says: "For about thirty years I have doctored for Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia without getting any cure. I then tried Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery, and the benefits I have received from this medicine are such that I cannot withhold this expression of my gratitude. It acts immediately upon the Liver, and its good effects are noticed at once. As a Dyspepsia remedy I don't think it can be equalled."

INDISPUTABLE EVIDENCE.

HARDENED AND ENLARGED LIVER. - Mrs. H. Hall, Navarino, N.Y., writes: "For years I have been troubled with Liver Complaint. The doctors said my Liver was with Liver Complaint. The doctors said my Liver was hardened and enlarged. I was troubled with Dizziness, Pain in my Right Shoulder, Constipation, and gradually losing flesh all the time. All food soured on my stemach, even with the closest attention to diet. I was under the care of three physicians, but did not get any relief. A friend sent me a bottle of Northrep & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery, and it affords me much pleasure to inform you that the benefit I have received from it is far beyond my expectation. I feel better now than I have done for years."

Large Cash Prizes for the nearest calculations to the Population of Canada and the different Provinces and Cities in the list below.

The publisher of Toronto Trutte in order to extend the already great circulation of that popular weekly magazine, will give the following series of each prizes to the persons who first send him the nearest calculation, guess or estimate of what the population of the difference of the Dominion of Canada, named in the list following, will be in 1891. The official government figures when they are given to Parliament will decide who the winners are. As aguide we give the populations in 1871 and 1881. You can see what the increase has been in the past, guess or estimate what it will be in 1891 and send in your figures now.
