Patterson's Appointment.

Manitobans Resent the Sending Up of an Ontario Politician as Governor.

A Winnipeg dispatch says: A sensational feature of the school trouble today was the announcement that the Dominion Cabinet, which has just passed the remedial order, has appointed one of its members, Hon. J. C. Patterson, Minister of Militia. This change is believed by the Manitoba Government to be that the Dominion authorities want a man as Governor more pliable to their wishes and who will unhesitatingly carry out their mandate. Manitoba-has always contended that its Governor should be a Manitoba citizen, and this unlooked for action has only added fuel to the flames. Hugh John Macdonald, son of the late Canadian Premier, publishes an appeal for moderation, pointing out the dangers of the situation. He pleads that conflict be avoided and peace restored by some form of compromise. It is the first appeal of the dead Premier's son to be unheeded. The temper of the people of Mani-toba is now such that only a courageous man would suggest compromise.

Beyond comparison Dr. Price's Bakink Powder is the favorite.

BLOOMERS TABOOED,

Victoria Officials Declare Them a Disorderly Costume. VICTORIA, B. C., March 26. - The police have decided that bloomers are not suitable for ladies' street wear, even when worn as a bicycle costume, and have taken steps to enforce this decision. Miss Ethel Delmont is an enthusiastic wheelwoman, pretty and graceful. Last week she made her appearance in the bloomer costume, and if Lady Godiva had herself essayed a repetition of her famous ride, the sensation could not have been greater. The town came forth to gaze and for the moment the police were petrified with amazement. They then aroused to action and Miss Ethel received an official visitor, who informed her that a repetition of her appearance in the objectionable costume would mean a police court summons on the charge of creating a disturbance on a public street. Miss Delmont's bloomers are discarded.

TONGUES OF FIRE.

Dr. Talmage's Thrilling Discourse On the Holy Ghost

Before a Great Audience in New York-The Power of the Spirit.

NEW YORK, March 25 .- When Dr. Talmage ascended the platform o Academy of Music yesterday after-noon he faced an audience quite as large as any that had assembled in the great building since these services began, while several thousand others were outside unable to secure seats or even standing room. He took for his subject, "Tongues of Fire," the text selected being Acts xix., 2: "Have ye received

The word ghost, which means a soul, the Holy Ghost?" or spirit, has been degraded in common parlance. We talk of ghosts as baleful and frightful, and in a frivolous or superstitious way. But my text speaks of a Ghost who is omnipotent and Divine and everywhere present, and 91 times in the New Testament called the Holy Ghost.

The office of the present discourse is to open a door, to unveil a personage, to introduce a force not sufficiently recognized. He is as great as God. He is God. The second verse of the first chapter of the Bible introduces him: Genesis, i., 2, "The Spirit of God moved upon the face of the waters." That is, as an albatross or eagle spreads ner wings over her young and warms them into life and teaches them to fly; so the Eternal Spirit spreads his great, broad, radiant wings over this earth in its callow and unfledged state and warmed it into life, and fluttered over it, and set it winging its way through immensity. It is the tip-top of all beautiful and sublime suggestiveness. Can you not almost see the outspread wings over the nest of young worlds?
"The Spirit of God moved upon the face of the waters." Another appearance of the Holy Ghost was at Jerusalem, during a great feast. Strangers speaking seventeen different languages were present from many parts of the world. But in one house they heard what seemed like the coming of a cyclone or hurricane. It made the trees bend and the houses quake. The cry was, "What is that?" And then a forked flame of fire tipped each forehead; and what with the blast of wind and the dropping fire, a panic took place until Peter explained that it was neither cyclone nor conflagration, but the bril-liance, and anointing, and baptismal power of the Holy Ghost. That scene was partially repeated in a forest when Rev. John Easton was preaching. There was the sound of a rushing, mighty wind, and the people looked to the sky to see if there were any signs or a storm, but it was a clear sky; yet the sound of the wind was so great that horses, frightened, broke loose from their fastenings, and the whole assembly felt that the sound was super-natural and Pentecostal. Oh, what an infinite and almighty and glorious personage is the Holy Ghost. He brooded this planet into life, and now that through sin it has become a dead world, he will brood it the second time into The Bible is a mass of contradictions, an affirmation of impossibilities, unless the Holy Ghost helps us to understand The Bible says of itself that the Scripture is not for "private interpretation," but "holy men of God spake as they were moved by the Holy tation, but Holy Ghost interpretation. Pile on your study table all the com-mentaries of the Bible—Matthew Henry and Scott, and Adam Clarke and Albert Barnes, and Bush and Alexander; and all the archaeologies, and all the Bible dictonaries, and all the maps of Palestine, and all the International Series of Sunday School Lessons, and if that is all, you will not understand the deeper and grander meanings of the Bible so well as that Christian mountaineer, who, Sunday morning, after having shaken down the fodder for the cattle, comes into his cabin, takes up his well-worn Bible, and with a prayer that stirs the heavens, asks for the Holy Ghost to unfold the book. I do not deprecate any of the helps for Bible study, but I do say that they all together come infinitely short without a direct communication from the throne of God in response to prayerful solici-tation. The learned Earl of Chatham heard the famous Mr. Cecil preach about the Holy Ghost, and said to a friend on the way home from church, "I could not understand it, and do you suppose anybody understood it?" Oh, yes," said his Christian friend, "there were uneducated women and some little children present who understood it." I warrant you that the English soldier had, under supernal influence, read the book, for after the battle of Inkerman was over he was found dead with his hand glued to the pages of the open Bible by his own blood, and the words adhered to his hands as they buried him: "I am the resurrection and the life; he that believeth in me, though dead, yet shall he Next consider the Holy Ghost as a human reconstructor. We must be made over again. Christ and Nicodemus talked about it. Theologians called it Regeneration. I do not care what you call it, but we have to be reconstructed by the Holy Ghost. We become new creatures, hating what we once loved, and loving what we once hated. If sin were a luxury, it must become a detestation. In most cases it is such complete change that the world notices the difference, and begins to ask What has come over that man?" Take two pictures of Paul-one on the road to Damascus to kill the disciples of Christ; the other on the road to Ostia to die for Christ. Come nearer home, and look at the man who found his chief delight in a low class of clubrooms, hiccoughing around the card table, and then stumbling down the front steps after midnight and staggering homeward; and that same man, one week afterward, with his family on the way to a prayer meeting. What has done it? It must be something tremendous, It must be the Holy Ghost. Notice the Holy Ghost as the solacer of broken hearts. Christ calls him the Comforter. Nothing does the world want so much as comfort. The most of people have been abused, misrepresented, cheated, lied about, swindled, bereft. What is needed is balsam for the wounds, lantern for the dark roads. rescue from maligning pursuers, a lift from the marble slab of tombstones. Life to most has been a semi-fallure. They have not got what they wanted. They have not reached that which they started for. Friends betray. Change of business stand loses old custom, and does not bring enough custom to make up for the loss. Health becomes precarious when one most needs strong muscle, and steady nerve, and clear brain. Out of this audience of thou-sands of thousands, if I should ask all those who have been unhurt in the struggle of life to stand up, or all standing to hold up their right hand, not one would move. Oh, how much we need the Holy Ghost as Comforter.

Notice, also, the Holy Ghost, as the preacher's reinforcement. You and I have known preachers encyclopaedic in knowledge, brilliant as an iceberg when the sun smites it, and with Cheswhen the sun smites it, and with Chesterfieldian address, and rhetorical hand uplifted with diamond big enough to dazzle an assembly, and so surcharged with vocabulary that when they left this life it might be said of each of them. them, as De Quincy said of another, that in the act of dying he committed a robbery, abscording with a valuable polyglot dictionary, yet no awakening, or converting, or sanctifying result, while some plain man, with humblest phraseology, has seen audiences whelmed with religious influence. It was the Holy Ghost. I call upon the ministers of America to give the his ministers of America to give the his-tory of sermons, for I believe it will illustrate as nothing else can the truth of that Scripture, "Not by might, nor by power, but by my spirit, saith the Lord". On the Schbath of the dedice Lord." On the Sabbath of the dedica-tion of one of our churches in Brooklyn, at the morning service 328 souls stood up to profess Christ. They were the converts in the Brooklyn Academy of Music, where we had been worshiping. The reception of so many members, and many of them baptized by immersion, had made it an arduous service, which continued from half past ten in the morning until half past two in the afternoon. From that service we went home exhausted; because there is nothing so exhausting as deep emotion. A message was sent out to obtain a preacher for that night, but the search was unsuccessful, as all the ministers were engaged for some other place.

With no preparation at all for the evenservice, except the looking into Cruden's Concordance for a text, and feeling almost too weary to stand up, I began the service, saying audibly while the opening song was being sung, althe opening song was being sung, although, because of the singing, no one but God heard it, "Oh, Lord, thou knowest my insufficiency for this service. Come down in gracious power upon this people." The class was shown upon this people." The place was shak-en with the divine presence. As far as we gould find out over 400 persons were converted that night. Hear, it, all young men entering the ministry. Hear it, all Christian workers; it was the Holy

Fulton street prayer meeting, New York, telegraphed each other the number of souls saved, and the rising of the devotional tides. Noonday prayer-meetings were held in all the cities. meetings were held in all the cities. Ships came into harbor; captain and all the sailors saved on that voyage. police and fire departments met in their rooms for divine worship. At Albany the Legislature of the State of New York assembled in the rooms of the Court of Appeals for religious serthe Court of Appeals for religious services. Congressional union prayer meeting was opened at Washington. From whence came the power? From the Holy Ghost. That power shook New York. That power shook America. That power shook the Atlantic Ocean. That power shook the earth. That power could take this entire audience into the peace of the Gospel quicker than you could lift your eyes heavenward. Come, Holy Ghost! Come, Holy Ghost! He has come! He is here! I feel him in my heart. There are thousand who feel him in their hearts. sands who feel him in their hearts, consands who feel him in their nearts, convicting some, saving some, sanctifying some. How many marked instances of Holy Ghost power? When a black trumpeter took his place in Whitefield's audience proposing to blow the trumpet at a certain point in the service, and put everything into derision, somehow he could not get the trumpet to his lips, and at the close of the meeting he sought out the preacher and asked for his prayers. It was the Holy Ghost.

From the place where I stand on this platform there are invisible wires or lines of influence stretching to every heart in all the seats on the main floor, and up into the boxes and galleries, and there are other innumerable wires or lines of influence reaching out from the place into the vast beyond, and across continents, and under the seas, for in my recent journey around the world I did not find a country where I had not been preaching the Gospel for many years through the printing press. So, as a telegraph operator sits or stands at a given point and sends messages in all directions, and you only hear the click, click, click, of the electric apparatus, but the telegrams go on their errand, God help me now to touch the right key and send the right message along the right wires to the right places. And now may God turn on all the electric power into this Gospel pattery for tric power into this Gospel battery for the last tremendous message, so that it may thrill through this assemblage, and through all the earth. Just six words will compose the message, and I touch the key of this Gospel battery just six times and the message has gone! Away, away it flies! And the message is, "Have ye received the Holy Ghost?"
That is, do you feel his power? Has he enabled you to sorrow over a wasted life, and take full pardon from the crucified Christ, and turned your face toward the wide open gates of a welcoming heaven? We appeal to thee, oh, Holy Ghost, who didst turn the Philipplan jailor, and Saul of Tarsus, and Lydia of Thyatira, and nelped John Bunyan out of darkness, and helped John Newton when standing at the helm of the ship in a midnight hurricane, and mightier than the waves that swept the decks, came over the memory of his blasphemous and licentious life, and he cried out, "My mother's God, have mercy on me!" and helped one nearer home, even me, De Witt Talmage, at about 18 years of age, that Sunday night in the lovely village of Clawenburgh, New Jersey, when I could not sleep be-cause the questions of eternal destiny seized hold of me, and has helped me ever since to use as most expressive of my own feeling: Amazing grace! How sweet the sound, That saved a wretch like me! I once was lost, but now am found,

Was blind, but now I see. Through many dangers, toils and snares, I have already come;

'Tis grace has brought me safe thus far, And grace will lead me home. By its superb qualities Price's Cream Baking Powder has become incomparably the household favorite.
