LONDON DEFEATS GUELPH. The Londons certainly do the mor astonishing things. Everybody sai before yesterday's game that the Maple because the latter were so badly crip pled by the illness of Ward, the non arrival of Kron, and the fact that their inexorable and white-haired their inexorable Jonah, George Bradford, Esq., was t officiate in the box. It was this tender-hearted fear that kept many from going to the ground and they are now kicking themselve the season so far. It was certainly a ful ones whose baseball enthusiasm no misfortune, not even measles, can quench. Young Sam Lee, of the Pastimes, consented to fill Captain Ward's place at short, and rewarded the vo- London. ciferous good wishes of his friends on the stands, by playing in capital style, barring two or three eccentric but safe throws to first base, and just one muff in the seventh. He had a good deal of work to do, and covered the ground The very first time he went to cracked out a single, and in

Young Mr. Leftpaw Kershaw proved that he was more than a six-innings pitcher, and those who predicted in the sixth that he was going to tucker out again, were agreeably disappointed—excepting the Leafs. Until then the sum total of Guelph's stick work was an accidental, miserable little punt by cidental, miserable little punt by O'Brien, who should have been ashamed to claim a base on it. Kershaw finished strong, only six men facing him

The old reliable George Bradford was as effective as ever, but it tickled the boys immensely to see him getting the fault of his own. George appeared to be real angry, and threw hot balls right over the plate. His support was very discouraging for the first three innings, and gave London the victory from the

That ended London's run getting. Guelph scored in the first by Sippi's neglect to stop Vigneaux's grounder, the latter coming home on Thorpe's sac-rifice. Until the sixth, the Leafs were and fifth. In the sixth, after Vigneaux and Green had been retired, the Guelphs made their only rally. Thorpe, O'Brien, and Fisher made successive singles, a bad throw to third allowing Thorpe home O'Brien. Then Hynd muffed Con Fisher and Congalton came home on McElroy's double. McElroy was caught trying to stead third.
