The grand jury yesterday returned a true bill against Lawrence Nash on a charge of stealing a horse from the locomotive in the Humber collision. The grand jury will make its presentation to Judge Boyd this forenoon.

Farley & Co., the great bankrupt stock dealers, will on April 1 remove to those elegant premises No. 7 and 9 King street east, now occupied by Willing & Williamson. They will then have one of the finest retail dry goods establishments in the city.

Miss Churchill, the celebrated Boston elocutionist, is to give an evening of readings and recitations in Shaftesbury hall next Thursday. As Miss Churchill comes well recommended by both press and public opinion, she will evidently receive a warm reception from Torontonians.

The court of common pleas yesterday confirmed the verdict of the court below in Duck against the city of Toronto. Mr. Duck of the Humber was awarded damages of $1800 against the city for injuries to his wife at Queen's wharf. The city moved to set aside the verdict, when judgment was given as above.

Farley & Co. commence to-day selling the stock of the bankrupt stock, amounting to $22,572, purchased at 47 cents on the dollar. Look out for bargains.

Receiving Stolen Furs. On the night of Nov. 8 last ten sealskins were stolen from the studio of T. Muir, a fur dealer of Beaverville. The stolen furs were subsequently traced to this city by Detective Behan. At the time they were discovered an attempt was made to "fix" matters by a payment of money to Muir for the loss of the furs. This attempt came to the ears of a World reporter at the time, and as a result of the publication of it in this paper, two men are now on trial for receiving the furs, knowing them to be stolen. They are Levi Reinhardt and Samuel Simenber. The latter is said to be wealthy. The case was begun before Judge Boyd and a jury yesterday.

The facts of the case, as published in the World at the time, were told in court by the witnesses yesterday. Reinhardt produced a witness named James Johnston, who swore that he (Reinhardt) had purchased the furs from a man by the name of Johnston. Johnston got all mixed in his evidence. Several witnesses, who were employed in "Wall's" at the time, swore that they never were any such furs in the place at the time of the alleged sale. The court rose at 6 o'clock this morning.

Elegant Laces of all kinds for half-price at Farley's.

Provincial Health Bulletin—Week Ended March 1. Bronchitis, influenza and pneumonia have all increased. The relations of bronchitis with extreme cold seem closer than either pneumonia or influenza. Tonillitis and consumption do not, as usual, show any marked change. The two infectious zymotics affecting the respiratory organs, whooping cough and diphtheria, show in the case of the first, an increase, and in that of the latter an increase. An illustration of the infectious nature of diphtheria has been given by a correspondent, where two deaths from this disease were caused in the following way: "A baker took a cat belonging to one of the families affected with diphtheria into his room, and one and a half miles, and dropped it from the wagon near a house by the roadside. It was there three children under 5 years of age. The eldest child took a fancy for the cat and continued to fondle it for two or three days when he was attacked and died, as also did his little sister."

Amongst fevers, intermittent still prevails to about the extent that it has during past weeks of the winter months, though less than last week. It is noticeable that typho-malarial appears for the first time in many weeks amongst the twenty most prevalent diseases.

Ladies, remember Farley & Co. will offer during the balance of this month, before removing, tremendous bargains. Open until 10 o'clock to-night.

Urging Amendments to the Crooks Act. A large deputation of representatives of the various temperance organizations in the city waited on Premier Mowat yesterday afternoon, and advocated further amendments to the Crooks act. Among the changes recommended are: to prohibit the sale of liquor to minors under 20 years of age, instead of 16 as at present; to prohibit the sale of liquor for the sale of liquor of any description on exhibition grounds, buildings, theatres, parks or pleasure resorts of any kind; to reduce the number of taverns in the city from the first 1,000 of the population, and one for each additional 2,000; shop licenses to be reduced to two for the first two hundred, and one for each additional five hundred of the population; license fees to be increased; the accommodation to be provided in houses raised from four to twelve bedrooms; license fees to be increased; the penalty for selling liquor without a license to be a $50 fine and three months' imprisonment for each and every offence. The premier promised to bring the recommendations before the government.

Remember Farley & Co. Open until 10 o'clock to-night.

Liquor and Groceries at orangeville. Mr. McMillan of Orangeville yesterday obtained from Judge Cameron a rule nisi to quash the bylaw recently passed by the town council of Orangeville for the purpose of separating the grocery from the liquor trade. The bylaw was not submitted to the ratepayers. It provides for only two shop licenses being allowed in the town instead of four, as heretofore, and also fixes the price of the license at $200 instead of $170 as formerly. There are three grounds on which the rule was granted: (1) That there were irregularities in the procedure upon the passage of the bylaw by the council; (2) that the bylaw is in violation of the provisions of the act which forbids the creation of a monopoly; (3) that the bylaw which formerly regulates the liquor traffic has not been abrogated.

Farley & Co. will remove to their elegant new premises, 7 and 9 King street east, about the 1st of next month, now occupied by Willing & Williamson.

Teachers' Conversations. The Toronto teachers' association held their third annual conversation in the Normal school building last night. The affair was a brilliant success in every particular. Mr. S. McAllister, the president, occupied the chair, and associated with him on the platform were G. W. Ross, minister of education, Prof. Caven, Knox college, and John Hallam, chairman of the free library board. The musical part of the program was first class, being instigated by such well known vocalists as Mrs. M. McCulloch, Mrs. Miss Barr of Hamilton, Miss Corlett and Messrs. Schuch and Hurst. During the evening the minister of education delivered an address, which was full of encouragement and hope for the association. The original music under the direction of Prof. C. Bolner was very fine.

Young Thieves Locked Up. George Jackson and William Broome were locked up by Detective Hodgins last night on a charge of stealing several fowl from Charles Maddison of 15 Darcy street. William Carr and John Forsyth, two lads, broke into the vacant Scho foundry on the Esplanade and stole a quantity of gas fixtures and brass taps. They were arrested by Detective Behan last night. The stolen goods were recovered in a junk shop.

The Late D. K. Brown. A subscription list is afoot at Rat Portage to raise a memorial stone to the memory of the late D. K. Brown, a young journalist who died there last fall. Mr. Brown was well known in this city, and it would be a graceful thing for the newspaper men of Toronto to contribute their share to the memory of one who was a credit to Toronto journalism. Those who wish to contribute should communicate with the Rat Portage Press.

Gold and Blue Table Coverings, worth $10 cents a yard, for 45 cents, at Farley's.

The Montreal Carnival Charges. The Montreal hotel and boarding house keepers and others will find out before another carnival is held in that city, that after all honesty is the best policy. During the last carnival they seem to have fleeced the visitors right and left. They even swindled the reporters. There's where they put their foot in it. A reporter is a dangerous man to fool with. He is apt to play it sharp on him you are apt to get left. The reporters of the Toronto World in the case of the Toronto Sun were badly imposed upon during the carnival, but they let the world know it, and it won't do Montreal much good. The World reporter says, he was charged 75 cents in Victoria for an apology for a beef-steak, 50 cents in the St. Lawrence Hall barber shop for a shave, and $2 for stopping for one night in a room a house on St. Catharine street. If Montrealers want the festival to become an annual affair and expect a large concourse of strangers, they must not allow this kind of swindling.

WORLD AT LARGE. According to the London Truth, sherry is going out of favor and the only wines really largely consumed in England are claret and champagne. The Sunday breakfast association of Philadelphia has given in five years Sunday breakfasts to 37,898 persons. At the close of each meal religious service is held. A collection of about 130 pastels and sketches by M. Cluseret, the general of the commune are now on exhibition at Paris in the Galerie Vivienne. They have been a resident of the city for some years. A wine competition was opened at Rome on Feb. 16 in which 124 growers took part. The competitor who is decided to have produced the best sparkling white wine capable of being substituted for champagne will receive a gold medal presented by the king. Lord Tennyson is to be introduced by Lord Sydney, lord chamberlain, and the duke of Argyll, being the two peers nearest to the queen, to his place in the house of lords. It is stated that the queen has expressed an eager intention to confer on him the greater of the two honors, which will be the first post who has worn the blue ribbon. The Dashlaw association was formed in San Francisco to achieve a temperance franchise. After reducing its membership to 48 the property was sold and the resulting $72,000 divided. The members had no moral right to the money with which this property was bought, it having been raised by general subscription, and the matter is to be tested in the courts.

Hoppins, who spent some days along the line of the Kingston and Pembroke railway, says there are deer in abundance at Croch lake, and that they can be caught, and skinned, and packed, and shipped through the crust of the snow and become as plentiful as a cow would have done.

The great results which have attended the regular use of Quinine Wine, by people of delicate frames, and who are afflicted with a general prostration of the system, speak more than all the words that we can say in its behalf. It is a true medicine and a life-giving principle—a perfect restorative of the whole system, and is a tonic in its effect, both body and mind. Its medical properties are:—It creates an appetite, enables you to obtain refreshing sleep, and to feel and know that every fibre and tissue of your system is being braced and renovated. In the Quinine Wine, prepared by Nutting & Sons, Toronto, there is a compound of quinine, and to persons of weak and nervous constitutions, it is a tonic without a doubt in the house.
