The Great Literary Success of the Year.

THE LIFE OF CHRIST,

By the Rev. F. W. Farrar, D.D., F.R.S.

- One vol., 8vo, 600 pp., without notes ... $2.50
Two vols., 8vo, with Notes and Appendix,
large print, cloth, reduced to ... 6.00
Two vols., 8vo, half calf. 12.00
" " Turkey morocco. 16.00

From the N. Y. Evening Post.
"The book will be a prize to all students, and no less to every Christian believer. It overflows with information not easily obtainable elsewhere, and for clergymen, Bible-class and Sunday-school teachers, and all others who have to instruct, or would themselves be instructed, it will prove a mine of stimulating and suggestive knowledge."

From the Academy.
"We do not hesitate to say that the amount of illustrative matter thus accumulated is by far the richest that has been hitherto offered to the English public."

From Church and State.
"This is one of the noblest contributions of the present day to defence and confirmation of the Gospel of Christ."

From the Churchman.
"The author has embodied this picture narrative in a style which for finish and eloquence, has seldom been equalled by any modern English writer."

From the Sunday-School Times.
"I have never met any help for a teacher or a parent in bible-acquisition which, in my judgment, can compare with it."

Rev. Dr. Osgood in Boston Transcript.
"It is the most readable 'Life of Christ' in our language. It belongs at once to literature and religion, by its union of attractive style and general culture, with ample learning and theological training."

Holden with the Cords.

A Story by W. M. L. Jay, author of "Shiloh," "My Winter in Cuba," etc. 12mo, 317 pages. $2
"The interest is keen in the story, but that should not prevent the reader from feeling the evident culture, the depth of study, and the love of art embodied in this novel. It is a superior and powerful work, full of thought, of observation, and of sound feeling."
—Boston Transcript.

"It is full of brilliant, wise, and poetical thoughts; such thoughts as would almost universally be deemed signs of genius. The author has certain marked qualities, in which she surpasses every other American writer, and these will always make the name under which she teaches out of her own heart, honored among those of earth's gifted ones."—The Churchman
"A quiet, thoughtful story, displaying powers of description and characterization of a high order, and imbued with a deeply reverent spirit. Books like this, if placed on the shelves of Sunday-school libraries, would provide entertainment and profit for the older scholars and teachers, while they would serve at the same time to stimulate them to a higher religious life."—Boston Journal.

8th Thousand of

Shiloh; or, Without and Within.

By W. M. L. Jay. 12mo, 448 pp. $2.
A story of common life; beautifully written, with quiet pictures of New England farm and parish life.
"Shiloh" I like more than ever, and I greatly rejoice to see it in a permanent form. It is an achievement—a real one—to write to the times and to write as one should; to write a story (so to speak), and keep up interest without cheap sensation; to write religious fiction, and yet to avoid platitudes; and all this you have done, and I congratulate you."—Bishop Williams of Connecticut.
