"There is no man in Canada, possibly anywhere, who has made a more careful, painstaking life-work in the study of the aboriginal races and all the writings extant relative to them, their traditions and history, than Dr. John Maclean. . . . While gleanings information from all the recognized authentic sources, Dr. Maclean, by his personal experience and individual knowledge, has added not only a vast amount of hitherto unpublished material, but has revived and reset the old in the most attractive and readable form."—The Week.

Saddle, Sled and Snowshoe

Pioneering on the Saskatchewan in the Sixties

BY JOHN MCDougALL,

AUTHOR OF "FOREST, LAKE AND PRAIRIE," ETC.

Illustrated by J. E. Laughlin.

PRICE, $1.00.

"No resident of this much misunderstood, much maligned country, can view with feelings other than those of unimixed satisfaction, and even delight, the publication of a new book by Rev. John McDougall. The book is full of adventure from cover to cover, not adventures which cost the writer long and severe drains on his imagination, for they are well told accounts, modestly told be it said, of what happened to one John McDougall, then and now a missionary in the West, and one who is not afraid to have his books circulate among people who have known him and his work for twenty years and more. It is a continuation of Mr. McDougall's last volume, and it ought to find a warm reception wherever there are any people who can read English. As a book for boys it cannot be surpassed. The illustrations are almost without exception entirely satisfactory."—Winnipeg Tribune.
