THE ANCHOR WATCH.

"I OFTEN recall," says an old sailor, "my first night at sea. A storm had come up, and we had put back under a point of land which broke the wind a little, but still the sea had a rake on us, and we were in danger of drifting.

"I was on the anchor watch; it was my duty to give warning in case the ship should drag her anchor. It was a long night to me. I was very anxious whether I should know if the ship really did drift. How could I tell? I found that going forward and placing my hand on the chain, I could tell by feeling it whether the anchor was dragging or not; and how often that night I went forward and placed my hand on that chain! And very often since that I have wondered whether I am drifting away from God: and then I go away and pray.

"Sometimes during that long stormy night I would be startled by a rumbling sound, and I would put my hand on the chain, and find that it was not the anchor dragging, but only the chain grating against the rocks on the bottom. The anchor was still firm. And sometimes now, in temptation and trial I become afraid, and praying, I find that away down deep in my heart I do love God, and my hope is in His salvation.

And I want just to say a word to you, young men. Keep an anchor watch, least, before you are aware, you may be upon the rocks."
