

ADVERTISEMENTS.

THE PROTESTANT

*Undenominational
Monthly, devoted to Anti-
Romish and Anti-Ritualistic Questions.*

PUBLISHED AT $1.50 A YEAR, INVARIABLY IN ADVANCE.

 Printed on fine thick paper, forming a handsome book when bound.

OBJECTS.

- I. To unite Protestants of all denominations in resisting the political aggressions of Ultramontane Romanism in Canada.
- II. To discuss public questions affecting Protestant interests in Canada; demanding equal rights, and the toleration conceded to Roman Catholics; to uphold a Christian life and conduct as the ideal of a true Christian; charity and mutual respect as the ideal of a good citizen.
- III. To instruct in Protestant principles and doctrines.
- IV. To discountenance the education of Protestant girls in convents.
- V. To watch and expose Romish avarice in Government Endowments, and to reform the system whereby Protestants are taxed for the support of Roman Catholic institutions.
- VI. To show the identity of the Ritualistic movement with Romanism; to expose the tendency of its teaching, and to check its growth in Canada.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

 Only by an extensive circulation can the object of "THE PROTESTANT" be attained. It is earnestly hoped that in every church and every other Protestant circle, it will find active and immediate friends out of good-will to the cause to which it is devoted.

AGENTS

Are required in every town and village of the Dominion where they are not already appointed. Now is the time to begin!

 CANVASSERS have no competitor with "THE PROTESTANT," as there is no other periodical in America specially devoted to Anti-Romish and Anti-Ritualistic questions.

ADVERTISEMENTS.

A limited number will be received.

Remittances of money must be registered, or sent by Postal Money Order, payable to the undersigned. Articles for publication solicited. Advertisements, books for review, and exchanges, must be addressed to the publisher,

F. E. CRAFTON,

Bookseller and Publisher, 182 St. James Street, Montreal.