

5.—The documents published by the International Bureau are distributed to the Administrations, in proportion to the number of units of contribution assigned to each under Article 25 of the Convention.

Any additional copies of these documents which may be applied for by Administrations are paid for separately at cost price.

6.—The International Bureau undertakes the publication of an alphabetical dictionary of all the post offices in the world, with special indication of such of those offices as undertake services which have not yet become general. This dictionary is kept up to date by means of supplements or in any other manner which the International Bureau considers suitable.

The dictionary is distributed to the Administrations in the proportion of 10 copies to each unit of contribution assigned to each under Article 25 of the Convention. Any additional copies required by Administrations are paid for separately at cost price.

Balancing and Settlement of Accounts

1.—The International Bureau undertakes the balancing and settlement of accounts of every description relative to the international postal service between the Administrations which express their desire to avail themselves of its services. They arrange accordingly with each other and with the Bureau.

2.—At the request of the Administrations concerned, telegraph accounts may also be notified to the International Bureau to be included in arriving at the balances due.

3.—Each Administration retains the right to prepare at its discretion special accounts for different branches of the service, and to settle them as it thinks fit with the corresponding Administrations, without employing the medium of the International Bureau, to which it simply indicates for what branches of the service and in respect of what countries it desires the services of the Bureau.

4.—Administrations which avail themselves of the services of the International Bureau for the balancing and liquidation of accounts may cease to use those services three months after giving notice to that effect.
