Mr. Deputy Speaker: I declare the amendment lost. The question is on the main motion.

Mr. T. S. Barnett (Comox-Alberni): Mr. Speaker, before we deal with the main motion, there are a few things I would like to say about this bill. I think perhaps viewing the actions of the government from outside the house for a brief period gives one a healthier perspective of what is going on in this place than perhaps one can sometimes achieve inside it. One of the results of my observations of what has happened since June, 1968, has been that introduction of this particular measure has reaffirmed the view I have come to hold with regard to the functioning and the main purpose of the Liberal Party.

At other times and in other places, I have come to the conclusion the principle objective of the Liberal Party over the years has always been primarily to do what they could
