STONY MOUNTAIN PENITENTIARY—PAROLE

Question No. 1,452—Mr. Howard:

1. Since January 1, 1972, how many inmates at the Stony Mountain Penitentiary who were (a) Indians (b) non-Indians applied for (i) parole (ii) day parole (iii) temporary absence and of these how many, in each case, were granted?

2. Since January 1, 1972, what percentage of (a) Indians (b) non-Indians who were inmates in the said institution who applied for a full or minimum parole were granted such parole?

Hon. Warren Allmand (Solicitor General): For the Ministry of the Solicitor General: 1. This information is not available in a readily retrievable form and would require a time consuming search of the personal files maintained on each inmate who has been in the institution at any time since January 1, 1972. While information on the ethnic or racial origin of each inmate is obtained by way of a verbal statement from the inmate on admission and is recorded on his personal file, the Canadian Penitentiary Service does not maintain a data bank or other statistical record of the ethnic or racial origins of inmates; and neither the Canadian Penitentiary Service nor the National Parole Board record or otherwise make any distinction in respect of the ethnic or racial origins of inmates who apply for or are granted either (i) parole, (ii) day parole or (iii) temporary leave of absence.
