CHILDREN BY THE THOUSAND TOOK POSSESSION OF FAIR

They Were on Hand Before the Gates Opened and Never Had Such a Time in Their Lives—A Great Education for Them All.

A RECORD DAY.

Official figures showed the attendance yesterday to be 101,000. On Children's Day last year the figure was 84,000.

The piper of Hamelin town, immortalized in nursery rhyme, never held half the lure to juvenile fancy as does a great fair. The little exodus of youngsters which followed the strains of his tooting life out of a staid old continental village would be allowed a hundred times in the maelstrom which surged back and forth upon the exhibition grounds yesterday afternoon and evening. The children themselves it was a sort of earthly Paradise, where all the fleshly fancies of the crowd never ceased. Bands were there to be listened to, only to be stared at from the tall of the eye as the young hopefuls were just clung and dragged, the whole place seemed transformed into a gigantic nursery, when their particular offspring disappeared periodically into swarms of others literally springing from the ground.

A Rare Day.

There has rarely been such a day for young people. From the first creek of the turnstile in the morning when those within a mile radius stampeded into the grounds, the great convulsions of the crowd never ceased. Bands were there to be listened to, only to
spring disappeared periodically into
ing from the ground.

A Great Education.

Everybody was out for education.
There is no place in the Dominion where so much can be learned. The done is in the two weeks of Exhibition," said an authority at luncheon.
His remarks were verified a thousand times in the day. Stubby fingers were poked into the ribs of the fat cat-well-known in succession. Mr. Hasser defeated at last by Mr. Gardhouse. When seen by The World after the judging, the latter was greatly pleased at his success, and stated that he has four champion ships and four firsts now to his credit.

Robertson of Hamilton and Senator Both of Bowmanville were judges, and after travelling the country from east to west, and visiting the great stables of Great Britain, they stated that never before had they seen ponies in a more fit condition.

The two-year-old pony stud, Talke Fire Alarm, owned by J. M. Gardhouse, won the championship, has just been out from England a month, and already has won the pony championship as champion of the Canadian National Exhibition. The horse was owned by Walpole Greenwell, the noted hockey breeder of England, and shown extensively throughout the Dominion.

Never before has a horse of this age been so successful. Mr. Gardhouse is very proud of his six-year-old hockey mare, which has never been defeated, and now stands alone in her class for the C.N.E. Her two yearling colts were shown and were also successful in winning their class.

Directors smiled in their sleep, too, for Children's Day was a terrible abounding success and a great action, the merit of those hours made responsibilities and worries flee and put the everlasting taste of youth into business-tired hearts.

Police Had a Busy Time Taking Care of Lost Babies.

Station Was Empty by Midnight and All Were Happy.

No less than 80 lost children, varying in age from four and five to thirteen, were gathered in by the Exhibition police yesterday. By midnight, however, an owner for every child had been found.

Only in one or two cases were the youngsters unable to say their names and the streets on which they lived, and there were eventually claimed by their parents. Curious it was to note the different attitudes of the kiddies in the knowledge that they were in the hands of the police. Some, perhaps most of them, cried, a few of them were terrified, and quite a few seemed to enjoy their experience.

The small boys in particular seemed to have a dread of a policeman, one of whom sobbed like a mother as if his little heart would break. Another girl of about eight, gaily adorned in all sorts of Exhibition finery, topped off by a paper human headpiece which she had fastened around her head, skipped around the police office as if she were at home in her own nursery.

All appearances of police decorum and dignity were thrown to the winds by the harmless and mischievous antics of the charge; four or five of them gathered around a newly-found child would talk to him and elicit his name and address by a bit of coaxing and a few words by and by, between some and in a language all its own, they were able to understand, the child would tell the officer his or her name and address.

At Duncan's Pure Food Dining Hall, opposite the press building, you will find a clean, comfortable and cool dining hall, easily seating 600 guests.
The food is cooked before your own eyes, thus ensuring you of its perfect cleanliness. For years past Duncan's Pure Food Dining Hall has given the public satisfaction, and they are even better equipped this year than ever to serve you.

HACKNEY PONIES HARD TO JUDGE

Animals Never Were Seen in a More Fit Condition.

GARDHOUSE A WINNER
He Owns Talke Fire Alarm, the Champion Stallion of the Show.

Hundreds of parents with their children crowded the grand stand and thronged around the fence of the stock breeders' prize ring yesterday afternoon to witness the extraordinary exhibit of hackney ponies which were put on the program for the benefit of the children. It was "pony day," and everything from Shetlands, some no bigger than a Newfoundland dog, to beauties standing 14 hands high were shown, and when some high-stepping hackney would prance around the ring, throwing its knees high into the air, with more grace and style than one could imagine an animal could display, it was remarkable what enthusiasm was shown by all.

The features of the exhibit were the horses shown by J. M. Gardhouse, who won the championship for hackney ponies six years in succession. Mr. Hasser had been defeated at last by Mr. Gardhouse. When

BETTER FLOWERS NEVER WERE SEEN

Horticultural Display Excels Any Ever Shown at Exhibition.

GLADIOLI ARE FINE
Nothing to Equal Them Has Been Shown Before in Canada.

Flower names that baffle every attempt at pronunciation do not make the multi-colored exhibits in the horticultural building any less attractive to the common man, who doesn't bother to read the labels. He is satisfied to know that the place is filled with delightful sights and odors, and wishes he could grow some of the exhibits in his own back yard.

Three branches of the municipal park service have brought and visiting the display of yellow almandas and her's nearest fern in the Exhibition Park entry has been the finest shown in Canada.
The display of gladioli from the Oakley household, in size and quantity of bloom exceeds anything ever shown in Canada.
A. Gilchrist, under whose care they have been brought to such perfection, will start for England at the close of the Exhibition on a six-months' trip, in the course of which he will exhibit some of the best of his gladioli in his own show, Mr.
Gilchrist specializes in gladioli and bids fair to become the recognized authority in this country on the proper development of this variety of flower.

Excels Them All.
Crotoms and orchids in the greatest luxury feature the winning exhibit, while the display of yellow almandas and her's nearest fern in the Exhibition Park entry
has been the finest shown in Canada.

J. C. Eaton won first prize with his cattulidias. His success is the more remarkable as this is the first year he has competed. The Fellet entry, which is the most beautiful, but Sir Henry surpassed all his other efforts with his orchid blooms, which took the prize.

years, died very suddenly Tuesday at the family residence, 221 Jarvis st., Mrs. Maroney had only been ill a short time and her many friends had confidently looked forward to her recovery.
Mrs. Maroney was the daughter of the late John Kane, who lived on Jarvis street for many years. Her late husband was a prominent real estate man in the city a few years ago.

Two sons and three daughters survive: Walter and Frank, Toronto, and Mrs. A. McInnis, Toronto; Mrs. J.
Heffron, Detroit; and Mrs. P. Clancy, period of six months, the death oc-

Dickson was very well known in Toronto and vicinity and for many years connected with The Toronto World.

DENIES INTERVIEW.
District Passenger Agent C. E.
Hornung emphatically denied giving the interview attributed to him in yesterday's issue, which stated that he considered the west to be able to look after its own crops.

PROMINENT EXHIBITORS

The Correct in Corsets.

The showing of corsets tailored by the well-known Woolnough Corsetry is certainly giving the women visitors food for thought and will surely fill them with strong desires to become possessed of a pair of these exquisite garments. Every style of figure is catered for, and the acme of style is introduced in every model.
The new pantostyle corset, which has been popular in Paris and New York during the past season, is exciting great attention and will, without doubt, create a considerable clientele.
While unusual, it is thoroughly practical and genuinely welcome with present dress fashions. We feel that great benefit and pleasure will be derived from a close study of these delightful models.

Of Interest to Farmers.

Every farmer is interested in barns, and every farmer is interested in a barn that will give him greater storing capacity, protect his harvested crop from fire, lightning, snow, sleet and rain.

There is just such a barn erected behind the new cattle sheds at the Toronto Exhibition. This exhibit is by decoration, floral displays to cover between 200 and 400 feet floor space.
First prize and the silver cup donated by Joseph Oliver have been adjudged to the Allan Gardens entry, while Reservoir Park succeeded in carrying off the second prize.

A staghorn fern, the pride of Douglas Robinson's heart, is prominent among the shrubs from Reservoir Park. It is a beautiful, octopus-shaped fern, with long, branching arms, that stretch for several feet from the central bulb. Mr. Robinson is the horticulturist in Canada who can attach success in handling this variety of fern, and it is not at all likely that it could be duplicated in any public garden on the continent.

Don't Skid.

The Security Tread Tire attached to your car will save you your neck and your car. It is a tire that is absolutely the only non-skid tire manufactured. Security tires are "made in Canada for Canadian roads" and are popularly known as the "frame, sides and roof." They are used by the most prominent automobile owners in Canada.

No chains are required by the man whose car is equipped with Security tires. The roughest road use to be found in Canada. With proper application of brakes and the avoidance of street-locking wheels, these tires may be used in the roughest conditions.

The Independent Tire Company, which handles this tire, is located at 17 Adelaide street west, in the old transportation building, where all particulars will be furnished upon application. "Join the owners' ranks" is the slogan of the company, who declare that the owner, and not the garage, benefits by the purchase of Security Tread Tires.

Nasmith's Dining Hall.

A visit to the spacious and attractive dining hall of the Nasmith Company, at the east end of the grand stand, will send the customers away not thinking of the 50c which they paid for the excellent full course meal, but thinking of the splendid food which they were served and the accommodation they received.

The spacious hall will be found especially attractive and the cleanliness of the tables and the neatly attired waitresses for which the company is noted, will at once meet with the visitors' approval. There is also an up-to-date grill room in the extreme west end of the stand.

Renowned for Purity.

From the far north, where no feast night is complete unless Sultana Biscuits are served, to the most exclusive banquet hall, the Christie, Brown confections are known and enjoyed. At the Christie, Brown confectionery, the manufacture of which is shown the most notable productions on which the firm has built up its reputation for purity.

Every bag of flour and every package of fruit which is used in the manufacture of these confections must pass thru the most rigid of tests before acceptance. Infinite variety of production is not allowed to affect the standard, but the utmost skill at the firm's command is constantly put to the task of devising new sweetnesses from the old and trustworthy materials.

White Horses.

White horses are becoming as common in Toronto during the season of the big fair as they are on the Giorsus Twelfth, when the figure of King Billy makes his annual appearance.

There is a big one prominently displayed over the doorway of a downtown store, which probably leads the downtown decorations in point of elaborateness.

But the Exhibition itself is not to be outdone by any rivals from the business section of the city. A booth in the manufacturers' building boasts two white horses, big ones at that.
They are among the decorations which Mackie & Co. Limited, of Glasgow, have devised and which will be favorably remembered this year.

The White Horse Scotch Whiskey exhibit is located on the southwestern corner of the manufacturers' building, along the route which is traversed daily by ninety-nine one-hundredths of the fair's visitors. It is tastefully arranged for the purpose of displaying the firm's productions, and is one of the features for which the manufacturers' building will be favorably remembered this year.

The two compartments into which the Mackie Company's space is divided are walled and roofed with homespun hand-loom woven plaids from Argyllshire, Scotland. These were obtained this summer by John E. Turton, the firm's Toronto representative, in the course of a trip to the old country, when he visited the estate of P. J.
Mackie at Argyllshire.

The collection of plaids which he brought home with him, and which may be seen any day at the White Horse exhibit, were spun on a hand loom by Archie Morat, who is one of the few "spinnies" left in Scotland. They embrace several rare tartans, correctly worked in shades of red and green, which will prove a delight to every dependant of Robert Bruce who enters the grounds.

As a testimonial to the high places in which the Mackie product finds favor, a framed letter from the gentleman of the royal cellars, London, England, forms an interesting part of the exhibit. It is an order on the Mackie firm calling for the delivery of one hoghead of whiskey at 22s 6d for the King's service. The missive is handsomely framed, and is a popular proof that the honor of supplying the royal cellar has fallen to them.

These exhibits show the evidence of careful planning and warrants a visit from everyone who is interested in the Exhibition, and the exhibitors who do so much to make it a success each year.

Bird's Dining Hall.
When trying to think where you will eat, just turn to Bird's Dining Hall, situated in a convenient spot back of the grand stand and don't forget to go in and try their 35c full course meal. In both their private hall at 50c and the 35c space they will satisfy you as to food and service. To satisfy is their motto.

"M-Y" Dining Hall.
Cleanliness and the quality of the food are some of the features which make the M-Y Dining Hall, opposite the grand stand, one of the most desirable eating places at the Exhibition. Meals are served at all hours, and as the place has a seating capacity of over 500, you are sure of prompt service.

The Jackson Cars.
Among the outstanding features of the automobile exhibits this year is the Coupe Model of the Jackson Car Co. of Ontario, Limited. Every detail of comfort has been followed out in the construction of the car. For body finish and luxurious appointments, it stands out most prominently. It is upholstered through with the same material and color as that used in the Royalty Cars after the death of his late majesty, King Edward VII, and its richness is simply beautiful. This upholstering is of broadest maroon brocade with silk trimmings. The handles of ebony and bone and finished through in nickel. Dome electric lights are fitted with automatic lighted steps, which flare out when the doors are opened. A cigar lighter, card case, timepiece, appointment pad, and cut glass flower receptacle are also installed.

Visitors to the fair have commented much favorably on this model, and ladies, in particular, are delighted with the beauty and style of the car. There is seating capacity for four. The machine is equipped with electric self-starter, and from an automobile manufacturer's standpoint it is a masterpiece.

In addition to the Coupe, the Jackson Olympic and Sultana Models come in for their share of praise. Mr. A. E.
Wilson is in charge of the exhibit along with Mr. P. G. Rankin, his new sales manager for Toronto district.
