after a week in one Liberal riding after another. Two meetings were held during the day, the first at Grandview in the afternoon, and the other at Dauphin this evening. Grandview is strongly Liberal in its complexxion, and the audience proved noticeably apathetic. At one time, in fact, a few hisses greeters met Mr. Borden at Grandview. On his arrival he was presented with a civic address of welcome, and was then taken for a motor drive of 20 miles thru the heavily laden wheat fields of the surrounding country. The public meeting was attended by about 700 poole.

E are not divulging any State Secrets when we tell you that within the last 24 hours the Directors of the Dome Extension Mine held an important meeting and agreed to place in the Treasury of their company $40,000. Immediately following this energetic action, W. S. Edwards and his associates wired to Capt. Anchor at the mine as

"GO AHEAD AS FAST AS MONEY AND MEN CAN GO TO REPLACE THE BUILDINGS AND MACHINERY DE-STROYED BY FIRE. SPARE NO EXPENSE IN CARING FOR THE MEN WHO WERE INJURED."

The fact that the Treasury of this company did not actually require this additional $40,000 emphasizes the confidence which the Directors of Dome Extension have in their property. The recent fire did destroy the filmsy buildings, but it also cleared the entire 5 claims of this company and revealed to the mining world a number of rich veins with free gold splashed through the white quartz, which Capt. Anchor had concealed from view by the aid of low brushwood. The fire was an undisguised blessing, as it exposed riches on the Dome Extension equal to any in the entire district.

In conversation last night with one closely identified with the management he said:—

"JUDGING FROM THE LARGE BUYING ORDERS FOR DOME EXTENSION COMING DIRECTLY FROM PORCU-PINE, IT LOOKS TO ME THAT ANCHOR DID NOT HAVE TIME TO COVER WITH DIRT THE RICH VEINS HE HAD CONCEALED WITH THE AID OF PILES OF BRUSH-

This gentleman also divulged the fact that the insiders were buying at the market now that the actual surface richness had been revealed. Our latest advices from the mine declare that the main shaft is now at a depth of 97 feet, while another shaft was started on Friday last in the centre of the big vein, which for nearly 100 feet in width is literally speckled with free gold.

Mr. W. S. Tarbell, Editor and General Manager of The Mining Investor, of Denver, who has just returned from an inspection of the Porcupine district, stated to us last night that an average sample taken across 15 feet of this vein assayed $280.00 to the ton. He further stated that from the big Sulphide vein which traverses this property an average sample taken across its width gave an assay of over $16.00 to the ton. The tremendous importance of these figures can only be realized when the tonnage, which, according to Capt. Anchor, will be over 1,000,000 tons of ore above the 100-foot level, is considered.

With these facts before us, we feel justified in calling the attention of investors in Porcupine securities to the excellent speculative opportunity which Dome Extension now affords. We consider it a moral certainty that aside from the usual market fluctuations, the price of Dome Extension stock will continue to advance until it is well above par, and should the results of further development confirm the present indicated riches at depth, it would be impossible to make an estimate of the ultimate value of this stock that would appear like a conservative one.

We therefore recommend the immediate purchase of Dome
