

Overcoat Time And Business Booming

It looks to us now as though this was going to be our Banner Year in the Overcoat Department. We have without doubt the finest showing of Overcoats in Toronto, from $10.00 right up to $45.00. We cater to every purse and every taste so far as it is possible to do so. To avoid getting patterns and cloths that appear in almost every clothing store, our buyer bought his own materials and had them made to our own special idea and requirements, so that we can say to you honestly that our patterns are not to be found outside our store, and that even then we haven't enough of any one line to make them common. Several of our patterns are registered and not obtainable anywhere in Canada outside our store.

To gentlemen who are looking for something extra nice, we call your attention to our Beautiful Motor Coats at $28.00, $30.00, $35.00, $40.00 and $45.00. The fact that they are all we claim for them is that they are the coats that are selling out first—OUT OF THE ORDINARY is a claim we make for all of our coats, and your inspection of them will soon demonstrate our assertion.

HAMILTON HAPPENINGS

TO MORE PICTURE SHOWS IF MINISTERS HAVE WAY

Pool-Rooms Are Also Made Subject of Vigorous Attack—Toronto Traveler Vindicated.

HAMILTON, Nov. 2.—(Special.)—Moving picture shows and poolrooms were subjected to some vigorous criticism by a ministerial delegation which appeared before the property, harbor and license committee to-night to protest against the issuance of several licenses for such amusements.

The clerical hammer was first used on a proposed moving picture show at the corner of Barton-st. and Westinghouse-ave. for which a license was asked by its promoters, who presented to the committee a petition alleged to have been signed by 700 citizens of the vicinity where the proprietors of the nickelodeon hope to do business.

Ald. Merigold discovered that the addresses of some of the alleged petitioners were fictitious, and after running his eagle eye over the document, remarked that a wonderful similarity of handwriting was apparent among the supposed signatures. The suggestion of granting the license was laid over until the committee's next meeting. In the meantime, both the friends and enemies of the proposed place of entertainment will bestir themselves to obtain petitions signed by municipal voters for and against the license.

Attack on Pool Room.
An application for a pool room license at 645 East Barton-st., next door to the ministerial fire and fire insurance office, was refused, and the pool room license was transferred to the former owner's new place of business.

Rev. Mr. Williamson said that women were afraid to go to the place, and that he had been told that boys had lost money there. "There is no doubt about the associations of a pool of billiards," declared the reverend gentleman, "and it would be a grave mistake to allow a license there." His attitude was supported by Rev. J. J. O'Connell, Rev. G. Livingston, Mr. Barwell, Ald. Leondes and others.

The former proprietor claimed that he had always conducted the place in the most proper manner and defied any one to prove anything to the contrary. The committee laid the matter over. Several other applications for pool room licenses were refused, and a license for 629 East Barton-st. was granted on Monday, Nov. 20.

Fixing Up City Hall.
The committee passed a resolution to engage Chas. Mills, architect, to fix up the city hall basement, so as to allow it to be used for offices, so as to follow the present somewhat congested condition of the building.

The committee also decided to obtain the services of Architect A. W. Peers in constructing the underground public lavatory which is proposed to establish in Gore Park.

Coroner Anderson's jury to-night rendered a verdict to the effect that Dominic N. Di Leo, who died in the city hospital on Oct. 23, from injuries received on the previous day, came to his death from some cause unknown to the jury.

Agreement With Children's Aid.
The differences between the city and the Children's Aid Society over the proposed children's shelter in the city were settled this morning at a conference between the board of control and the officers of the society. The society will use the shelter for such of its wards as it cannot find suitable private homes for, and will receive an annual grant of $500 from the city.

Adam Brown, president of the society, told the controllers that such a grant was not required, and that twice that amount would be required. The city will equip, furnish and manage the shelter, and the society will be appointed by each party to arrange the details of the agreement to be entered into.

Traveler Was Acquitted.
Richard Glassford, the Toronto commercial traveler arrested last night on a charge of false pretences, preferred by a Chinese laundry man, was honorably acquitted in police court this morning. The Chinik claimed that Glassford had secured by her marriage another man, but Maristate Jelfs believed the Toronto man's story to the effect that the laundry obtained had been sold to him by the Chinaman as unclaimed property, and dismissed the case.

Dangerous Overhanging Bluff on the Strogan-road, on the mountain, will be removed, in a cordance with the decision of the board of control, who, after investigation, in the matter, think that the bluff is a menace to traffic along the road.

TREATING.
Into a saloon six men go in company and the first man orders beer for all. They drink.

The second man buys. They drink. The third man has the glasses filled. They drink.

"Six beers," calls the fourth man. Again they drink.

Says the fifth man to the bartender, "The same all around." For the fifth time they drink.

It is the sixth man's turn. They drink.

This is strictly in accord with the law of treating, and there is nothing remarkable about it. But what a scandal it would be if the women should enter a drug-store and drink thirty-six glasses of soda-water!—Newark News.

PROGRESS OF EDUCATION IN NORWAY

The development and improvement of the primary or common schools have been the endeavor of the Norwegian Government for the last century.

The development of the elementary school system from a church school to a national school to a school in which a general education is given.

The local authorities and the parents have acquired a decided influence upon the arrangement of the school, and an organic connection has been established between the primary school and secondary education.

The primary school has been adapted for children between 7 and 14 years of age. It is free to all children in the kingdom. There is no obligation to attend the public primary school, but the obligation of education exists.

Every child between 7 and 15 in the country, and between 7 and 11 in the towns, that is put in the school, is instructed to bring it up to the standard of the primary school instruction within its fifth year, and is referred to the primary school, and the attendance of the child there can be enforced by a fine imposed upon the parents or guardians.

The primary school in each municipality is governed by a school board, which consists of the parson, the chairman of the municipal council (or one of the aldermen), one of the teachers chosen by the council, and as many other members (men or women) chosen by the municipal council.

The members of the school board chosen by the council are parents of children in the primary school. The school board has the instruction and discipline of the school, and sends each year to the municipal council an estimate of the sums supposed to be required for the maintenance of the school for the coming year.

Also the duty of the school board is to see to the education of children who are not pupils in the primary school. The school board is composed of inspectors for every primary school, consisting of one member, who is the school board chairman and three members (men and women) chosen by the parents of the children attending the school, and in the country by such parents and the taxpayers in the school district.

The school board maintains a constant supervision of the school. It gives to the municipal council the information and advice that may be required. The school board and the board of inspection in the district may lay more important matters connected with the primary school before a district meeting for consideration.

In large towns the school board also appoints school inspectors, and where there are several schools, a superintendent for each. The department for school inspection is the highest public instruction in the highest county in the country. The number of inspectors in each county does not exceed 35, and in the towns 40, except in the county of Bergen, where it is 45, respectively 45 and 50.

The law of teachers and girls are generally taught together, in the country as a rule, separately. Teaching in the primary school is performed by publicly appointed teachers, who are at least 24 weeks a year in the primary school, and receive a salary of at least 2000 kroner annually. At present an average of 33 pupils to each primary school, and 25 teachers may be employed, as assistant teachers, singing, gymnastics, drawing and manual work.

There are several colleges for the training of teachers for the primary school. Six of them are public, and each diocese, while the others are private. The teaching in the public colleges is free, in the private colleges it is not. A rule female teachers receive less than the male teachers. In 1895 the highest salary for male teachers in the town primary schools was 5000 kroner, and for female teachers, respectively, 1500 kroner and 800 kroner, and the average salaries of all teachers are 2700 kroner for men and 1400 kroner for women. This year 4188 male teachers and 1428 female teachers were employed in the primary schools in Norway, and 41,023 pupils in the year 1908. To meet the needs of the children leaving the primary school night schools are maintained with public aid. In most of the counties the so-called advanced schools, in these schools education is continued to the end of the primary school.

In addition to the county schools there are the so-called people's high schools in several of the counties. Of the working classes, and women, chief-ly, the people's high schools are maintained in the so-called working-branches of learning. The first higher school was erected in Christiania in 1858. Several towns and rural districts have since then followed its lead.

Tariff Reform Gaining.
LONDON, Nov. 2.—(C. A. P.)—A report issued to-day declares that within the past year the tariff reform movement has advanced more rapidly than in any previous period since the league was formed. The advance was greatly assisted and accelerated by the American offer of reciprocity to Canada. The dramatic result of the Canadian election has removed this menace to the empire and has assured the triumph of the imperial policy.

City Engineer Wins Out.
It will cost $12,900 to perfect the sewer between York-street and Spadina-avenue on Adelaide-street. The engineer yesterday suggested that the work be done by day labor. The mayor thought contracts were better than day labor. Controller Science thought a report should be made regarding all work done by the city. The mayor agreed, saying that it was a good suggestion. The asphalt on Adelaide-street will be done as the engineer suggested.
