RAINBOW REFLECTIONS

Curious and Interesting Facts and Fancies.

Many and fanciful are the myths connected with the rainbow. According to one superstition, a pair of golden slippers lies buried at the foot of the rainbow, which will bring good luck to the finder.

In contrast to these fancies, we have the matter-of-fact pronouncement that the rainbow is just a bow or arc of a circle, consisting of all the prismatic colors, formed by the refraction and reflection of rays of light from drops of rain, appearing in the part of the heavens opposite the sun.

The artist passes by these points of view and regards the rainbow solely for the pleasure it gives him. In this he is correct, for the rainbow, who is not interested in the rainbow as a rainbow, but rather as the name given to that excellent smoke—Rainbow Cut Plug Smoking Tobacco.
