East London, While of Marshall street, East London. While walking in the yard about a week ago with a pair of thin slippers on, she accidentally stepped upon a nail, which went into her foot about an inch. The sore festered, and poultices were apapplied, but nothing serious was thought of the matter. On Friday Mrs. Fixter was seized with symptoms of acute blood-poisoning. Mr. Flxter, an engineer on the Canada Atlantic Railway, was not summoned, her physician not thinking the case serious. She became rapidly worse, notwithstanding, and died very suddenly. Deceased was 34 years of age, and leaves a 9-year-old daughter, beside her husband. Mrs. Fixter was a daughter of Mr. George A. Hall, of the G. T. R., and was a A. Hall, of the G. T. The bereaved relatives will have the sympathy of a very large circle of friends.

MISS MABEL COXE.

After several months' illness with an abscess. Miss Mabel Coxe, a substitute teacher in the public schools, died at the city hospital, at an early hour yesterday morning. Deceased was the eldest daughter of Mr. Charles Coxe, of 916 Princess avenue. She had been teaching in the schools for over a year.

MRS. CAROLINE BARTLETT. An old and highly respected resident of East London passed away yesterday in the person of Mrs. Caroline Bartlett, at the residence of her son, Mr. T. C. Bartlett, 472 Elizabeth street. Death was due to a general breakup of the system. Mrs. Bartlett was the widow of Mr. John Bartlett, who passed away a few years ago at a ripe old age, and she leaves three sons to mourn her loss. They are John W. (ex-alderman), retired hardware merchant; William, merchant, and Thomas Charles, contractor, all of this city.

THE BIOGRAPH IN LONDON

Scenes Will Be Reproduced in London the Less on Same Scale as in London the Great.

In London the Great one may see the race for the Derby reproduced by the Biograph, with every letail, on the evening of the same day it is actually The Gordon Highlanders' return from India, with the undying glories of Dargai, surrounding them; their march in review is seen in London the same evening. The Twenty-first Lancers' return from Omdurman, with the heroic memories of their splendid charge still fresh; they are pictured in their review by the Prince of Wales. The Biograph reproduces all the great events and personages of the day with vivid fidelity. The review of Admiral Sampson's victorious Cuban squadron, as it passes up New York harbor, is another glorious sight. These and many other splendid scenes will be witnessed at the Grand Opera House on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, and the two hours' programme concludes with the magnificent views of his Holiness Pope Leo XIII., who at 90 years of age, with every mental faculty unimpaired, directs the affairs of a great religious realm. The exhibition is a delight and an education. The fine comic views relieve the more serious scenes, while the talented elocutionist Mr. Owen A. Smiley, gives recitations between the parts. The matinees at between the parts. The matinees at 4:15 are especially designed to give the public school children the opportunity of seeing these educational views.

The Street Car Strike

To the Editor of The Advertiser: I have heard it stated that one of the directors of the Street Railway Company, when asked why he did not settle the differences between the company and the men, and thus avoid further loss of revenue, said that he would not lose anything owing to the strike. Why will he not lose? It must be obvious to everybody that he cannot hope to receive a dividend from the earnings of the company. Then, to my mind, there is only one way of making anything out of the strike, and that is for the directors to continue the trouble until the holders of small amounts of stock will feel the pinch of decreased receipts by the Street Railway Company, and will be compelled to dispose of their holdings at a low figure. Now, I desire to ask the citizens of London i they purpose to be parties to any such a transaction? Something should be A neighbor advised me to try Dr.

NO REPRIEVE FOR PARROTT

The Hamilton Matricide Must Expiate His Crime on the Gallows Next Friday.

Hamilton, June 19.—At home on Sat-urday Sheriff Middleton received instructions from the minister of justice that the law in the case of Benjamin Parrott, the matricide, must take its course, and that the sentence of the court must be carried out. The execution will have to take place next Friday morning, although Radeliffe, the government hangman, cannot be pres-

The sheriff will make arrangements at once for the hanging and will have to engage some person to do the 10b. He denied that he was considering the application of Hugh Cassidy, who is now serving thirty days in the jail. Cassidy offered to do the job for $50.

Parrott has not yet been officially advised that the medical experts re-ported he is sane, and that there is no reason for commuting the sentence, but he may have heard of it, as he has passed sleepless nights since Wednesday.

Mr. Parnham Tells How Dodd's Kidney

Pills Cured His Lumbago. Toronto, June 19 .- The story of the escape of the Globe pressman, Mr. John H. Parnham, from the agonies of Lumbago, by using Dodd's Kidney Pills is unusually interesting. Mr. Parnham writes to the Dodd's Medicine Company (Limited) thus: "I am proud to testify to the wonderful efficacy of Dodd's Kidney Pills. About eight months ago I was attacked by severe pains in my back. I consulted an eminent physician, who said I had Lumbago, and told me to take Turkish These did me no good. "A friend advised me to try Dodd's Kidney Pills. I did so, and one box cured me. My back has never troubled me since."

W. S. Gilbert has a collection of curiosities at his home at Harrow Weld, and among them a model of a weld, and among them a model of a man-'o-war of 100 years ago, fifteen feet long, from which the scene of "Pinafore" was designed.

A BIG-FISH TALE

Lively Time With a "Lunge."

Bobcaygeon, Ont., June 19.—Messrs. M. B. Beasley, Joe Dennis and Jack Rough, Parkdale, Toronto, have been spending several days here on a fishing excursion, and report splendid luck, black bass and speckled trout being very plentiful. The other day Mr. Beasley landed a fine specimen of a maskinonge, which tipped the scales at 30% pounds. Mr. Beasley, who is an expert fisherman, and an ardent sportsman, says he had a battle royal before subduing the monster, taking fully two hours' skillful maneuvering before the "lunge" condescended to ashore, when for some time it was the center of attraction. Mr. Beasley is being congratulated on his success, and now wears a happy, satisfied smile on his countenance.

FLYING ROLLER'S GOODS SOLD. Windsor, June 19.-When D. L. Mackay, the Flying Roller, who is serving four months in the Sandwich jail, is released, he will find some of his stock gone which was not sold to regular customers. On Saturday forenoon Bailiff Reaume sold some goods to satisfy a judgment against Mackay, held by Bloom & Co., Detroit. Judgment was secured against Mackay some weeks ago by Bloom, and, as Mackay was then in jail, the amount was not paid. Bloom secured an exe-cution and Bailiff Reaume sold sufficient goods to satisfy the judgment to Scott & Co., of Windsor, but Scott did not like to remove the goods, as he was forbidden to do so by Mackay's lawyer. There is a question as to whether the goods belong to Mackay, as he is a member of the Flying Roll colony, and cannot be the possessor of any goods in his own name.
