VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

PLEASE DO HONOR THE DEAD. To the Editor of The Advertiser:

Kindly allow me space in your valuable paper to observe that it has been my duty since my return from France to attend several military funerals in this city. Yesterday I attended Pte. Baldwin's funeral, and marched from Sackville street to London West bridge, Sackville street to London West bridge, and all the distance there were only six gentlemen who had respect enough to lift their hats as the remains of one of Canada's real citizens passed on a gun carriage. Now it only takes a minute for a corpse to pass, and it would look better if some male residents paid respects to the remains of a real hero (who has fought and died for them) by removing their smokes and lifting their hats. If they cannot don the khaki and do their bit, they can at least pay respect to those who have made the supreme sacrifice for them and theirs. In a recent issue of your paper there appeared a letter criticizing

City officials do not take a rosy view of the situation. The question was informally discussed by those who turned up for the board of control meeting on Friday. They stated that they found the general impression about the city was that the company would not grant the men an increase unless their increased fare proposals were granted. The reason for the refusal would be its financial condition. The men would strike. The city would be tad up. The blame would then be shouldered on the city council for not granting the in-creased fares.

Abdul Hamid, who has recently opened a Richmond street cafe, called at the board of trade rooms called at the board of trace rooms this week to announce that he will give the entire proceeds of his business of Wednesday, April 24th, to the campaign fund, and that most of his employees are giving their wages for that day.

The patriotic drive industrial committee at a meeting on Thursday afternoon decided to adopt the plan of reaching employees of large factories, etc., which was followed with much success last year. The committee is today sending out a circular letter, asking the larger employers to co-operate with them in obtaining subscriptions from their employees through appointing canvass committees right in the canvass committees right in the firms. In this way much work is saved the industrial committee and also the time of employees. The employers generally approve. adopted this plan last year.

The full text of the bulletin follows:

The Great Battle.

The greatest battle of history is being fought in France. After wearisome months of trench warfare, Armageddon has come; it was unavoidable if the right of civilization was to prevail over the might of kultur. Far from the battlefield we also approach a great effort—that of increased food production.

Food conservation is playing an important role in the successful conduct of our war activities; it is economic trench warfare. But a big drive is as necessary in economics as in military estrator. drive is as necessary in economics as in military strategy.

The farmer is the heavy artillery of this battle for increased production. The other branches of combatant troops are represented by those who are doing their part to assist in increasing our food supplies, the vacant lot cultivators, the city allotment gradeeness of the company city allotment gardeners, and the

But the auxiliary services, the Army Service Corps men, and so forth, are represented by those in forth, are represented by those in the transportation services of the country. Their work, as in the case of their prototypes with our splen-did armies, may lack the spectacular attaching to that of the actual fight-ing men, but it is just as neces-sary to the final defeat of the Hun. Each must do his part, be it to fight, to produce or to carry. WILL YOU DO YOURS?
