

Baby Welfare Week Opens Today in Technical School: Arrangements Are Perfect and Attendance Is Large

Comparison With Last Year's Individual Baby Records Possible By Means of the Statistics—Doctors and Nurses Doing Work Voluntarily.

London's second annual big "Baby Welfare" week in London is in full swing, the official opening taking place this morning at 9 o'clock in the Technical School.

The information bureau is located directly in front of the main entrance at the top of the staircase, and there Mrs. W. L. Partridge, Mrs. Jared Vining, Mrs. A. C. Joseph and Miss Shaw Wood give out programs, enroll new members of the association, and answer questions and point the way to the exhibits in the rooms opening off the east corridor of the first floor.

Mothers who come with babies in their arms and little ones clinging to their skirts want to go as quickly as possible to the clinic rooms on the second floor, in charge of a capable army of doctors.

An Object Lesson. Miss Jennie Fidler, visiting statistician of the Institute of Public Health, is looking after the records.

The public at large gets a fine object lesson in the thoroughness of the methods of the London Child Welfare Association assisted by the Institute of Public Health.

Above a business-like table hangs an immense card, "London's Directory of Babies," containing in alphabetical order the names of every baby examined in the Child Welfare week clinic of a year ago. On the table is a filing cabinet in which is the score card of a year ago of everyone of these babies.

Each baby brought back to this year's clinic gets a gold star opposite its name on entering can have the last year's score card for comparison with the score card being made out this year. Several gold stars have already been placed.

Because of its size and facilities, the large domestic science kitchen has been chosen as the waiting and dressing room, where the little ones are undressed and weighed, then dressed again, Victoria Hospital nurses taking charge of this as they did a year ago.

The Municipal Chapter, I. O. D. S. has undertaken to serve refreshments to every mother bringing children to be examined, both afternoon and evening.

Mrs. T. S. Coleman is convener of the committee looking after this. The Academy of Medicine is arranging to have all the doctors that are needed for the clinics there every hour that these are in progress.

Mrs. Jennie Wilson, convener of the nurses' committee, has a guarantee of all the nursing assistance needed in the clinic rooms from the Isabel Hampton Chapter, I. O. D. E.

The "Model Housekeeping Suite" is everything that can be desired in the way of space and equipment for clinic rooms. Dr. Fuller is in charge of the dental clinic.

The big Provincial Child Welfare exhibit in charge of the assistant director of the Bureau of Child Welfare, Miss Knox, holds a place of prominence in the proper quantities and dressing of babies by St. Joseph's Hospital Nurses in the proper quantities and dressing of babies by St. Joseph's Hospital Nurses.

Other exhibits include a demonstration of proper bathing and dressing of babies by St. Joseph's Hospital Nurses in the proper quantities and dressing of babies by St. Joseph's Hospital Nurses.

Short lectures are being given each morning and afternoon in the airy lecture room in the Technical School, where the Provincial Children's Welfare films are shown several times a day.

Special attention is drawn to the educational part of the evening in the Y. M. C. A. auditorium. This evening the speaker is to be Principal Miller of Wilfrid College, an authority on child welfare.

All clinics, exhibits and lectures are absolutely free to the public.

ASSUMES DUTIES AS Y. M. C. A. SECRETARY

EDWARD JENKINS, recently administrative secretary at the Central Y. M. C. A. in Toronto, assumes duty as secretary of the Y. M. C. A. in the city today, filling the place of the late secretary, K. E. G. Davies, who is leaving the city in the course of a few weeks, and who will attend Toronto University next term.

Mr. Jenkins is an honor graduate of Toronto University, class of '07, and was first educational director at the Central Y. M. C. A. at Toronto, later becoming administrative director of Y. M. C. A. work there.

Apparatus which inland revenue officials claim was being used to distill liquor formed four separate exhibits in police court this morning, in the first case heard in the city where a resident is charged with operating an illicit still.

William A. Lake, 1033 Pine street, appeared in police court on three separate occasions in an information laid by C. E. A. Webb, deputy collector of inland revenue customs, who charges Lake with having liquor in a state of fermentation on his premises at 1033 Pine street, being engaged in distilling or rectifying liquor, having the apparatus concealed on his premises.

What He Found. License Inspector J. E. Keenleyside visited Lake's house on Tuesday afternoon, May 20, and searched the house. He brought away a large cylindrical metal container, inside of which was a coil of metal tubing, and a sample from the cellar of Lake's house, which J. M. McElroy, counsel for the accused, referred to in court that it might be only an ordinary bath tub water heater.

On the day following Keenleyside's visit, Webb took a trip in company with Detective Harry Down to the Pine street house. They brought back with them a finger several lengths of hose and couplings, and a large can, which the customs officer calls a "still." In the cellar was a barrel containing about six gallons of liquor, of which samples were taken.

Not Accepted. One sample was sent to Ottawa for government analysis, but a letter from the department there stating that the sample under analysis showed that it contained 19.25 per cent of proof spirit was not accepted as evidence by the magistrate, as the certificate signed by the analyst himself has not been received.

J. M. McElroy, counsel for Lake, urged the exhibits displayed in the court, calling attention to the couplings on the hose lengths and couplings, and the slit and rust on the inside surface of the can with the coiled tubing, which he called a bath tub water heater, which was a sure enough worm and tube for distilling liquor, in the eyes of the customs officer.

"Did you ever see hose of this description used for anything but distilling liquor?" Mr. McElroy asked the customs officer. "No, I can't say I ever did," he replied.

Collector's Views. In discussing the case with R. G. Fisher, acting crown attorney, Mr. Webb stated that the exhibits in the court, consisting of the hose lengths and couplings, and the slit and rust on the inside surface of the can with the coiled tubing, which he called a bath tub water heater, which was a sure enough worm and tube for distilling liquor, in the eyes of the customs officer.

John M. Parsons of Wellington street has returned from a trip to Ohio, Kentucky, and Michigan, bringing with him specimens of the 17-year locust which is appearing in several states, and is causing fear of a devastation through the locust in a 600-acre cemetery at Cincinnati. His sister, who remembered a previous visit of the locust, said the same cemetery had been almost stripped of plant life when the locust last appeared there.

The locusts come from the ground, according to scientists, but the periods between their appearance are not explained, and the 17-year locust is dismissed as fiction by some.

So far as Mr. Parsons could learn the locusts have not appeared in Canada. They are about an inch long, with brown wings and body, and fly about in the air as if they had lusty appetites.

Mr. Parsons talked to some southern people who were about to leave for Canada because of the cheap reclaimed land that would grow three crops a year.

Labor unrest is serious in the United States, but not so great a problem as in Canada, in the Londoner's opinion, a great dynamo.

The insects come from the ground, according to scientists, but the periods between their appearance are not explained, and the 17-year locust is dismissed as fiction by some.

So far as Mr. Parsons could learn the locusts have not appeared in Canada. They are about an inch long, with brown wings and body, and fly about in the air as if they had lusty appetites.

Mr. Parsons talked to some southern people who were about to leave for Canada because of the cheap reclaimed land that would grow three crops a year.

Labor unrest is serious in the United States, but not so great a problem as in Canada, in the Londoner's opinion, a great dynamo.

The insects come from the ground, according to scientists, but the periods between their appearance are not explained, and the 17-year locust is dismissed as fiction by some.

So far as Mr. Parsons could learn the locusts have not appeared in Canada. They are about an inch long, with brown wings and body, and fly about in the air as if they had lusty appetites.

Mr. Parsons talked to some southern people who were about to leave for Canada because of the cheap reclaimed land that would grow three crops a year.

Labor unrest is serious in the United States, but not so great a problem as in Canada, in the Londoner's opinion, a great dynamo.

The insects come from the ground, according to scientists, but the periods between their appearance are not explained, and the 17-year locust is dismissed as fiction by some.

So far as Mr. Parsons could learn the locusts have not appeared in Canada. They are about an inch long, with brown wings and body, and fly about in the air as if they had lusty appetites.

Mr. Parsons talked to some southern people who were about to leave for Canada because of the cheap reclaimed land that would grow three crops a year.

Labor unrest is serious in the United States, but not so great a problem as in Canada, in the Londoner's opinion, a great dynamo.

The insects come from the ground, according to scientists, but the periods between their appearance are not explained, and the 17-year locust is dismissed as fiction by some.

REVENUE OFFICIALS CAPTURE WHAT THEY DECLARE IS "STILL"

W. A. Lake Is Charged With Using Liquor Maker.

ADJOURNED TILL MONDAY

Counsel For Defence Says "Plant" Really Just Water Heater.

Apparatus which inland revenue officials claim was being used to distill liquor formed four separate exhibits in police court this morning, in the first case heard in the city where a resident is charged with operating an illicit still.

William A. Lake, 1033 Pine street, appeared in police court on three separate occasions in an information laid by C. E. A. Webb, deputy collector of inland revenue customs, who charges Lake with having liquor in a state of fermentation on his premises at 1033 Pine street, being engaged in distilling or rectifying liquor, having the apparatus concealed on his premises.

What He Found. License Inspector J. E. Keenleyside visited Lake's house on Tuesday afternoon, May 20, and searched the house. He brought away a large cylindrical metal container, inside of which was a coil of metal tubing, and a sample from the cellar of Lake's house, which J. M. McElroy, counsel for the accused, referred to in court that it might be only an ordinary bath tub water heater.

On the day following Keenleyside's visit, Webb took a trip in company with Detective Harry Down to the Pine street house. They brought back with them a finger several lengths of hose and couplings, and a large can, which the customs officer calls a "still." In the cellar was a barrel containing about six gallons of liquor, of which samples were taken.

Not Accepted. One sample was sent to Ottawa for government analysis, but a letter from the department there stating that the sample under analysis showed that it contained 19.25 per cent of proof spirit was not accepted as evidence by the magistrate, as the certificate signed by the analyst himself has not been received.

J. M. McElroy, counsel for Lake, urged the exhibits displayed in the court, calling attention to the couplings on the hose lengths and couplings, and the slit and rust on the inside surface of the can with the coiled tubing, which he called a bath tub water heater, which was a sure enough worm and tube for distilling liquor, in the eyes of the customs officer.

"Did you ever see hose of this description used for anything but distilling liquor?" Mr. McElroy asked the customs officer. "No, I can't say I ever did," he replied.

Collector's Views. In discussing the case with R. G. Fisher, acting crown attorney, Mr. Webb stated that the exhibits in the court, consisting of the hose lengths and couplings, and the slit and rust on the inside surface of the can with the coiled tubing, which he called a bath tub water heater, which was a sure enough worm and tube for distilling liquor, in the eyes of the customs officer.

John M. Parsons of Wellington street has returned from a trip to Ohio, Kentucky, and Michigan, bringing with him specimens of the 17-year locust which is appearing in several states, and is causing fear of a devastation through the locust in a 600-acre cemetery at Cincinnati. His sister, who remembered a previous visit of the locust, said the same cemetery had been almost stripped of plant life when the locust last appeared there.

The locusts come from the ground, according to scientists, but the periods between their appearance are not explained, and the 17-year locust is dismissed as fiction by some.

So far as Mr. Parsons could learn the locusts have not appeared in Canada. They are about an inch long, with brown wings and body, and fly about in the air as if they had lusty appetites.

Mr. Parsons talked to some southern people who were about to leave for Canada because of the cheap reclaimed land that would grow three crops a year.

Labor unrest is serious in the United States, but not so great a problem as in Canada, in the Londoner's opinion, a great dynamo.

The insects come from the ground, according to scientists, but the periods between their appearance are not explained, and the 17-year locust is dismissed as fiction by some.

So far as Mr. Parsons could learn the locusts have not appeared in Canada. They are about an inch long, with brown wings and body, and fly about in the air as if they had lusty appetites.

Mr. Parsons talked to some southern people who were about to leave for Canada because of the cheap reclaimed land that would grow three crops a year.

Labor unrest is serious in the United States, but not so great a problem as in Canada, in the Londoner's opinion, a great dynamo.

The insects come from the ground, according to scientists, but the periods between their appearance are not explained, and the 17-year locust is dismissed as fiction by some.

So far as Mr. Parsons could learn the locusts have not appeared in Canada. They are about an inch long, with brown wings and body, and fly about in the air as if they had lusty appetites.

Mr. Parsons talked to some southern people who were about to leave for Canada because of the cheap reclaimed land that would grow three crops a year.

Labor unrest is serious in the United States, but not so great a problem as in Canada, in the Londoner's opinion, a great dynamo.

The insects come from the ground, according to scientists, but the periods between their appearance are not explained, and the 17-year locust is dismissed as fiction by some.

So far as Mr. Parsons could learn the locusts have not appeared in Canada. They are about an inch long, with brown wings and body, and fly about in the air as if they had lusty appetites.

Mr. Parsons talked to some southern people who were about to leave for Canada because of the cheap reclaimed land that would grow three crops a year.

Labor unrest is serious in the United States, but not so great a problem as in Canada, in the Londoner's opinion, a great dynamo.

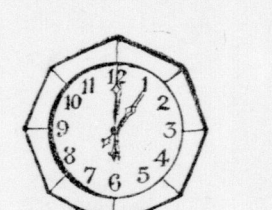

The insects come from the ground, according to scientists, but the periods between their appearance are not explained, and the 17-year locust is dismissed as fiction by some.

SHALLMAN/BERMAN

This Store Opens at 9 a.m. and Closes at 5:30 p.m.

SHALLMAN/BERMAN

Important During June July and August This Store Will Close Wednesdays at 1 o'clock. Other Days, Including Saturday, at 5:30 o'clock. Other Days, Including Saturday, at 5:30

This week marks another epoch in the history of this store—another advance in our policy of shorter hours and more efficient service. Besides the Wednesday half-holiday we have this week cut another half-hour off the day by closing at 5:30 instead of 6 o'clock, demonstrating our faith in the shorter hours policy, as we have during the past twenty years by advancing from time to time just as far as we consider serves the best interest of our customers and employees as well. Long ago we felt the pulse of public sentiment along this line and we make these changes for shorter hours knowing that we are not only carrying out our own policy, but the policy advocated by the great majority with every confidence that you will loyally support it by doing your shopping before 5:30.

A Full Day's Business In Four Hours Wednesday

Opening at 9 o'clock will prove a great advantage to our customers who attend these Wednesday morning summer sales. Just a half-hour later than last summer, which will enable many more to be here for the opening sales. Every item advertised are sale specials, which cannot be had before 9 o'clock tomorrow. Here is a brief list of this week's Wednesday morning sales. Be here at 9 o'clock.

White Voile, 39c and 59c

The first Wednesday morning in this department will be a rush of early buyers for the two bargains listed below; limited quantities in each.

39c YARD—White Voiles, plain, stripe and crossbar patterns. See this line to realize the snap for waists and dresses. Only about 300 yards, 36 inches

59c YARD—White Voiles, some of the season's best patterns, in very pretty stripes and novelty designs, away below regular price. Only about 200 yards, 36 inches

June Bride Madeira Linens

A particularly interesting sale for the first Wednesday morning is this sale of Madeira Linens, suggesting many delightful gift pieces for the bride. Space will not allow details to be given, but the values are wonderful, not a complete range, but collectively mostly any piece; fine hand embroidery on genuine linen of superior quality.

6 and 8 inch Doilies, each ..... 18c, 25c, 27c, 33c, 35c, 45c and 50c
10-inch Doilies, each ..... 35c, 43c, 50c, 60c, 75c, 79c
18-inch Centres, 98c, $1.98, $2.29, $3.25
24-inch Centres, each ..... $1.50, $1.75, $2.98, $3.29 and $4.90
Oval Trays in all sizes, from, each ..... 33c to $3.50

Your choice of any Madeira Napkins in stock, some delightful patterns, range of several designs all marked at one price for Wednesday morning only. Early for these—30 dozen in the lot. At ..... $4.48 per half-dozen

Special Clearings For Wednesday Morning For Men and Boys

BOYS' BLOUSES, 49c. A few dozen Blouses for boys to clear Wednesday morning at this very low price, natural shade only, all well made and good for general use, sizes for boys 6 to 14 years. Clearing price 49c each

MEN'S SHIRTS, 79c. For a clean-up Wednesday morning, a quantity of Men's Negligee Shirts, assorted stripes, with laundered cuffs, coat style, plain shades; marked away down for quick clearance; mostly all sizes up to 16½. Price ..... 79c each

BOYS' BLOOMERS, 50c PAIR. For boys 12 to 16 years, these bloomers are worth a special effort Wednesday morning, made of good denim, in black and blue shades only. Special at ..... 50c pair

MEN'S SUSPENDERS, 25c—HALF PRICE—Men's Suspenders at half price Wednesday morning; six dozen only crossbar and leather ends, good webbing, extra good value. Clearing at ..... 25c pair

BRISCO'S 258 DUNDAS STREET.

RELIANCE Garage SERVICE Station

ROYAL SALUTE OF 21 GUNS FIRED AT HEIGHTS IN HONOR OF KING GEORGE'S BIRTHDAY

Crowd Assembles To Witness Honoring of the Monarch's Anniversary—Gun Crews Selected From Artillery Details, Under Lieut.-Col. W. J. Brown.

Promptly at 12 (noon) today a royal salute of twenty-one guns in honor of the King's birthday, was fired at Carling Heights, and a large crowd was in London in over four hours. The guns fired were four 5-inch howitzers, fired at 20-second intervals. The gun crews which were selected from miscellaneous artillery details in this district, were commanded by Lieut.-Col. W. J. Brown, A.A.G. M.D. No. 1, who has seen service in France with the Canadian Artillery.

Bands Present. The Canadian Garrison Regiment Band was in attendance at Carling Heights under Lieut. A. W. Nanfan. At the conclusion of the salute, the National Anthem was played, after which three cheers for his majesty were called for by Lieut.-Col. Brown, to which all present heartily responded. Members of the local military police were on duty to keep the crowd out of the danger zone, the guns facing the C. P. R. tracks on the hill overlooking the old rifle range.

Colored Pleased. During the salute everything worked according to plan, and Lieut.-Col. Brown complimented the men under him, on the smart manner in which the salute was fired. Guards throughout the camp lined up in full military order, and presented arms during the salute. Today is observed as a general holiday for all military centres throughout the Dominion.

IS 54 YEARS OLD. Born at Marlborough House, London, on June 3, King George of Great Britain and Ireland, and emperor of India, celebrates his 54th birthday today. He was the second son of King Edward VII, but through the death of his brother, Albert Edward, he became heir-apparent to the British throne, and took his seat in the House of Lords as Duke of Cornwall.

Upon the accession of King Edward in 1901, he received the title of Duke of Cornwall. At this time he made a tour of the world, visiting all the great British colonies and on his return to England was created Prince of Wales. In July, 1903, he married Princess Victoria May of Teck and six children were born to them. Upon the death of King Edward, he ascended to the throne under the title George V. on May 7, and was formally crowned king at Westminster Abbey on June 22, 1911. He was crowned emperor of India at the Durbar at Delhi on December 12, 1911.

I think that this is the case in Hamilton. The undertakers themselves do not object to this, as they are paid to serve the people, but the ministers have their appointments, and Sunday is a full day for them. Other local undertakers expressed the same opinion, that they were willing when necessary to hold a funeral on Sunday, though they preferred other days, and that in some cases it is very hard to get ministers. No meeting of the undertakers has yet been held to discuss the matter.

HOUSE AT BYRON IS DESTROYED BY FIRE

Although much of the furniture was saved, the home of Mrs. Webb of Byron was completely destroyed by fire last night. The residence was a large one, and a part of the construction was stone. About fifty of the neighbors helped to carry out the rubble, and the house when it was seen that their efforts to put out the blaze were of no avail. The reflection of the fire was seen in London.

One Cool Resting Place For Soldiers At Heights

Recreation Room at Hospital All Screened And Airy.

About the coolest spot on Carling Heights today is the recreation room of the Western Ontario Military Hospital, which is a portion of Tecumseh Barracks. This room is about 200 feet long, and the windows are all screened, while inside are two pool and billiard tables, aiding the boys to pass away the time.

At the west end of the hall is a stage for use when concerts are given by local talent and the soldier boys themselves. A victoria also assists in making life North living the Heights during the sweltering weather.

At the east end of the room the entertainers, Lieut. Fred Young, does a thriving business these days, ice cream cones being pronounced the best sellers. This is regarded as the coolest spot at the Heights, excepting the "cooler," where military offenders are incarcerated, it being the cellar beneath the guardroom, but very few soldiers seem anxious to repose in this refrigerator.

Let Our Experts Develop That Next Roll of Film

Make comparison and you will be pleased with our superior results. Mail orders have careful and prompt attention.

J. H. BACK & CO. 210 DUNDAS STREET.

LIEUT.-COL. COLES IN TORONTO. Lieut.-Col. W. E. Coles, president of the London branch of the G. W. V. A., is attending a meeting of the executive of the association, which is being held in Toronto today.

CONFERENCE BEING HELD BETWEEN CITY AND OFFICIALS.

NO FARES SETTLED YET

Manager King Says He Cannot Say What Will Be Asked.

Mayor C. R. Scriver and members of the city council, together with representatives of the utilities commission, this morning conferred with officials of the London Street Railway Company on the subject of Sunday service to Springbank Park. The mayor stated afterwards that a further conference would be held, and that in all probability a definite decision would be reached before the end of the present week.

Must Be Satisfactory. Asked whether indications pointed to a settlement which would be satisfactory to the city, the mayor stated that he was not prepared at that point. He said, however, that unless the arrangement which would be made, it is to be inferred, that before the end of the week the question of whether a Sunday service will be given to Springbank will have been settled one way or the other.

Up to President. Manager C. R. King said he was not prepared to say what agreement the company would offer until word was received from the president, C. H. Currie of Akron, Ohio. He said, however, that he was confident that the company had never before in its history had been asked to make such an agreement in time to commence the summer season, and with a desire to comply with that request the subject was referred to President Currie, who had been asked to arrange for a conference this week.

Mr. King declared he was not in a position to indicate at present even approximately what the company would be prepared to accept. He said, however, that the company's action would not largely depend on his recommendation. Mr. King said he would make any recommendation until the conference, and in the meantime preferred to say nothing at all.

Not Official. Mr. King also declared that the statement made to the city council last night by a member of a deputations that the company was willing to give a Sunday service to Springbank for a five-cent fare was not official of the company. He added:

"The simple reason that we do not know what the rates will be we have not informed anyone, and the rates will run to Springbank on Sundays for five cents. The gentleman who gave that information to the city council was not a spokesman for the company."

CAUGHT WITH DOPE

OUTFIT ON PERSON

Percy Murray, charged with having a dope outfit comprising morphia and hypodermic needles in his possession when he was arrested yesterday, told the police magistrate this morning that he found them neatly packed in a leather case in the Grand Trunk station, until he was told to appear in police court this morning.

The police stated that Murray was charged when he was arrested, and the magistrate remanded him for examination by Dr. J. W. Wilson, M.B. physician, and intimated that Murray might get a long run at the Ontario Reformatory to recover from the effects.

LOTS OF ASSISTANTS TO BUILDING INSPECTOR

Committee Can Choose From Seven or Eight Applicants.

The Housing Commission, which meets tomorrow evening, will have an opportunity to make a selection from among about ten applicants for appointment as assistant to Building Inspector. Secretary J. Baker has received applications from seven or eight practical builders and from two qualified architects.

Chairman J. G. Richter is understood to be ready and anxious to recommend the appointment of a solicitor to the commission. The appointment of a solicitor is required by the act of the association, which is being held in Toronto today.

Up to the present only one applicant for a housing loan has completed a formal application on the prescribed form, specifying the amount of money required and giving undertaking in affidavit form to comply with the repayment and other requirements.

About half-a-dozen other applicants are now ready to complete these forms, and it is expected that within a very short time houses will be actually under construction.

LIEUT.-COL. COLES IN TORONTO. Lieut.-Col. W. E. Coles, president of the London branch of the G. W. V. A., is attending a meeting of the executive of the association, which is being held in Toronto today.

CONFERENCE BEING HELD BETWEEN CITY AND OFFICIALS.

NO FARES SETTLED YET

Manager King Says He Cannot Say What Will Be Asked.

Mayor C. R. Scriver and members of the city council, together with representatives of the utilities commission, this morning conferred with officials of the London Street Railway Company on the subject of Sunday service to Springbank Park. The mayor stated afterwards that a further conference would be held, and that in all probability a definite decision would be reached before the end of the present week.

Must Be Satisfactory. Asked whether indications pointed to a settlement which would be satisfactory to the city, the mayor stated that he was not prepared at that point. He said, however, that unless the arrangement which would be made, it is to be inferred, that before the end of the week the question of whether a Sunday service will be given to Springbank will have been settled one way or the other.

Up to President. Manager C. R. King said he was not prepared to say what agreement the company would offer until word was received from the president, C. H. Currie of Akron, Ohio. He said, however, that he was confident that the company had never before in its history had been asked to make such an agreement in time to commence the summer season, and with a desire to comply with that request the subject was referred to President Currie, who had been asked to arrange for a conference this week.

Mr. King declared he was not in a position to indicate at present even approximately what the company would be prepared to accept. He said, however, that the company's action would not largely depend on his recommendation. Mr. King said he would make any recommendation until the conference, and in the meantime preferred to say nothing at all.

Not Official. Mr. King also declared that the statement made to the city council last night by a member of a deputations that the company was willing to give a Sunday service to Springbank for a five-cent fare was not official of the company. He added:

"The simple reason that we do not know what