

FORD WILL RUN, BUT WON'T WIN, SAYS HAPGOOD

Manufacturer Too Unsound in Basic Views to Capture Presidency

May Captain the Democrats

Race, Speaker Believes—
Hoover Republican Second Choice.

(New York Tribune.)

Henry Ford is virtually certain to run for the Presidency, but he will not be elected, Norman Hapgood, former Minister to Denmark and editor of "Heart's International" magazine, told 150 members of the Civitan Club at a luncheon yesterday at the Astor.

"The people are fairly quick to smell out a lack of practical adaptability, as witness the case of Bryan," said Mr. Hapgood, "and they do not elect men to the Presidency who give the impression of extreme unsoundness on important questions."

"If Mr. Ford were to be nominated or to run on a third ticket something would be almost certain to happen during the summer of the campaign, like his peace ship project or Jew-mania, which would make him wholly unacceptable."

The Detroit industrialist, characterized by the speaker as "the greatest manufacturing genius alive today" and "the country's most fertile thinker on the subjects of the railroads, mines, forests, etc.," has no chance to win the Republican nomination, but might become the Democratic standard-bearer if he showed sufficient strength in the primaries.

Boon Alarms Old Parties.
Leaders of both old parties are alarmed at the increasing strength of the Ford-for-President movement and regard it as the most important development of this early stage of the 1924 campaign, he said.

"The Ford Presidential movement is being taken seriously by the politicians, many of whom are undoubtedly frightened," Mr. Hapgood said. "One of the reasons for its formidable aspect is the sinking of party lines. The people undoubtedly are dissatisfied with their leadership, and in looking around they see that Ford is the outstanding non-political figure of the country."

Politicians in Ill-Favor.
"That public discontent with politicians," he went on, "is one of his highest elements of strength. The people, many of whom are undoubtedly dissatisfied with their leadership, and in looking around they see that Ford is the outstanding non-political figure of the country."

CASSED OVERSEAS SHELL SHOCKED and RHEUMATISM

Mr. F. M. Blaquiere, Morinville, Alta., writes:—"After three years' service overseas I returned to Canada almost a complete wreck. I had been gassed, and was suffering from shell shock and rheumatism, and was so nervous I could not sleep at night. I tried many medicines and doctors, but none of them did me any good for my length of time. I got so bad, in the Fall of 1919, my hands were so shaky I could scarcely hold anything, and it seemed as if I had a steel band pressing on my head. The least excitement would almost drive me into fits, and my whole system seemed to be in disorder. I had cramps in my legs nearly every night, and hot and cold chills running up and down my back nearly all the time. One day I decided to try Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and after I had taken six boxes I began to feel better. I kept on using them and after a while I was completely relieved."

effector of labor, but not a believer in industrial democracy.

"The money will be of relative unimportance because he could not use enough of it, but the organization furnished by his business concerns would count for a good deal. Many of his dealers helped him in his anti-Jewish campaign."

Summing up his reasons for minimizing Ford's chances for the Presidency, Mr. Hapgood said:

"Although the people often behave like a drome of jackasses, there is something sound in their instincts. And, although Ford is a very great genius on the lines of industry, I believe he is remote from so many great questions so isolated and so ignorant that they will reject him as they have before this rejected men who excited them but did not gain their sober political confidence."

Mr. Hapgood was introduced by A. M. Austin, vice-president of the Civitan Club, who presided at the luncheon.

JEWS URGED TO REVIVE RELIGION

Leaders in All Parts of the U. S. Hear Strong Pleas for Aggressive Drive—Indifference to Faith Scored.

New York, Jan. 26.—More than 2,500 Jewish leaders from every section of the United States who gathered this week at the Hotel Astor for the golden jubilee convention of the Union of American Hebrew Congregations, were urged by speakers to undertake a vigorous programme for the revival of Jewish religion and learning and for a war against the indifference to their inherited faith, which was admitted to be spreading, especially among the younger generation.

The prevalence of apathy and the increase of anti-Semitism were considered as cause and effect by some of the speakers and the remedy for each was declared to be a greater loyalty by Jews to the Jewish faith.

Urges More Judaism.
"The antidote for an anti-Jewish spirit," said Louis Marshall in his address of welcome, applying the term "anti-Jewish spirit" to indifference on the part of Jews and hostility on the part of others, "is more Judaism." He continued: "Nobody has ventured seriously to question the Americanism of those of our fathers who have come here and have remained faithful to their religious groups to which they belong, whether they be Unitarian, or Protestant, or Catholic. Why, then, should there be any question as to the Americanism of those who remain faithful to the oldest of all religions, Judaism—a religion from whose book of books there are inscribed on the bell which resonates from Independence Hall: 'Proclaim liberty throughout the land and to all the inhabitants thereof.'"

"To question the Americanism of the Jew, whose entire history has fitted him to live under a government of laws, whose religious training has taught him the blessings of self-restraint and obedience to authority, it is a pitiable misunderstanding and misconception. One of the most significant evils of the present day has been the tendency toward revolt against authority, of disrespect for the laws of the land and even for the constitution."

Taught to Obey Law.
"The Jew has been taught for 100 generations to obey the law, however onerous it may seem to be. The yoke of the Torah was felt by our ancestors but it was regarded as a blessing and not as a curse. Those familiar with the Jewish dietary laws smile at the storm that is raging from one end of the country to the other because of the operation of the 18th amendment and of the Volstead law. Would that many of our 150 per cent. Americans emulate our ancestors in their religious submission to the voice of authority, which has taught them to obey, and to bear, not merely to hear and not obey."

"There are yet others who anxiously cry, 'What of our detractors, who of our enemies, what of those who willfully misunderstand us?' My answer is, ignore them! Let us be true to ourselves. Let us hold fast to Judaism, let us remain loyal to the synagogue, let us will then outlast any storm that may brew. We are not without experience in contumely and obloquy. We have witnessed the accounts of hate and hostility for many centuries. Every age has witnessed the rise and fall of bitter enemies."

"An aim, then, remain true to ourselves and to our country. Let us joyfully do our part as American citizens. Let us fearlessly perform our duties to the household of Israel by maintaining and elevating the synagogue and all of its works, to the end that we may verify the prophetic words of Isaiah that 'The earth shall be full of the knowledge of the Lord as the waters cover the sea.'"

Purpose of Convention.
The purpose of the convention is to awaken in the American Jew a sense of his religious consciousness, according to Daniel P. Hayes, who was elected permanent chairman of the convention. The vice-chairman elected today were two of the oldest members of the union, Simon Wolf of Washington, D. C., and Josiah Cohen of Pittsburgh. A great demonstration was made in their honor. Dr. George Zepin was elected secretary and Rabbi Jacob Schwartz assistant secretary. On taking the chair Mr. Hayes said:

"An attachment to race—a feeling of kinship for our suffering brethren here and abroad which prompts American Jews to contribute toward the economic rehabilitation of Palestine, to sustain institutions here for the relief of the sick and unfortunate or to send money to Europe to lighten the burden of poverty and persecution, are worthy impulses of the human heart. They may be influenced by a code of ethics which all civilized people believe in today, and if ethics on our part is the only motive power, why retain our separateness?"

"Judaism is a religion, the mother of all religions. It is the spiritual legacy of the Jew and has enriched the civilization of the world by a knowledge of God and all that makes for righteousness."

According to Mr. Hayes, the greatest menace to the future of the Jewish religion was the failure to provide religious education for the young Jew. Reform Judaism is imbued with the American principle of tolerance, according to Dr. Julian Morgenstern, president of the Hebrew Union College.

FIERY, ITCHY SKIN QUICKLY SOOTHED WITH SULPHUR

Mentho-Sulphur, a pleasant cream, will soothe and heal skin that is irritated or broken out with eczema; that is covered with ugly rash or pimples, or is itchy or dry. Nothing subdues fiery skin eruptions so quickly, says a noted skin specialist.

The moment this sulphur preparation is applied the itching stops and after two or three applications, the eczema is gone and the skin is delightfully clear and smooth. Sulphur is so precious as a skin remedy because it destroys the parasites that cause the burning, itching or disfigurement. Mentho-Sulphur always heals eczema right up.

A small jar of Rowley's Mentho-Sulphur may be had at any good drug store.

COMMON COUNCIL CONSIDERS GRANTS

At the afternoon session of the Common Council yesterday several civic grants were passed. A letter was received from Mrs. J. W. V. Lawlor protesting against a grant to the Free Kindergarten Association. She was formerly secretary of that body. The Mayor said he had looked carefully into the matter and had found that the management of the funds was in very capable hands. The grant of $2,500 was passed.

It was announced at the opening of the afternoon session that the following amounts will be included in this year's assessment: General estimates—over expenditure, $12,626.83; city survey, $13,000; Scheidehelm report, $7,117.83; interest and sinking fund, $44,160.

Civic grants next were taken up. Seamen's Institute asked for $250 for the year but as their financial statement showed a credit balance, on motion of Commissioner Thornton, it was decided to make no grant for the institute this year.

Other grants adopted without extended discussion were:
