Those given out were six permanent and eighteen temporary for men and ten permanent and ten temporary for women. There were 141 registrations recorded, including twenty-seven women.

COLLAR BONE BROKEN.

Many friends of Kenneth Hanington, 174 Duke street, will regret to learn of an accident which occurred last night. While he was walking along Sydney street he had the misfortune to slip on the ice and fall heavily, causing a fracture of the right collar bone. A companion and another young fellow who volunteered his services were able to get him into the house of a friend, where he was attended by Dr. C. Malcolm and Dr. F. T. Dunlop. He is resting comfortably and seems as well as can be expected after his painful accident.

SOUTH END RINK.

The South End Improvement League have built a very comfortable structure for checking purposes on the edge of their skating rink. It contains separate rooms for boys and girls, with a stove in each room, and is very comfortable. The young people are able now to do their skating and step out on the rink with the greatest ease. The south end rink is larger than last year, and has a beautiful view of the city. There are two caretakers, who keep the ice in excellent condition, and the rink is a great pleasure to the people of the south end, especially the younger portion. Roy Cameron, chairman of the rink committee, has strong support by other south end citizens, who take a great interest in this community playground.

MADE IT A DUET.

There may be people that do not believe in advertising pay, but the two newsboys who took shelter from the storm on Saturday afternoon in the doorway of the King street, are apparently convinced of the truth of the maxim. Evidently thinking they were not getting their share of notice from the crowds passing by merely shouting out the names of the papers against the heavy opposition from the wind and driving snow, they combined voices and after a few rehearsals they found the sound a trifle harsh to the ears of the passers-by and they were at once retrained. They were now singing a duet and their voices were heard by all pedestrians passing that spot realized that papers were for sale.

DRESS FOR COLD WHEN YOU GO TO THE LAKE RACES

Now that the success of the Canadian national skating championships, scheduled to be held at Lily Lake next Wednesday and Thursday, is assured, so far as entries are concerned, it behooves citizens who are planning to attend the meet to make arrangements to get themselves in trim for the big event. Those who were operators at the maritime skating championships on the East End grounds, last winter, will recall that, despite the warm sunshine which prevailed that afternoon, standing on the ice for a considerable period, subjected to a breeze, proved rather chilly business. It would be well, therefore, for people who intend to go to the races to make up their minds that they are not going to a tea party, but winter sports, and that they should dress accordingly. Usually, the cold strikes the feet first, and once those extremities are chilled, the joy of living becomes tinged with impatience, to say the least. Experience has determined that overboots or moccasins over several pairs of stockings or socks, as the case calls for, give the best results.

The body should be clad for comfort and not for style, and warm gloves or mitts should be carried. In addition, a blanket or rug will prove of great value as a shield from the wind and also as a seat should one become leg-weary.

In general, garments and accessories such as are worn on snow-shoeing and tobogganing excursions will give good results, and will tend to contribute largely to the success of the meet from the spectators' standpoint.

RE HYDRO MATTERS

Statement Made by Mayor Schofield This Morning.

The Mayor said this morning that he had just had an opportunity of reading the newspaper accounts of a meeting held on Thursday night, and the apparent action of the citizens committee in favor of municipal ownership for the extension of the water and the industries involved in the same.

From the newspaper accounts, this meeting represented some 50 persons, some of whom might not be taxpayers, and as there would be some 17,000 taxpayers who were not there, he felt it his duty to say just a word or two, to the effect that those who were not there could rest assured that every effort was being made to bet at a correct interpretation of the whole situation, and that immediately definite information was available on this subject, it would be presented to the public, and all papers in connection herewith laid on the table, but that until such time as this information would all be available, he had hoped that every one might realize that the only interest of the city council had in front of them were the taxpayers, and so far as he was concerned, and he felt sure so far as the rest of the council were concerned, although he did not care to speak for them, that no one was tied up in any way to anybody whatever in connection with this matter, but that everyone had absolutely in mind the taxpayer and when the facts are ready to present, whatever way shows a fair situation, he could assure them that that is the way the council would act.

Every effort is being made to get the best bargain possible from all sides and he was glad to see that in a newer effort submitted by the hydro commission, there was some further co-operation expressed by the commission which he hoped would work out to the benefit of all concerned as well.

A good deal of discussion, he said, seems to be taking place without many of the facts being available, and seeing that the contract itself has not been laid on the table yet, it was premature to take up all this discussion, and while the contract was one that hardly any business man anywhere would consider on a business basis, yet it might be possible to consider it in the interest of all concerned if there is a saving to be made. He had nothing more to say except that the 17,000 odd taxpayers, who were not at the meeting referred to could rest assured that the fullest information will be given them as soon as the facts are available.

MINISTERS ON WATCH TOWER

Appoint Committee Relative to Temperance Legislation in Province.

The weekly meeting of the Methodist Ministerial Association of the city was held this morning in Centenary church. The ministers present were: Rev. Messrs. Neil MacLauchlan, Dr. Steele, R. G. Fulton, L. Wasson, H. E. Thomas, P. E. Styles, J. M. Rice, William Lawson, J. Henney and H. B. Clarke. The only minister absent was Rev. J. K. King, who is ill. This was the first meeting of the New Year and encouraging reports of the watch night services were given. There was a lengthy discussion on the present condition of temperance affairs in the province. The following resolution was passed unanimously by the meeting. That a committee be appointed to watch the question of temperance in New Brunswick, so far as the legislation is concerned, and to co-operate with any similar committee that may be appointed by any other organization. The committee was appointed as follows: Rev. Messrs. H. E. Thomas, R. G. Fulton, Neil MacLauchlan, and H. A. Goodwin.

PRODUCE PRICES.

(Hartland Observer).

On Friday potatoes advanced to $2 a barrel, but the markets were speedily swamped so that in two days there was absolutely no sale. There already have been shipped this season as many carloads as were shipped the whole of last season and the country is still full of potatoes. Dealers have been hit harder by the slump than the farmers, as most of them have thousands of barrels for which they paid the farmers as high as $3. Some bought at $4. The big markets are still loaded down with the stock that was rushed in last September and October, at which time many dealers bought largely on speculation.

Today local dealers are paying $1.50 for cobbles and $1.75 for mountains. Hay is firm at $22 and oats bring 45 cents. Butter, 25 cents; eggs, 60 cents.

The Observer of this week ten years ago quotes potatoes, $1.10; hay, $8.00; oats, 35 cents; butter, 20 cents; eggs, 25 cents. Farmers can comfort themselves by looking backward a few years.
