TELLS DYSPEPTICS WHAT TO EAT

Avoid Indigestion, Sour Acid Stomach, Heartburn, Gas on Stomach, Etc.

Indigestion and practically all forms of stomach trouble, say medical authorities, are due nine times out of ten to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach. Chronic "acid stomach" is exceedingly dangerous and sufferers should do either one of two things.

Either they can go on a limited and often disagreeable diet, avoiding foods that disagree with them, that irritate the stomach and lead to excess acid secretion or they can eat as they please in reason and make it a practice to counteract the effect of the harmful acid and prevent the formation of gas, sourness or premature fermentation by the use of a little Bismarck Magnesia at their meals.

There is probably no better, safer or more reliable stomach antacid than Bismarck Magnesia and it is widely used for this purpose. It has no direct action on the stomach and is not a digestant. But a teaspoonful of the powder or a couple of five grain tablets taken in a little water with the food will neutralize the excess acidity which may be present and prevent its further formation. This removes the whole cause of the trouble and the meal digests naturally and healthfully without need of peppin pills or artificial digestants.

Get a few ounces of Bismarck Magnesia from any reliable druggist. Ask for either powder or tablets. It never comes as a liquid, milk or citrate and the bisulphate form is not a laxative. Try this plan and eat what you want at your next meal and see if this isn't the best advice you ever had on "what to eat."

AUSTRIAN TREATY SIGNED: RENNER'S NAME FIRST

HISTORY OF THE NEGOTIATIONS.

Today's ceremony at St. Germain brings to a close three months of negotiation between the Austrian republic and the Allied and associated powers. An incomplete draft of the conditions of peace was handed the Austrian delegates at St. Germain on June 2, the reserved sections, relating to the military, financial, reparations and some boundary features of the treaty being presented on July 20. The Austrian government laid its counter-proposals before the peace conference last month and the answer to the Austrian delegation was made on Sept. 2.

China, which did not sign the treaty with Germany because of the inclusion in that convention of the section giving to Japan the German rights and concessions in the province of Shantung, announced last week she would sign the treaty with Austria so that she would be able to join the League of Nations. The Austrian republic, representatives of which signed the treaty today, is very different from the proud Austria-Hungarian empire of 1914. The former provinces of Bohemia and Moravia and a part of the Duchy of Teschen now form the republic of Czechoslovakia. The remainder of Austria and most of Galicia have been incorporated into Poland and the new Ukrainian republic takes certain sections in Eastern Galicia and the former Austrian crown land of Bukovina. Hungary has separated from Austria along the historic boundary between those portions of the province of Transylvania, which has been awarded to Roumania.

On the south, the provinces of Carinthia, Dalmatia, Carniola, Croatia and Slavonia, Bosnia and Herzegovina, as well as parts of Styria, are included in conjunction with Serbia into the new Yugoslavia kingdom. Parts of Tyrol are taken over by Italy, the boundaries of which are also extended so as to include the Italian peninsula and a strip along the western frontier of the province of Carinthia.

All, therefore, that remains of the former empire is what is known as German-Austria, including Upper and Lower Austria, and parts of Styria and of Tyrol.

NOT JOIN GERMANY.

Since the close of hostilities there has been a movement afoot by which Austria would be annexed by Germany. By the most important clause of the treaty signed today this is forbidden. "The treaty does not stipulate an exact sum to be paid in indemnities, but the amount will be fixed by the reparations commission on or before May 1, 1921. The commission is also empowered to determine the details of the payments to be made by the component parts of the country which have been declared independent.

In addition to paying indemnities, Austria must also replace ton for ton all ships lost by the Allies through the activities of the Austrian navy during the war, and physically restore invaded areas. She is also to deliver up to Allied countries works of art and objects of historic value which were carried away by the Austrian army in 1914 and 1915. Austria's army is reduced to 30,000 men on a purely voluntary basis and all her military establishments are cut in a proportionate manner. The entire Austrian naval fleet is to be handed over to the Allies, all warships under construction being broken up and the sea and air force is to be used except for industrial purposes.

The economic clauses and those relative to freedom of transit are similar to those of the German pact. Questions relative to the disposition of the city of Fiume are not settled in the Austrian treaty, but Austria renounces in favor of the Allied and associated powers all her rights and titles over territories formerly belonging to her which, though outside the new frontiers of Austria, have not previously been assigned to any state. She undertakes to accept any settlement made in regard to those territories.
