JAPANESE GENERAL TELLS OF FORMOSA

People Brave But Naked Savages, Worshipping Moon and Monkeys

In connection with the operation of the Japanese against the aboriginal inhabitants of the island of Formosa, the Japanese governor of that island has recently given some interesting observations on the people and their customs. He says: "The number of aborigines is said by different people at from 10,000 to 60,000 people. At Taroko they have a considerable armament, including some cannon, and they are capable of giving considerable annoyance. It appears that these people are childishly superstitious, and that they place the most implicit reliance in, and accord the most unreasoning allegiance to their chiefs. Therefore, if they once make up their minds to surrender, they can be subsequently counted on. They worship the moon and the monkey, and it is on record that some years ago, when a Chinese ship approached Taiko on the east coast, the light at the mainmast was mistaken by the aborigines for the moon, and they offered no resistance. The Formosan aborigines seem to illustrate the law of protection by mimicry. They wear no clothes, except a narrow waist band, and their skin has assumed a hue closely resembling that of the earth, so that when they are in a forest and have donned their usual head-dress, namely, a chaplet of leaves or a wisp of grass, they are scarcely distinguished from their environment. They are said to be extraordinarily skilled marksmen, scarcely one of their bullets failing to find its mark. Such folk must prove very difficult to deal with in a military sense. The women act as baggage-carriers, and their agility is extraordinary. They have by this time learned that the wire entanglements charged with electricity is a serious obstacle when one comes in direct contact with it. Accordingly they throw logs of wood on the wires or cut the posts, and they move over it unscathed for their raids on the Aiyu lines. Their arms are mostly old-pattern rifles, but they have learned to use them with great skill. Their stock of ammunition, however, cannot last much longer, as strenuous precautions are taken to prevent the coast coast as to prevent any smuggling of weapons of war. General Sakuma is quoted as saying that these aborigines, although they are little removed from savages, have a strong feeling of patriotism and are as brave as men can be. The soles of their feet are like leather, so that they can traverse ground of any nature. They are in possession of a good many excellent rifles, of the Mauser and Sauer patterns, and it is reckoned that they have about 50,000 rounds of ammunition. They fight always at position from 500 to 800 feet above sea level, and in the thick forests that grow there immense difficulty is encountered by the troops. The Japanese have orders never to fire a shot without taking careful aim, and thus the war resolves itself into a series of duels between individuals. The general is further alleged to have said that the Formosan aborigines seem to have a racial likeness to the Japanese, but the Japan Mail says the proofs he adduces are not convincing. Certainly the resistance successfully offered by these aborigines to the attempts made in former days by the Chinese, the Dutch and the Spaniards to subjugate them shows that they are a brave and resolute people.

GOVERNOR-GENERAL REACHES CAPITAL

His Excellency Will Start on Trip

Second

Ottawa, July 21.—Earl and Countess arrived at the capital this afternoon after six weeks' absence in England. Their Excellencies leave for Winnipeg on August 2nd, and from there the governor-general starts on his Hudson Bay trip and Her Excellency goes west to spend a month among the Canadian Rockies. BODY FOUND.

Vancouver, July 21.—A. H. Povey, of Esquimalt, was drowned at Eagle river. The body was found by Constable Lucas of Van Andra, in the river. Povey was about 38 years of age, and from the letters found on him it is believed that he had a wife and child living in the Old Country. He arrived at St. John Bay about three weeks ago and stated that he had been employed as cook in one of the camps of the Brooks-Scanlon-O'Brien Company. He did not leave for the camp, however, and as he acted peculiarly it is thought he was slightly demented. The body was badly decomposed and was buried on the spot.

ARRANGED OWN FUNERAL.
Rochester, N. Y., July 25.—N. J. Coghlan, superintendent of a hospital at Woodward, Oklahoma, died Saturday at the home of his father-in-law in Canisteo as the result of an overdose of chloral believed to have been taken with suicidal intent. Coghlan's wife died several weeks ago, and the body was taken to Canisteo for burial. Coghlan was despondent, and on Thursday walked into an undertaker's shop, handed the proprietor his card and said: "If anything should happen to me I want you to look after me." The next morning he was found unconscious.

JUVENILE COURT AT VANCOUVER

Probation Officer Tells of His Work—Methods Have Proved Successful

Vancouver, July 21.—Probation Officer Collier, speaking at the meeting of the Juvenile Protective Association, told something of the progress that is being made in the work of the juvenile court in this city. Twenty-two youthful delinquents, who have committed altogether thirty-one offences, have been dealt with. Mr. Collier explained that as yet it had scarcely been possible to inaugurate a complete system for conducting the work, and that consequently he did not have any formal report prepared, but a number of these cases had been successfully handled by simply calling at the homes of the children, with the result that such visits alone had worked a complete reformation. At the present time there are four boys in the detention home awaiting a final disposition of their cases. Magistrate Bull is heartily in sympathy with the work of the Juvenile Protective Association, and has conducted the work along the lines originally intended. No official evidence is taken. The boys are put upon their honor and are treated as if they were one of a large family, each of whom requires occasional correction and rebuke from his fellows. The success of this method of dealing with juvenile offenders has been amply demonstrated by Judge Lindsay, of Denver, who may be called the pioneer in this juvenile court work. Most of the boys have not been detained more than forty-eight hours, while one has been in the detention home for nearly four weeks. The case of one young girl is also pending.

SMUGGLING OPIUM INTO THE STATES

Member of Cabinet Will Make an Investigation When He Visits
the Coast

Washington, D. C., July 25.—Officials of the department of commerce and labor admit that certain immigration officials on the Pacific coast have fled charges against other officials in the service and that an investigation is under way. Although the officials denied that a shakeup is imminent, it was intimated that Secretary Nagle possibly would take summary action when he visits the coast next month. "The trouble is of long standing," said an official in the department. "We do not think anything is likely to develop at the present time as a survey view of the charges does not indicate that they are well founded." But Secretary Nagle certainly will investigate the service when he visits the Pacific coast.

ANOTHER ADVANCE IN FLOUR PRICES

Quotations on Wheat Are Steadily
Rising in Pacific Northwest
States

Portland, Ore., July 22.—Dollar wheat and $5 flour are again in sight—likewise smaller loaves of bread for consumption. With wheat prices advancing daily, both here and in Chicago, with Liverpool, Berlin, Paris, Antwerp and Budapest each giving out an advanced price for the cereal almost every day, the outlook for dollar wheat could scarcely be improved over the present one. Millers are to-day freely offering 33 cents a bushel for bluestem wheat based on track delivery at Portland and it is stated that a cent or two more than this could be readily obtained for a quality above the average. The Pacific Northwest is yielding its best quality wheat the present year and therefore it would take something exceedingly good to range above the average. In company with the advance of three cents a bushel in the price of wheat to-day, millers announce an advance of 20 cents a barrel in the price of patent hard wheat flour for tomorrow morning. An advance of 25 cents a barrel will be made at the same time in straight grade and 10 cents in Willamette valley soft wheat brands. The latter are still quoted at a price higher than the best flour.

ATTEMPT TO STOP WORK ON STREET

More Demonstrations by Strikers at Vancouver—Number of Industrial Workers Arrested

Vancouver, July 22.—After three days' simmering of the troubles between the contractors and their Italian laborers, parades, mild demonstrations and the calling out of other workmen in different parts of the city, the first arrest was made yesterday in Grandview. The accused gives his name as Joseph Weir and claims allegiance to the Industrial Workers of the World. The arrest was made in connection with a demonstration by strikers in Grandview. Weir refused to move back at the command of the detectives who were sent to the scene. Other attempts were made by the Italians to stop work on the streets but there was no violence, and no more arrests were made. Contractors engaged on city work believe they have found a solution of the labor problem by which they are at present confronted as the result of the striking of their Italian workmen for a higher rate of pay. This consists of the importation from eastern Canada of a large number of laborers who are now in Montreal and who are open to engagement.

COMMITTED FOR TRIAL

Vancouver, July 21.—A charge of wounding with intent to murder laid against a Japanese named S. Wadocobi, who was brought down from Prince Rupert by Chief Provincial Constable C. S. Campbell, may develop into something far more serious, since the man who was wounded is now dead. The trouble occurred at a mining camp near Jedway on Moresby Island. Wadocobi says he was lying in his bunk in the bunkhouse when Kawasaki, the deceased, came in with a knife and a club and tried to start a row with him. The prisoner told Kawasaki to go away, but he refused to leave and was attacking towards him with a knife in his hand, when Wadocobi seized him by the wrist, and getting the knife from him turned and slashed the deceased, came in with a knife and a club and tried to start a row with him.
