

TRUST IN GOD
Print in God! thou suffering spirit,
Sighing, striving, in anxiety,
Oh the little ring of earth,
Days which have not been their birth,
Sleep! dreams of heaven's brighting,
Roused warms and disparting,
Trust in God! thou poor beset,
Traveller on a path unlighted,
Weak, feeble, and loneless mortal,
Resting on to death's dark portal,
Trust in God! thy trouble's ending,
Soon shall dawn a brighter morning,
Trust in God! Oh! firm reliance,
With this we bid to fade defiance,
Trust in God! Oh! joy unmeasured,
In our hearts' hearts be thou treasured.

A preacher, advocating the generous support of an important charitable object, prefaced the circulation of the contribution boxes with this address to his hearers:— "From the great sympathy I have witnessed in your countenances, and the strict attention you have bestowed on me with, there is only one thing that I am afraid of, that some of you may feel inclined to give too much. Now, it is my duty to inform you, that justice, though not pleasant, yet should always be a prior virtue to generosity; therefore, as you will be immediately waited upon by your respective pews, I wish to have it thoroughly understood that no person will think of putting any thing into the box which cannot pay his debts." The result was an overflowing collection.

HEROISM AND GENEROSITY OF A SLAVE.—During the late earthquake at Point Petre, a gentleman was rescued from death by the heroic efforts of a slave. He was immediately offered a handsome reward for his humanity. "No, no," said the generous fellow, "nothing for money to-day—only for the love of God." His story scarcely records a nobler sentiment. The colonial court voted him 3,000 fr. to purchase his freedom, and 500 fr. for an outfit in his new career.

PENITENT FORGIVEN.—It is a common idea that the most income military despatch ever issued was sent by Cosart to the Horse Guards at Home, containing the three memorable words "Fini, eidi, eidi," and perhaps, until our own day, no like instance of brevity has been found. The despatch of Sir Chas. Napier, after the capture of Seind, to Lord Ellenborough, both for brevity and truth, is, however, far beyond it. The despatch consisted of one emphatic word—"Peccati," "I have sinned," (stand.)

It is now discovered that highway robbery is but a species of Mesmerism, and that when a foot-pat puts himself in communication with a traveller, clapping at the same time a pistol to his breast, and telling him to "stand and deliver" the dismayed traveller, in obeying the injunction, is but acting in accordance with Mesmeric impulses, or in obedience to the will of the operator.

ANTHONY OF THE THOMBSON.—The trombone, or subot, has the advantage of being the only instrument, besides the voice and the bell, which has perfect command over its intonation, and is capable of executing correct harmony in any succession of keys. For this reason it may be assumed that the subot will some day enact a higher role than at present. The instruments in actual use have been fashioned after a specimen found in Herculaneum and presented by the King of Naples to George III.

Father Dickson being asked "why Daniel O'Connell made so bad a speech in defence of the traversers at the state trial"—the Father of the Irish republic—"Because Dan was speaking against his own conviction."
