The Toy Industry.

This is becoming a very important subject in Canada, and we have pleasure in reprinting part of an editorial from The Kingston Standard of recent date:

"The war has brought about our first opportunity to establish a trade. Canada must do her share, not only in making her own toys, but in securing the trade in this as far as possible, as hitherto held by the enemy countries. Already inquiries have come from Great Britain, as to how far Canada can fill her toy requirements.

"Everything will be done by the Dominion Government to foster the trade. Now we would point out how women can help in doing so. Women themselves have shown how they can do so; and we are glad to use the words they used in a resolution passed at a meeting of many women's organizations held in Toronto. The resolution was presented by Mrs. Torrington, president of National Council of Women, and seconded by Mrs. E. F. D. Johnston, representing the I.O.P.E. 'Whereas women being the chief purchasers of toys, have it in their power materially to assist or hamper the Made-in-Canada principle in respect to toys, and whereas the representatives of the women's organizations here assembled, learn with satisfaction that the Canadian manufacturers of dolls and toys, who have exhibited at the Toronto Toy Fair have agreed to make use of a Made-in-Canada stamp on all dolls and toys, so that the purchaser may be assured the genuineness of the article bought. Be it therefore resolved that we respectfully urge the Department of Trade and Commerce of the Dominion of Canada to bring this matter to the knowledge of as many Canadian women as possible, through associations, clubs, institutes and individuals, as we feel confident that the great majority of our women will do all in their power to help the Canadian made toys, and if they must have imported toys, will buy only those manufactured by Allied nations."

That is a splendid resolution, but it only goes so far. Next we must start the toy industry, if not in factories in the homes. Few people know that two New Brunswick girls have been for several years making wooden toys, which find a ready market in Montreal and other large Canadian cities. There is absolutely no reason why in our province where wood is more than plentiful, our Canadians should not manufacture hand made toys as do the people of other nations.

Rather a "something wanting" look about this picture, but it is the full skirts and old pockets to which I would call your attention. Plenty of room to run up to the net for a ball at tennis, or take a long stride on a golf course.

Towards the $65,000 needed to complete Lady Hardinge's Women's Medical Hospital at Delhi the Viceroy has received $35,000. Anxious to make some offering to the wounded soldiers, children of the Poor Law Home, Neasden-lane, Willesden, have denied themselves of the only thing they have to give—their Sunday allowance of cake. This they take every week to the nearest military hospital.

Just Stripes Anyhow.

Now she rushes pell-mell to her favorite store to buy striped silk, wool, linen or cotton to make anything from a collar to an entire costume.

Perhaps the striped serves best in two ways. In taffeta frocks it plays its part successfully, while the awning stripe effects are delights either in the skirts or coats of sports suits.

The striped hat which blossomed last year is with us again and it is in high favor. Some straw braids are in stripes also.

Striped effects are also gotten with trimmings. Note the braided edge of the coat captioned "tailored chic."

Braid, ribbon or strapping may also serve lengthwise, so that one may assume a stripe though one has not.

Sunday School Supt. Tell

How "Fruit-a-Lives" Relieved

Toronto, Ont., Oct. 1st, 1913.

"I have lived in this city for more than twelve years and am well known. I suffered from Rheumatism, especially in my hands. I spent a lot of money without any good results. I have taken 'Fruit-a-Lives' for eighteen months now and am pleased to tell you that I am well. All the enlargement has not left my hands, and perhaps never will, but the soreness is all gone and I can do any kind of work. I have gained thirty-five pounds in eighteen months."

EXTRACTS FROM THE MAIL BAG

From a Soldier's Kiddie, Jordan Mt.

Dear Uncle Dick:—

I am writing to you again to have another chat with you. I am awfully glad to tell you that my papa is getting much better. I would like to see him again, and I am sure he would like to see me again. The Robson children and I had great fun this winter coasting and skating. I haven't started to school yet. I think I will have to close for this time, with best wishes.

Your loving nephew,
Orra J. Tait.

Tried Hard to Paint Picture

Upper James, N. B.

Dear Uncle Dick:—

I have tried to paint this little picture as best I could. It is the first I have ever painted, and the gold looks kind of scarce around the edges, it is all I had and I couldn't make any more, as it kind of a scarce article these days. Well Uncle, this is a dreadful war isn't it. One of my cousins which used to live in St. John, was killed last spring by a sniper. My oldest brother is talking about enlisting, but I don't know whether he will or not. I hope not because we will miss him so. And if he should get killed, I don't know what we would do. We are having beautiful weather here now. I wish it was summer. I love to much when you can pick berries and flowers, and everything seems so warm and nice. My father and brother were in the woods last winter and got a thousand logs soon as the water comes up they are going to raft them and sell them. Please excuse this writing, also if I have made any mistakes as the mail man is coming.

From your true friend,
Kathleen Fowles.

Making Up For Lost Time.

Lr. Golden Grove.

Dear Uncle Dick:—

In reading the Standard last night, I came across your competition for boys and girls, so I thought I would try. This is the first puzzle I have ever answered, out of the Standard, and I hope I succeed. In a year or so I will be over the age to answer your competitions, so I guess I had better make up for lost time. I love to read your stories and I think they are real nice. I was reading over the list of correspondents who answer your puzzles and read your stories, and I think you must have your hands full to answer them all. Well I guess I will close. Hoping to hear from you soon.

Your sincere friend,
Gladys Johnston.

Brother Was Wounded.

Jordan Mt.

Dear Uncle Dick:—

I thought I would write to you again this week. I have not heard from my brother for a week. He was going to a Con. Home then, and from there to Shorncliffe. He will then either go to the trenches or else home. He is going to write to you today. He thinks he is a great man when he saw his name in the paper. I think Eddie is going to get another boy to write to you.

Your niece,
Audrey J. Tait.

News Of The St. John Theatres Told In The Right Way

Who's Who and What's What in the Picture Game and on the Stage—Film Favorites and What They Say and Do.

IMPERIAL.

For the Easter holidays an exceptionally fine program was offered at the Imperial Theatre yesterday. All who have read stories or novels by P. Hopkinson Smith would welcome the opportunity of seeing the characters in a dramatic form. The knowledge that this portrayal of the old south wrote stories of beauty, humor and true pathos will attract many. I know I saw the last through tears but it was particularly the return of the dogs which was affecting to me. Kennedy Square is typified by St. George Temple, the beau ideal of a southern gentleman of the old school, dignified, true to his obligations and loyal to his friends. The requirements of this part could hardly have been better carried out by any other actor than Mr. Charles Kent, who both looks the part and who never exaggerates his motions. Antonio Moreno is absolutely satisfactory as the gay Harry Rutter who finds his manhood and is enabled to repay his foster-father's devotion. Winsome Muriel Ostriche makes a dainty Kate, the Belle of the South. Others in the cast are Tommy Brooke, Raymond Bloomer, Dan Jarrett, Hattie Delara, Harold Foshay, Herbert Barry and Logan Paul. The settings are perfect and I do not know how anyone could find fault with this play. There is romance aplenty, travel (as the scene shifts to South America), comedy and beauty. A pretty part is the love for their old fashioned, rag doll of the "mammy" type, wide of waist, but having a luxuriant blonde wig and blue eyes, "is Dorothy Bernard."

"But she is a little woman with very black hair and dark eyes," was suggested to Kittens.

"She is Dorothy Bernard, just the same," Kittens insisted. "I like her as Dorothy Bernard and I won't change my children's names."

Needless to say, Miss Bernard is not at all flattered by her doll-name, but candy and ice cream have been unable to make Kittens change the name.

Kittens—that is her real name, too—has played in more pictures than she is years old. (She is only five).

She has been with most of the Fox stars, including Theda Bara, Virginia Pearson, Stuart Holmes, Dorothy Bernard, Betty Nansen and many others.

"Britain Prepared."

Cinema films entitled "Britain Prepared," after being shown before the "Tear," at Petrograd, the staff and numbers of soldiers and students, are so interesting to the various fronts—Renter.

With regard to the interned British troops, says The Manchester Guardian, that the "Timbervale" troupe of entertainers has been dissolved, and there has now been formed another troupe styled the "Timbervale Minstrels," who are playing in the Dutch towns and raising a good deal of money for the sufferers by the Dutch floods. Packed houses are drawn to the entertainment, and the Dutch people pay well for admission and take a great interest in the performances. The men are stated to have formed a dramatic society, and Manchester people in particular will be interested to hear that the society.

The Elitte Duo sing, tell jokes and give tuncful music on a variety of stringed instruments. They are a study in black and white and are, a pleasing pair.

Stomach Was Bad.

Could Eat Hardly Anything.

When the stomach gets out of order the whole system seems to become affected in one way or another. The breath becomes foul, the tongue furred, the appetite becomes disturbed, nausea and vomiting occur, there is a rising and souring of food caused by the acidity of the stomach, and the stomach and bowels become distended causing flatulency. Unless these symptoms are met with immediately, dyspepsia or some other serious trouble is liable to follow, as a consequence.

That grand old remedy, Burdock Blood Bitters, has been on the market for the past forty years, and we claim, without any fear of contradiction, that there is no other medicine on the market to-day that can compare with it for the cure of all disturbances of the stomach.

L. J. R. Phillips, Plummerston, N.B., writes: "My stomach was so bad I was in pain and misery. I could eat hardly anything. I had been treated by skillful doctors for it, but they did me no good. I was giving up in despair when I happened to hear of Burdock Blood Bitters. I bought a bottle and took two bottles before I was better. I will recommend your medicine very highly to all my friends and sufferers."

Burdock Blood Bitters is manufactured only by The T. Millburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

GOOD LIST OF BOUTS FOR WEEK

In List are Some ex-Champions, Who Will Try to Make a Comeback, and Several Hopes.

Boston, April 24.—The boxing schedule for the week shows that there are a number of good bouts listed for decision. In the list are some ex-champions who are to try and make a comeback, a world's champion against an aspirant for his title, a couple of hopes will strive to show the public they are worth consideration, clashes between crack boxers from different cities and an international championship event.

The fans of this city will have an opportunity to judge how one of the leading writers here compares with one from St. Paul. That battle which is to be held at the Army A. A. tomorrow night, will bring together Eddie Mack's fighting Joe Egan and Mike O'Dowd of St. Paul. The latter has never been here before and only a few of the local fans have ever seen him in action. They say that he is a pupil of the phantom Mike Gibbons.

The St. Paul boxer has had a couple of battles in the East recently, and the sports of the cities where he boxed declare he is a good welter and is capable of making any one in the class hustle.

That recommendation, however, does not mean that he is a champion. Fred Full is seeking show how New York when he is big enough to try and win from him. Ad Wolsky is best in the treat to clever boxer becomes this.

Save your hair! Double its beauty in a few moments.

Try this!

Hair stops coming out and every particle of dandruff disappears.

Try as you will after an application of Danderuff, you can not find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair, nor your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most, will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair, thick and downy at first—yet really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

A little Danderuff immediately doubles the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderuff and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. The effect is immediate and amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy, and have an appearance of abundance; an incomparable lustre, softness and luxuriance, the beauty and shimmer of true hair.

Get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderuff from any drug store or toilet counter, and prove that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment—that's all.

Danderuff is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating, stimulating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow long, strong and beautiful.
