IS TO BE MISERABLE

The poor dyspeptic suffers untold agony after every meal, and anyone who has dyspepsia knows what joy it would give to eat three square meals a day and not be punished for it after. Nearly everything that enters the weak stomach acts as an irritant, and even the little that is eaten causes such tor-ture and is digested so imperfectly that it does little good.

Before you can eat heartily, and not pick and choose your food, you must put your stomach into such a condition that it will manufacture its own digestive Oll and Cotton. NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—Within less than a year, according to advices received by the Bankers' Trust Company of this city from its French information service, some 25 new French companies have been organized for development of France's colonial wealth. The capital of these companies ranges from 50,000 francs to 75,000,000 francs. Specific aims of the new corporations are general trade, the exploitation of forests, fishproved navigation and transportation. According to M. Sarraut, minister of the colonies, French railroad companies propose to secure necessary timber from the forests of equatorial Africa, and have combined to capitalize an organization for this purpose up to 75,000,000 francs. A concession of 100,000 hectares (about 250,000 acres) has been granted by the Government. The railroads plan to import the timber in their own ships. to import the timber in their own ships.

M. Sarraut has suggested a comprehensive program for development in the colonies which proposes the creation of a technically trained force for the work. His program would involve an outlay of 3,000,000,000 francs—2,000,000,000 for railroads, 400,000,000 for ports, 400,000,000 for improvement of waterways and irrigation, 150,000,000 for medical service and 10,000,000 for wireless installation. $700 First Prize

WHAT'S THE GREATEST DIFFERENCE?

TO PARTICIPATE IN CONTEST

This contest is open to all residents of the Province of Ontario. Solutions of the puzzle will not be accepted from outside of this territory. While addresses for delivery of the paper may be changed as desired, all communications and matter relating to the contest must pass back and forth from the original addresses of contestants. The ontest is open to men and women under the following terms:

Anyone in the Province of Ontario, upon making a subscription payment to The London-Advertiser of not less than $2.75 or more than $10.00, may submit a solution of the puzzle. You may submit as solution of the puzzle. You may submit as nany different solutions as you wish with a subscription, on payment of not less than $2.75 or more than $10.00 with each one. If you submit more than one solution, the payment with each one will be applied to extending the subscription already in force, unless otherwise directed. If you are already a subscriber, your subscription will be extended from the time last paid to, whether you receive the paper by mail or carrier. New subscriptions will be started as soon after receipt of solutions as possible. You cannot said will be made in any carrier service you are now receiving the paper through. All amounts paid will be credited on subscription at the regular rates, so you cannot lose, while standing an equal chance to win a valuable cash prize.

FACTS TO REMEMBER

while the amount you pay with a solution of the puzzle does not have any effect on your winning a prize, it does affect the amount you will receive, should you win one of the first five prizes, as the value of these prizes is determined by what the winners pay. This is explained in the prize list, which you should study carefully before sending in your solution.

The value of the first five prizes may also be increased $100 each by interesting four people who are not now subscribers to become subscribers. The sum of $25 will be added for each new subscriber, not to exceed four, Each of the new subscribers must pay not less than $2.75, and he has the privilege of entering the contest, if he wishes to do so, upon the same terms as any other contestant, the $2.75 or more up to $10.00 paid by him entitling him to submit a solution of the puzzle. Whether these new subscribers new to submit a solution of the puzzle. Whether these new subscribers submit solutions of the puzzle or not, each one must sign a separate blank, so that the records may be kept in such a way as to show by whom they were interested. If no solution is sent by a subscriber you interest, merely write across the face of the chart, "No solution submitted," and send it in attached to the blank. Any one or all of the names of any new subscribers may be sent in with your solution, or any time later you wish before the close of the contest.

Extra Charts Furnished

Those desiring extra charts to work on will be supplied with what they require if they will either call at the Advertiser contest office in person, or send a self-addressed, stamped envelope for mailing them. The office is located at 110 Dundas street. Postoffice Box 578.

If the paper is already being sent to your residence, but in the name of some other member of the family, and you do not wish an additional copy, merely answer "Yes" to the inquiry if you are already a subscriber, and attach a note to the blank stating in whose name the paper is being delivered to.

Contestants will find this puzzle offers unusual entertainment for a party of friends. If you want to pass a pleasant winter evening invite in a few friends, and give to each one a chart, and see who in a given length of time can work out the best result. It will prove to be a most interesting game. Extra charts may be secured for this purpose by calling upon the contest manager for whatever number is needed.

The best chart submitted in this contest will be reproduced in the Advertiser, so that every contestant may check it up and compare it with his or her own work.

THE PROBLEM

The problem is to draw a chain of circles once across the chart, from the first column on the left to the last column on the right, selecting the figures to encircle from which you can obtain the greatest difference between the sum total of the even and the sum total of the odd figures. The odd figures are 3, 5, 7 and 9, and the even, 2, 4, 6, 8. By "sum total" is meant the figures added together. That is, you are to take the odd figures you put circles around, and add them up; then the even figures, and the difference between the two totals is your totals is the larger; the greatest difference you can obtain either way is what counts

tain either way is what counts

The chain must be drawn in continuous sections of either three, four or five circles to a section. By "section" is meant three, four or five circles in a straight line. You may use either number of circles you wish in each section. The sections of the chain may go either up or down, or to the right, but not to the left. That is, start in the first column by drawing either three, four or five circles up or down, as you wish; then proceed to the right, then up or down again; then to the right, and so on until you reach the last column. The chain must end with either three, four or five circles in this column.

In determining the number of circles in each section count the last circle in one section as the first in the next. The figures in the corner circles, however, are to be counted but once when adding them up to get the totals of the odd and even figures. You may start at any figure you wish in the extreme left-hand column. There must be one section running up or down in this column as well as in the last column.

obtain between the sum total of the odd figures and the sum total of the even, or vice-versa. The prizes will be awarded for the greatest differences submitted, without regard to what the greatest possible difference that can be obtained may be. Only the figures you put circles around are to be considered. The following illustration will furnish a general idea for drawing your chain of circles. The illustration consists of double figures, such as 46, 69, 75, and so on, but the puzzle contains only single figures from 2 to 9. Hence the differences will be comparatively much smaller and the sum totals easier to obtain.

ILLUSTRATION

The accompanying illustration explains what a chain of circles is. The first section, it will be noted, consists of four circles; the second, The first section, it will be noted, consists of four circles; the second, three; the third, three, and so on. The sum total of the even numbers, viz., 46, 58, 92, etc., is 750, and the sum total of the odd numbers, viz., 69, 75, 83, etc., 892. The difference between these totals is 142.
