

Dr. Manion's statement of March 27th, 1939, already quoted in part, contained the followings:

"Canada can play her part in the Empire and in support of our democratic institutions by full cooperation with Britain through voluntary units, through supplying munitions, foods and other necessities to our Allies, and by fully protecting Canada's own territory."