Chatham citizens have started movement to secure North Shore representation on the delegation to b sent by the New Brunswick government to the sportsmen's show in New York. > DIDN'T KNOW Coffee Was The Cause.

Many daily habits, particularly sating and drinking, are formed ollowing our elders. In this way ill health is often fast ened upon children. A Ga. lady says: "I had been allowed to drink coffee ever since I can remember, but even as a child I had a weak stomach which frequently refused to retain food.

"The taste of coffee was in my mouth all the time and was, as I found out later, the cause of the stomach rebelling against food. "I now see that it was only from ollowing the example of my elders that I formed and continued the miserable habit of drinking coffee. My digestion remained poor, nerves un-strung, frequent headache, and yet I did not suspect the true cause.
"Another trouble was a bad, muddy

"After I was married I was asked to try Postum, and would you believe it, I, an old coffee toper, took to Pos um from the very first. Captain and Crew Ma Th rooned on Monroe Island, Maine

Vessel Starts to Assistance of Wrecked Schr. but Fails to Reach Her

Grew Escape by Climbing from End of Jibboom to Surf

ROCKLAND, Me., Feb. 10.-While trying to get in Penobscot Bay to seek Georgia of New York, Captain Smith. stayed and ran her forefoot on the bleak headland of Monroe Island, off Owl's Head, during the heavy snow squall early today. Although the capaln and crew have been unable to communicate with the mainland and are virtually marooned on the island by heavy seas, it is believed that all made their escape from the schooner by climbing from the end of the jibboom through the surf.

Unable to Reach Her A fishing schooner belonging to M. T. Jameson & Co. of Owl's Head was sent out to the assistance of the wrecked vessel, but was unable to go close n shore upon reaching the island. By the time the fishermen reached the scene the masts of the stranded schooner had fallen and the vessel was fast going to pieces on the rocks.

The fishermen could see a fire on the island and could see some men near other part of the island. It is sup-posed that the captain and crew of the Georgia, after making their escape periously from their doomed craft, ghted the fires as a beacon and the discovering the huts of the fishermer found shelter there. After running in close enough to make out the name of the schooner as the Georgia, the fishermen from Owl's Head returned and reported. It will be impossible for any boat to make a landing at the island before tomorrow. The place where the Georgia went ashore is on the southwest part of Monroe Island, which is a bleak and barren rock untenanted except by a the fishermen. It is only a few miles from Owl's Head. The Georgia was built in 1873 at Harrington, Maine, and was rebuilt completely about five years ago. Her net registered tonnage was 291, and was valued at about $8,000. She carried ordinarily a crew of six men. The Georgia was bound light from Portland for St. John, N. B., to take on a load of Tumber.
