SIDE TALKS

BY RUTH HANSEL CAMERON

MEN AND SHOPS. There is something about shops that intimidates a man. They belong to woman; the intricacies of the business of buying are woman's work. His mind recoils from trying to understand them, just as the average woman's mind recoils from trying to understand the stock market. Of course the errands I indicated above would be peculiarly trying because they are mostly women's errands, but many men are scarcely better about their own shopping. Shopping Without Entering a Store. The Cynic had some money given him Christmas. He decided to spend it on small luxuries that he would not otherwise have. He told me he went shopping the other day but didn't see anything he liked. "What shops did you go to?" I asked. "Oh, none," he said. "I just looked in windows." Again, the Authorman was bewailing the fact that his new suit was not the shade of brown he likes. "Didn't they have it anywhere?" I asked. "Oh, I only went to S's," he said. "I never go anywhere else." There is only one kind of shop most men really like to go into—a sporting goods establishment. Yet even in this fascinating realm a man will seldom visit more than one shop. And yet men think women are queer creatures.

ONTARIO TEMPERANCE ACT

There were 154 occurrences not cleared up during 1917, against 71 for 1916. The majority of these were from outside places, it being almost impossible to get the necessary information as to the result of these reports. There were 20 accidents reported to the police during 1917, against 23 for 1916; 13 sudden deaths against 10 for 1916; 6 deaths from drowning; 7 inquests. There were 64 cases of theft against 53 for 1916. There were two stores entered during the latter part of the year and a portion of the goods have been recovered in each case so far. It is gratifying to know that we had no burglaries in the city during 1917. 50 lost children were found by the police and returned to their parents during 1917, against 38 for 1916. Notwithstanding the fact of the war, the population of the city has been increased by about 1100. Brantford's population is now 27,590, not counting the suburbs, which would add about 3000 to this number. The number of cases in the police court has decreased from 1195 in 1916 to 948 in 1917, this being largely due to the closing of the bars. Although we have been short handed during the year, owing to the absence of the large number of investigations which have to be made, much credit is due to the Detectives and Sergeants and Patrolmen for the interest taken in the discharge of their various duties during the year. This extra work has been done cheerfully and willingly by all concerned. I desire again to thank our Police Magistrate, Mr. W. G. Livingston for the deep interest taken by him and the assistance he has rendered in all the work of the Police Department during 1917. In conclusion, I desire to thank your Honourable Board for the valuable assistance rendered to me during the year in the work of the Department, and the many kindnesses and courtesies shown to me at all times. I have the honour to be, Sir, Your obedient servant, CHARLES SLEMIN, Chief Constable.

A happy discovery of Cincinnati chemist interests women here

Your high heels have put corns on your toes and calluses on your feet, but why care now? A genius in Cincinnati discovered a magic stuff compound and named it Frezzone. A quarter ounce of this frezzone can now be had at any drug store for a few cents. Apply a few drops on your tender, aching corn or callus. Instantly the soreness disappears and shortly you will find the corn or callus so shriveled and loose that you lift it off with your fingers. Just think! You get rid of a hard corn, soft corn or a corn between the toes, as well as hardened calluses for a few cents and without suffering one particle without the slightest irritation of the surrounding skin. Just a touch of this marvelous frezzone on a sore, troublesome corn gives instant relief.
