Judge Bell Fines Grice, Convicted of Assault, Five Dollars.

Jury Recommended Mercy and There Were Extenuating Circumstances.

The case of Chrysler vs. Allen, occupied the attention of the court all yesterday afternoon. This was ap action over a promissory note for $245, date 1896. The defendant denied making the note at all. The defendant also claimed that no consideration was given for the note, and it was given to the plaintiff only to discount it for the makers. Judgment was given for the defendant with

The June session of the county court resumed this morning at 9,30. The grand jury brought in true bills in both criminal cases, Rex vs. Millard Smith, perjury, and Rex. vs. Grice, assault. As Smith's counsel wasn't present, the jury was called in the case of Rex. vs. Grice. The following were the jurymen chosen—Duncan Gillis, William Grandbois, Alex. Dale, O. Gage, Melvin Kelly, J. B. Parker, Jas Parish, A. J. Bechard, Watson Rus-sell, Lachlan Galbraith, John M. Doyle and J. F. Dolsen.

A lad struck Tom Grice with a clod of mud. Grice was chasing the boy on Park Ave. West, and in passing Mrs. Brooks, a colored woman, his swinging arm knocked the woman off the sidewalk. She fell on her arm, breaking it near the wrist.

Mrs. Martha Brooks, Mrs. Kersey,

Mary Brooks and Ketche Brooks all gave evidence for the prosecution. The prisoner was the only witness for defense. Judge Bell charged the jury impartially. Crown Attorney Edwin Bell prosecuted, and Geo. G. Martin appeared for the prisoner. Mr. Martin made a very eloquent appeal on behalf of his client The jury retired at 11.45 and court was adjourned till 1 o'clock. On court resuming, the jury in the Grice case brought in a verdict of common assault, with a recommendation to mercy. Judge Bell fined the man $5 without costs. Millard Smith was arraigned on the charge of perjury. At the recent sittings of the registrars for recording the names of those entitled to the manhood suffrage, Smith took the oath prescribed by law before Judge Houston at the police station. He gave his residence as Forest street when he lived at Mr. Lenover's, on Head street, outside the corporation. Such residence didn't entitle him to register and in king the oath that he was living inside the corporation, the man swore to what was untrue.

Judge Houston was the first witness. He testified to his signature on the oath that Smith had taken. S. B. Arnold was present when Smith because he said he lived at Mrs. Bush's on Forest street and he knew Mrs. Bush. Mr. Lenover called, said that he lived about four lots outside the city limits on Head street, and the prisoner lived with him. Prisoner had witness that he would register on his brother Will's lot, as he knew that better, and witness had told him that that would be all right. The prisoner entered the witness box in his own defense. He said people had told him to register as living on Forest street; and he had done so, thinking it made no

Smith was without counsel and J. G. Kerr, at the request of Judge Bell, undertook the defense of the prisoner Crown Attorney Bell prosecuted.

IMFORTANT IMPROVEMENTS

And Alterations in the Passenger Train Service of the Grand Trunk Ry. System. It has been rumored for some time past that the inauguration on June 15th of the summer passenger train service of the Grand Trunk Railway System would be marked by import ant new features. The details of the service have now been sufficiently advanced to permit of information regarding it of a preliminary character being furnished to the public. It is evident that the progressive policy in of the Grand Trunk is to be continued Many of these improvements in the way of additional trains, have been under careful consideration for some time past, and have now only become possible as a result of the substan-tial growth of traffic in the districts concerned throughout which the new facilities will be greatly appreciated. While Ontario will benefit chiefly, the advantages will not be confined to that province. A brief statement of the new and altered service fol-

Commencing on Sunday, June 15th there will be a number of changes in train service which will favorably affect travellers from this district. In addition to the morning train for London, Toronto and points East there will be another train leaving Chatham about 2.15, connecting at London for all points north of Wiarton, Owen Sound, Goderich and all other towns in that district, making connection also for Toronto. This does not affect the fast Eastern Flyer, which will run as before through er, which will run as before through to Montreal, Toronto and all East-ern points. The fast International ern points. The fast International Limited will run through from Mont-real to Chicago daily via London, Chatham and Detroit, making fast
