A FOREIGNER'S INDICTMENT
 To read the protest, couched in witheringly ironical language, of the foreigners who held a public meeting here Sunday afternoon, to realize that even the Canadian public may be guilty of prejudice that results in a mild persecution of others. We pride ourselves on our civilization, on our magnanimity towards others, on our liberal institutions and generous national spirit. In fact when it comes to self flattery perhaps we can spill a goodly portion out of the glass as justly as any people, and yet what a cold, keen edged rebuke is given to us and our vanity by Italians, Finns, Poles, Russians and Ukrainians. Taken as given by these men of foreign birth the resolution they passed is a curious comment on our methods and sense of citizenship. The humiliating feature of the whole thing is that so much of the charge against us is true that it becomes an indictment. Consider these extracts for instance:

"That we're in Canada today is due to the direct invitation of the Canadian Government which through the immigration and other officials urged and preceded us to come to Canada. Bonuses were paid to immigration agents to bring us. Prompted by the representations that Canada lived under British institutions and laws, we left the land of our birth to join the new democracy, in the enjoyment of its free press, free speech and right of free assemblage. A hard blow from the shoulder.

Further, attention is drawn to the welcome at one time given to these people that they might do dirty and cheap jobs that other Canadians would not do.

But the most serious phase is that respecting their children. Canadian born and entitled to be reared as citizens of this country. What of them? This is a question which the foreign population asked, and properly so, on Sunday. It is a question that will take most of us some time to answer.

Whether we like to have the naked truth thrown in our teeth or not we have got it and we should admit what it is useless to deny. Our Government did coax these people of Europe to come. It coaxed them with promises, fine immigration literature, cheap passages and pictures of good fortune as soon as they landed in Canada. Who has forgotten the big immigration movement conducted 1898 to 1908 and which brought scores of thousands of families to people our land, to help make it produce, to populate and develop it? The evidence is undeniable. We wanted them then for they served a purpose.

By fostering and encouraging a sentiment against them now what is happening? We are forbidding them by Order-in-Council from returning to the hands of their native land at the same time we are preventing them from getting work or holding jobs they have had. We are repudiating the promises and statements of the immigration officials. We are treating an impasse for strangers within our gates which does no credit to us as a people. It is a singular public disposition which says to these foreigners we wanted you at one time but we don't want you now.

Nevertheless you are alien enemies but without being interned, for if we interned we would have to feed you. However, you must not go east or west, north or south with Government sanction. If you have jobs you must quit them. If you don't like it in Canada you can lump it and stay here just the same, feeding on memories and maple leaves. In your idle time you can soliloquize on how to live without eating and how to remain peaceable while hungry.

We are reminded of what Burns

 The Canadian Government should either allow these people to go back home or to give a chance to live here. A hungry population is a dangerous one.

FEW FOLKS HAVE GRAY HAIR NOW

Druggist Says Ladies Are Using Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur

Hair that loses its color and lustre, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful and thousands of women and men who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old time recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture improved by the addition of other ingredients by asking at any drug store for a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound which darkens the hair so naturally so evenly, that no body can possibly tell it has been applied. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is that besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications it also brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance.

WAR STAMP DRIVE

Messrs. Arthur Robinson and Geo. H. Sherwood, assisted by Messrs. E. W. Smith, Major Bradley, Abbott Shaw and W. D. Clark of the Y.M.C.A. and W. G. Lowry, Assistant Secretary of the Board of Trade, and Harry Elliott, are a committee securing the co-operation of the merchants in offering War Savings and Thrift Stamps for sale in the several stores of the city.

Messrs. McLaren & Co. Ltd. already report that a vast number of stamps are being sold.

A suggestion is made that mention be given of War Savings and Thrift stamps being given at parties and other gatherings as prizes, where usually money is spent to purchase prizes.

THE FAMOUS PAULIST CHORISTERS RECOMMEND ACTIVITIES

When the Paulist Choristers were transferred from Chicago, in the early summer, upon the conclusion of their six months' transcontinental tour, it was thought by some of the musicians of the country, that at least one whole season would transpire before the boys would be sufficiently rested after their long and arduous trip to recommence public engagements. This opinion shows a lack of understanding of the psychology of the boy. Already, this season, on Manhattan Island alone, these Choristers have sung thirty-five appearances for patriotic purposes, and now upon the advent of the great victory, for which all the Allies have been hoping and praying for, for four long years, these Choristers are again to raise their voices and their hearts on high in the glorious name of victory, peace and enduring brotherhood of man.

Everyone knows the structure of the Paulist Choristers. There are small boys and big boys, young men and old men in the organization. Approximately eighty-five per cent of the adult members of the Paulist Choristers have been in the military service of Uncle Sam, and the organization upon its appearance here will reveal all of its old art, matured by the long experience of last season's tour.

ALL CHILDREN LOVE "SYRUP OF FIGS" FOR LIVER AND BOWELS

Give it when feverish, cross, bilious, for bad breath or sour stomach.

Look at the tongue, Mother! If coated, it is a sure sign that your little one's stomach, liver and bowels need a gentle, thorough cleaning at once.

When peevish, cross, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, doesn't eat or act naturally, or is feverish stomach sour, breath bad; has stomach-ache, sore throat, diarrhoea, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of his little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again.

You needn't coax sick children to take this harmless "fruit laxative," they love its delicious taste, and it always makes them feel splendid.

Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. To be sure you get the genuine, ask to see that it is made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.

It seems a sad travesty upon intelligence and business methods to learn that men supposed to have brains above the ordinary, should still be haggling in Ottawa over Daylight Saving.

SEED GRAIN
 Same as for dipping in formalin, except that a sack is not required. In addition: Shovels for mixing the grain. An ordinary garden sprayer can mix one pint of formalin with 50 gallons of water. Place the grain to be treated in a heap on a clean canvas or floor. Sprinkle the formalin solution over the grain, then shovel the grain over into another pile so as to mix it thoroughly. Then sprinkle the shed again. Repeat this until every grain is moistened by the solution; then cover the pile with sackings and leave for 24 hours. At the end of this time open the grain out thinly to dry; shaking it over three or four times will hasten this drying. Forty gallons of the formalin solution is sufficient to sprinkle between thirty and forty bushels of grain.

The following treatment for seed grain subject to smut is strongly recommended by the Faculty of Guelph Agricultural College:
 This method will prevent Stinking Smut of Wheat, Loose Smut of Oats, and Covered Smut of Barley. Materials needed:

Transforming The Prairies.

SELDOM does a settler in a new country find things exactly as he would like to find them. Take trees, as an illustration. It is true there are large stretches of country in different parts of the world where trees seem to be ideally interperpetrated. Large areas in the central parts of the Prairie Provinces of Canada are like this. Open spaces of forty to a hundred acres or more are almost entirely free from trees, affording the best shelter for stock, and making a varied landscape. But such conditions are exceptional, though they serve to emphasize the rule. Mostly the settler finds too many trees or practically none at all. In the former case considerable labor is required in clearing before the settler can hope for any crop. In the latter case the settler has the advantage of being able to break his land immediately and, if he proceeds in the right manner, soon has it in a condition for producing a remunerative crop. But if he has come from a home where he was surrounded by trees, he certainly misses them for a time.

A large part of the Canadian prairies comes under the second category. Nearly all of the southern to the central parts of these provinces are open prairie, ready for the plow. Except near the rivers and creeks one could mow miles and miles without seeing a tree. But a wonderful transformation is slowly taking place. If nature has left these fertile prairies practically treeless, she has not left them devoid of the elements necessary to tree growth. Trees will grow there if properly planted and cared for, just as wheat and other grains, just as potatoes and other fodders, just as potatoes and all manner of roots and vegetables, grow wonderfully well. And they are being grown more and more extensively every year, beautifying many a farm home, and transforming the prairie landscape.

In this beautifying process, farmers are greatly encouraged by the Canadian Government and the Canadian Pacific Railway. Both are taking a keen interest in the planting of trees on the prairie farms, and encourage farmers to improve their home surroundings by distributing trees free of cost to farmers. Each maintains large nurseries where trees are grown for this purpose under prairie conditions, the government at Lethbridge, Saskatchewan, and the Canadian Pacific Railway at Wolsley, Saskatchewan. Up to a few years ago both nurseries were typically open prairie. Now trees are being raised from seed on the Government's farm at Indian Head, Saskatchewan, which comprises 480 acres, in sufficient quantities as to permit a distribution of between eight and eight million young plants annually. The Canadian Pacific Railway way restricts its distribution of trees until they get thoroughly established. Success in growing trees is being realized by farmers throughout the Southern Alberta, and during the last year has distributed about three Canadian Prairie Provinces; and the six years has distributed about three hundred thousand trees to farmers in success is very encouraging to the territory; in this company's newcomer who at first misses the nurseries trees are also supplied for trees that were conspicuous near the railroad and in station gardens. (ages over the pioneer who has to set the government or the railway company, can start to farm. He can begin to obtain trees, whether from the moment of his occupation of the land, and when he is ready to plant trees, he can plant them wherever he desires, with the assurance that, if given a little inspection, he will find them in the matter of cultivation.
