Branch Railways in P. E. Island.

Hausard, February 117h, 1908, sensus of opinion on both sides, at any rate the conclusion which it figlost income these resolutions were introduced in reference to the branch | IV., page 14, this statement: lines. My friend from Prince Edward says that the resolution was that 'to-morrow' they will move the House into committee. That is the form of all resolutions; owing, however, to the unfortunate state of the hon, gentleman that when a Conservative government introduce resolutions and make pre-election pledges to the people they in all cases carry them out. Nothing could be worse than for a government to introduce such a resolution as was introduced in 1896 and, having been successful at the polls, completely ignore the resolutions and not carry them into effect.

The Minister of Railways says that all of the provinces parted with a good deal in entering confederation. rights; we parted with some of the of forming confederation, if it could be done. Unfortunately in reference to financial affair, the Marithe matter had ever been settled; they have introduced resolutions in entered into confederation and immetions in these different provinces the been made in their financial arrange federation. It was perfectly nature that the Prince Edward Islanders into the financial position thoroughly at the time and my conclusion was that Prince Edward Island in enter ing confederation, made a woisbargain by between $100 000 and $150,000 a year than Nova Scotia or New Brunswick aid. It was to remedy that to that extent that this arrangement in reference to building branch lines in Prince Edward Island was proposed. As to the expenditure on the Hills borough bridge, as I remember, the proposition first brought down to the House was the bridge was to be built for about $600,000. This afterwards increased owing to some changes in the plans made in order to utilise the old Miramichi iron bridge. The piers were too far apart, having been designed, in the original plan, for a new bridge. The Miramichi bridge which was used was perfectly good for the traffic that it would have to carry, but its use increased the extent larger than I think is justifiable. When the plans and specifications were brught down by he Railway Department the estimate was too ipaccurate; there should have been ufficient to cover the whole work Unfortunately this was not done and the occurrence of suches thing in the department should not be lightly passed over by the House.

I am convinced that if the Conservative government had been returned in 1896 they would have carried out their election pledges. Nothing could be more disgraceful or disbonest than for a government o propose resolutions to grant money to a particular part of the country immediately before an election and having been returned to power to refuse to carry out their' pledge. So far as I am concerned, I can assure my hon, friend from P. E. Island that if I had been continued at the head of the department would have seen that at least my promise to the people of Prince Edward Island was carried out.

At six o'clock House took recess. AFTER RECESS.

House resumed at eight o'clock. Mt. A. Martin -Mr. Speaker, previous to six o'clock we had a pretty full discussion of this question. I paid particular attention to the remarks of the hop. Minister of Hon. John Haggart (South Lan- Railways and Canals (Mr. Graham) ark.)-My bon, friend from Queen's and although he has not stood ex-(Mr. A. Martin) was perfectly right actly by his report he was not genin his statement as to the reasons crous enough to acknowledge that which induced the late government his figures were incorrect. I would to introduce the resolution which like, as he has undertaken the duties quiry was made into the financial a strong light to that next year, your revenue on one side of the acand a comparison made with that 0' find no such statement as the state-New Brunswich when that Province ment I quoted on page 127. To entered confederation and the cop- disabuse his mind and the minds of hon, members present I wish him to turn to the Public Accounts of 1873 enced the government, was that where this question in regard to the Prince Edward Island had got the expenditure of Prince Edward Island worst of the bargain by about $100, on its Railways is fully settled. In 000 or $150,000 per year. To re- the public accounts for the year coup Prince Edward Island for that 1873, when my province came into confederation, you will find in part

> By amount province entitled to upon entering into union as per imperial order in council, $4,701,050, That is the debt that the province was allowed on entering confederaion. I have not the minister's attention, I see, and I am afraid be will repeat some of the mistakes in is report next year, but he will note what I say about this capital which was placed to the credit of the province. I want to call to his attention that he can read on the other side of the account the amounts that were charged against the province for this railway construction which was not ompleted notil 1876 and the statement is as follows: I have quoted be account showing that there was $4,701,050 to our credit. In 1876, when the account was closed, all we had to our credit was $831 out of $4,701,050. How do you account for that? You account for that by the fact that $3,144,000 is charged against the province for its railway construction. The debt of the prov. ince in that time was only $754,000. Add these sums together and deduct be total from our capital and you will see that in place of our getting interest on this large sum of money we only drew interest on less than $1,000,000. We lost the interest on $3,144,000 since the day of confed. Prince Edward Island. I am here eration, of our union with Canada to the present day. I want the minister to understand what that means. What is the yearly interest on $3,-144 000? The interest is $157.000 a year. My bon, friend the ex Minister of Railways and Canals (Mr. of the branches which I advocated Haggart) said that he came to the conclusion in 1896 that the province was not fairly treated and that what the province lost in interest -$157. ran that road here and there, as the branch lines which it proposed to | branch they began. The scheme a build before it entered into confederation at all. I am going to remind You don't and can't if your stomach the hon. Minister of Railways and Canale of something else. The Minister made a statement which somewhat surprised me. He is now in Among the signs of a weak stomach bis position. I do not think that be are uneasmess after eating, fits of ner is very well acquainted with his department yet, He is not acquainted with the details of the railway report and be is not acquainted with the working of the Prince Edward Island Railway. If he were he would not make the statement that he made to this House this afternoon. He said that the branches that had been built had not diminished the deficit of the Prince Edward Island built to Elmira or somewhere else Rollway. If he turns up the report within two years, he would resign his of the Prince Edward Island Rail- seat way be will find since these branches were built the deficit has decreased from year to year. I asked him the other day to give me a separate statement of the earnings of the last branch that was built. I knew that this was a good feeder to the main ine and I knew it was decreasing the deficit of the main line. He did not give it. Yet the minister made tatement that the building of a hese branch lines had not diminished the deficit of the Prince Edward Island Railway, I went to make another statement and I would like to have his attention. I do not wish to share his attention with the bon. member for Cape Breton (Mr. Johnston). The system of making up accounts on the Intercolonial Railway is a system that is not carried out by any other railway either in Canada or in any part of the world. I make the statement deliberately that the system adopted by the Government in making up the accounts in regard to James Ross the Intercolonial Railway does not hold in regard to any other railways in Canada. Why do I say that ? If you desire to find out what the Intercolonial Railway is doing, what is the first thing you have to do? The first thing you have to do and which every other railway does is to charge the interest on the capital expended. Do you have your accounts made up they introduced in 1896. An in- of this position, to put this matter in in that way? All you do is to place position of Prince Edward Island when he issues his report, he will count and the expenditure on the cord of the capital which the country bas invested in the road? You do does that operate against my Province? If you charged interest on the expenditure of the Intercolonial you would have to charge interest on the whole of it; but, when you come down to my Prevince you cannot charge the interest on the whole expenditure because the Province paid for this railway and in accounting for the revenue and expenditure of the Prince Edward Island Railway there is $157,000 a year which you would have to give the Province credit for. I say deliberately to the Minister that if he kept the accounts the same as every other railway in Canada does and charged interest on expenditure on the Intercolonial Railway the Prince Edward Island Railway would stand in a far better position than the Intercolonial Rail-

The Minister added that there were deficits on that road amounting to $2,000,000; but he should have stated that the people of the Province paid to this Government as interest on this expenditure $157,000 a year amounting in all since Confederation to $5.540,000. So that if $2.000.000, as he said, was sunk in railways in Prince Edward Island, the Province has $3,000,000 to its credit. I want the Minister to think that over. I know it is very hard for him, having been brought up in narrow-gauge politics, to understand these matters Minister says I did not credit the Gove ernment for what they had done. I party in regard to branch lines in only to represent the people and their views and expectations. But I will give the Government credit for this, that they carried out to some extent the policy of their predecessors by building sixty miles of railway on one here in 1896, and which the late Government at that time proposed to build. But what did they do? They 000 a year-should be made up in Liberal politicians wanted them to do, some way or other, and be concluded with the result that it does not today
