THE TERRIBLE CRIME OF TWO TOR-ONTO TOUGHS.

How They Tried to Make a Young Lady Surrender the Key of a Cash Drawer-A Murderous Assault on a York-street

Old Clo' Man in St. John's Ward. TORONTO, March 20.—Two diabolical and dare-devil crimes were perpetrated in Toronto latter, for downright brutality. exceeds anything heard of in the criminal records of this city for years.

At 41/2 o'clock yesterday afternoon two young men entered Elias Rogers' branch coal office at No. 578 Queen-street west. The only person in the place at the time was Miss Eliza McCarron, who resides at 178 Mutualstreet and who has charge of the office.

Before the young lady could address the two men they sprang over the counter. One of them caught her by the throat and rushed her up against the north wall of the room, while the other made a dash for the cash drawer, which contained $156. Miss McCarron had a few moments before locked the drawer and put the key in her pocket.

Finding himself foiled by the drawer being locked, Robber No. 2 made a spring at the unfortunate girl, demanding with a string of oaths that she surrender the key. Instead of doing so she began to scream for help, where-upon her first assailant threw her against the red-hot stove and held her there while the other attempted to find the pocket in which

As soon as I entered the room the door was locked and the men demanded my money. I be locked and the men demanded my money. I be came frightened and gave them a couple of dollars and said that it was all that I had in my possession. One of the men then said, "D—— a you, give us more than that or we will brain you," and suiting the action to his words, he struck me over the head with a water pitcher, felling me to the ground. I screamed and tried to break away, but I was again knocked down, the villains this time breaking a hash over my head. One of them throw me ing a basin over my head. One of them threw me on the floor, while the other covered my face with a pillow, and while in this position I was robbed of all the money I had, about $197.

They then took me by the arms and tried to throw me out of the window, but the sash caught me by the legs and I was unable to help myself.

When a gentleman passing by and hearing the screams entered the office, he found the lady salf fainting on the floor. Her right ear and arm were badly burned, and the marks on her throat where the cruel villain had gripped her were plainly visible.

Meanwhile Detective Porter, who is stationed in St. Andrew's Market Station, had started out to look for a well-known thief named Charles Lappin, for whose arrest he had a wa rant. He saw his man on Queen—

He caught such a cold he could not sing."

Poor, unfortunate Batrachian! In what a sad plight he must have been. And yet his misfortune was one that often befalls singers. Many a once tuneful voice among those who belong to the "genus homo" is utterly spoiled by "cold in the head," or on the lungs, or both combined. For the above mentioned "croaker" we are not aware that any remedy was ever devised; but we rejoice to know that all human singers may keep their heads clear and throats in tune by the timely use of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy and Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, both of which are sold by druggists.
