MARSHALL BROTHERS.

Another Awful Tragedy.

Little Hazel Moore Terribly Burned Saturday Night, Dies Six Hours After Accident.

It would seem to be a gruesome coincidence that the tragic death which overtook the unfortunate name Dillon of the South Side on Saturday night last when Little Hazel Moore, aged 19 years, of 55 Goodview Street, was burned so badly as the result of an accident at her home that death ended her sufferings at the General Hospital 6 hours afterwards. Shortly after the horrible affair had happened, a Telegram reporter was on the scene and learned the facts of the case from the broken hearted mother, who could not realize that her child was so terribly injured and whose cries and lamentations would move the most callous hearted. Just before the accident, which caused the child's death, occurred, about 7.45 Saturday evening, her mother left the house to go to the foot of Goodview Street to get a pail of water from the fountain. When Mrs. Moore left the little one, who was at her lessons, was heard to ask her little brother where her father was. The lad answered that he did not know, and the little one knowing that kindling was required for the morning prepared to go into the cellar to cut some. Her father, Mr. John Moore, and his brother, Diamond, had gone into the cellar without the child's knowledge to cut some wood. The cellar is under the floor of a room at the rear of the kitchen and is reached by going through a small square opening in the floor. The cellar is about 6 feet deep and is reached by means of a small ladder which stands almost upright. When the father and his brother went down in the cellar they left the hatch off the aperture above. The little girl not knowing of their presence took a lighted lamp from the table and walking into the room did not notice the open hatchway. In this she walked and fell head foremost, striking pretty heavily on her head and side. The lamp was smashed in pieces and burning oil saturated the child's clothing, which were instantly in a mass of flame. Terror-stricken at the sight, her father and uncle ran to her aid and taking up some mats that were near, after great difficulty succeeded in quenching the blazing garments, but not before the little creature had sustained terrible injuries. Most of the hair was burnt off her head, her face, arms and legs were roasted, the flesh peeling off them, while the abdomen was in a terrible state, being literally baked by the fire. Mr. C. Moore, a neighbor, immediately phoned for medical aid from Mr. M. Duffy's grocery store near and Dr. Macpherson responded with commendable promptness. The mother had by this time returned, and though terrified and saddened by the sight of the sufferings of her little daughter, did everything to alleviate her sufferings, as she reclined on a couch, until the doctor came. He also did everything possible for the poor little sufferer, who bore her agony with wonderful fortitude. By the ambulance, which was quickly on the scene, the little one was conveyed to the Hospital, where she died at 2.30 a.m. yesterday. Besides the injury caused by the fire, the child was dangerously hurt about the head by the force of the blow received when she fell. Both her father and uncle in trying to quench the flames which enveloped the child were burned about the face and hands and they had to be attended to by the physician before he left the house. The remains of the dead child were confined and brought from the Hospital to her home at 4 p.m. yesterday. The parents are grief stricken as a result of the tragic death of their little girl, and the sympathy of the whole community will go out to them in their bereavement.

MINARD'S LINIMENT CURES DISTEMPER.

Steamers Arrive Here.

S. S. TOBASCO.
The Furness Liner Tobasco, Capt. Voerman, arrived here from Liverpool at 7.30 a.m. yesterday. The ship left there Saturday evening last and had fairly good weather until making this coast when a gale of wind with heavy sea and rain was encountered. She brought 475 tons cargo for this port and 28 bags and 9 baskets of mail matter. She had no passengers for here, but has a couple in transit for Halifax.

S. S. FOGOTA.
The s.s. Fogota, Capt. Baxter Barbour, entered port from the Northward at 10.15 a.m. yesterday. The ship which left here at 4 p.m. Tuesday last had rough weather all the trip, and going north met a S. E. gale and heavy rain but not much sea. She made all her ports of call, and reached Change Islands Friday morning, being compelled to harbour at Fogot all Thursday night in a gale of N. E. wind with a high sea and rain. She had stormy weather on the return, and brought 500 packages of freight, including 300 barrels of partridge berries, shipped at Bonavista and Elliston. Her passengers were: Miss B. Young, Miss G. Young, J. F. Smith, D. Roberts, Capt. George Barbour, Miss J. Parsons, S. Abbott, Robert Walsh, Mrs. A. Diamond, Rev. Mr. Moody, Mrs. Harris and 13 steerage. She carried 70 passengers on the round trip.

S. S. PORTIA.
The S. S. Portia, Capt. T. Fitzpatrick, arrived here at 10.30 a.m. yesterday from the Westward. She left here on Friday, the 16th inst., and had excellent weather up till Sunday, the 18th, when on leaving St. Lawrence at daylight she had a S. W. gale with heavy rain until evening set in. It then remained fine until Tuesday morning when she left Port aux Basques when she was overtaken with a S. E. gale and heavy rain. The ship, however, was on the other side of the land where it was comparatively smooth. At 9 o'clock that night she reached Bay of Islands, and at 3 a.m. Wednesday she reached Bonne Bay and left at 9 a.m. She had fine weather to port. She brought a full cargo of fish in casks and cod oil, with one hundred barrels of partridge berries from Fortune Bay. Her passengers were: Messrs. L. Bartlett, P. Ryan, H. Leary, Capt. Mission, Masters H. Bishop, V. Cluett; Misses J. M. Kelley, Walsh, A. Johnson, M. Lambert; Mrs. Bohanna and 42 second class.

St. John's, Nfld.

My Dear Sir,—Permit me through you to thank the Druggists' "First Aid Class" of St. John's for the very useful and completely equipped "First Aid Ambulance Hamper" sent me by you for use in cases of accidents at fires, etc. This Hamper will be placed on one of our fire vehicles, so as to have it to hand in the event of being required at the scene of a fire. Again thanking you and your class for the kindly thought, I am, sir,
Yours sincerely,
JOHN SULLIVAN,
Inspector General Constabulary.

Husband and Wife Are Reunited.

Mrs. Bohanna, who eloped with a man named Summers from St. John, N.B., to this city about two weeks ago and then accompanied him to Trepassy, arrived from the latter place by the Portia yesterday forenoon. Quite a number of curious people who knew she was expected were on the pier to see the woman land. She was met by her husband, who boarded the steamer immediately she tied up at the pier, and taking his arm she was escorted to a carriage by him and quickly driven to his hotel. Both left for their home at St. John by the Bruce express yesterday evening. On the voyage down in the Portia the woman seemed to be afflicted with remorse and cried the whole way. She expressed deep regret for her conduct towards her husband and said she was glad a reconciliation had taken place. Her paramour, Summers, is at Trepassy still.

Portia's Fishery News.

The Portia reports that six American tankers were at Burgeo in the outer harbor when she was there, all looking as if they had decent catches of fish. Squid, however, is scarce right along the coast. Thursday and Friday last the fishermen got plenty of squid for the first time in a month at St. Lawrence and down along the coast, and in that lengthy period, not 10 qts. of cod has been taken by the small boats. There has been no fall fishing to date at L'Anse-au-Loup. At Cape St. Mary's no boats have been out the past week, and this fishery will soon come to a close. It has been rough there all the week with gales of S. W. wind.

From the Barrens.

Fire Supt. Michael Dunne who was out on the Colinet grounds shooting partridge, arrived here by Saturday night's train, having captured 20 birds in two days. Messrs. Frank and Arthur Donnelly also came back by Saturday night's train. They were out on the Witless Bay line near Holyrood, and captured 60 birds between them in two days. They found birds very plentiful, and report Mr. Bob Strang doing good work.

Typhoid Abating.

We learn from Magistrate Fitzgerald, who arrived in town from Grand Falls, Saturday, that typhoid fever is on the decline there. There are now 20 cases which came in principally from the shacks which are being destroyed as quickly as possible. Several wells in the town have also been closed up. Every precaution is being taken to stamp out the disease which the doctor hopes to accomplish in a few weeks.

Father and Son Missing.

Mr. Hutchings, K. C., Deputy Minister of Justice, had a wire from the magistrate at Trinity, Saturday evening: Adam King and son aged 15 of White Point, Bonaventure, while fishing out in the bay with trawls Friday, sheltered under Ragged Island. Leaving there for home, boat not seen or heard of since. Fishermen believe boat swamped owing to increased sea and occupants drowned. King leaves a wife and five children.

The excursion train which left here at 2.30 p.m. yesterday took out over 100 passengers.
