LONDON BUDGET.

LONDON, To-day.
The greater portion of what remains of the Serb's northern army is believed to have crossed into the mountains of Albania, Montenegro, where the Serbs are continuing with the aid of King Nicholas's troops and supplies which are reaching them from the Adriatic to offer stern resistance to the Austro-Germans and Bulgarian invaders. Like the Belgians, however, the Serbians hold a fringe of their country, which widens as it reaches the north western corner of which Monastir is the centre; for some reason the Bulgarians stopped their march on that city. The first time in eight years, which is taken as a sign that on the mountains of the peninsula there will be a heavy fall. During the latter part of the week almost continued storms compelled suspension of operations giving the French and British time to bring up reinforcements which are being landed at Saloniki daily, and to concentrate their positions. The Austro-Germans have also had to divert part of their armies down the Danube to the Roumanian border, Roumania having refused the German request for the opening of the Danube throughout the entire length to enable Germany to send supplies to Bulgaria and Turkey. Roumania persisted that armed ships must not pass Baba, which is on the Danube. As Roumania is becoming daily more pro-ally and the Austro-Germans having sided with Bulgaria in the campaign against Serbia which is now cleared, she is now called upon to protect against aggression from the east. Russian warships including a new dreadnought have again been seen off the Black Sea coast of Bulgaria, but there is no news of any landing or movement of troops. On both the eastern and western fronts artillery, as was the case last winter, is doing the heaviest part of the work, and it appears doubtful whether either side will attempt an offensive for the present. Italy, on the other hand, undeterred by winter, is pushing her offensive and rendering the Austrian hold of Gorizia and Roverto daily more uncertain. The Turks have again been showing some activity on Gallipoli and claim minor successes against the Allies. However, no big action has been fought. German anxiety over Roumania is matched by that of the allied powers with regard to Greece.

Last week it was believed all differences between Greece and the Allies had been surmounted, but it was found necessary to send another note to Greece, a reply to which is promised on Monday. The Allies now demand not only assurance of safety for their troops, but adequate railway facilities of their transport, the withdrawal of Greek troops from the vicinity of Saloniki, and a closing of Greek waters against German submarines.

KITCHENER WATCHED SHELLING OF GORIZIA—PAID TRIBUTE TO ITALIANS ON EFFICIENCY OF ARTILLERY.

NEW YORK, To-day.
A cable to the Herald from London this morning says: Kitchener, who is now in Milan, watched the shelling of Gorizia by the Italians on Saturday in company of King Victor Emmanuel and General Cadorna, and before leaving the fighting front he paid a moving tribute to the valor of Italian troops and the efficiency of Italian artillery. This was read to the various divisions of the army in the order of the day was greeted with tremendous cheering for England and Kitchener. One result of Great Britain's War Secretary's sojourn in Italy is the agreement to send a big Italian force to the Balkans at the general war council, soon to be held in Paris, approves of this course of action. Moreover, I am informed the general war council, which is composed of high military experts of the four great Allied Powers, hereafter will decide all great movements by land and sea. General Cadorna feels, according to despatches from Rome, that this great push against the Austrians will tell effectively for the Allies in the end, but the King and General Cadorna told Kitchener that as co-ordination spelled success, they will abide by the decisions of what soon will be a supreme general staff. The King of Italy agreed with Kitchener that the Franco-British forces have the Germans practically beaten on the western front, and that the new Russian offensive foreshadowed victory in the eastern theatre. He and General Cadorna, however, strongly impressed on Britain's War Secretary that operations against the Austrians in irredentist provinces were of vital importance to Italy, and when the object there is attained, the armies would be sent to join the Russians and Franco-British forces in the tremendous struggle which all military experts agree will take place in Thrace before the winter is over. While this news is encouraging, dispatches from Athens indicate that the Serbian Army, which has been fighting against odds of five to one with short munitions, is nearing the end of its resistance; this is why the Entente Powers are insisting on all concessions demanded from Greece, and though dispatches from Athens still are pessimistic in tone, there is an under-current of feeling that despite the Kaiser's threats, King Constantine realizes the defiance of France and Britain will mean the end of his dynasty and making a virtue of necessity will concede everything.

SERBIANS ARE RETIRING TOWARD ALBANIA.

SALONIKI, To-day.
Because of bad weather here there has been no activity on the Franco-British front. The Serbians have left Kitchener by roads leading to Scutari and Santi Quirata. The railway from Uskup to Mitrovitz is completely in the hands of Germans, Austrians and Bulgars.

Herring Shipment.

Donald Creaser left Bonne Bay this morning with 1780 barrels of herring for Gloucester. The scho. E. Conlan left Wood's Island to-day for Halifax, taking 724 barrels of herring. Herring are reported very plentiful to-day at Bay of Islands.

MEIGLE ARRIVES.—The s.s. Meigle arrived in port at 1.15 p.m. to-day with a full cargo of freight to the Reid Nfld. Co.

Attempted Suicide.

William Powell, aged 26 years, a native of Bonavista, was before Court this morning, charged with attempting to commit suicide. A few days ago he was brought here from Halifax in company with a Harbor Grace man named Corbin, the latter being now at the Penitentiary on remand. Both were considered as undesirable by the authorities at Halifax and were deported. Ever since his arrival here a week ago, Powell has been wandering the streets alone. Yesterday he attempted to cut his throat with a knife and would have succeeded in carrying out his rash act, but for the timely interference of Constables O'Neill and Mercer, who quickly seized the weapon and brought the unfortunate man to the police station handcuffed. He was examined by a doctor this morning, pronounced insane, and conveyed to the Lunatic Asylum.

Workman Meets Accident.

At 10 o'clock this morning, a workman named Geo. Goss, was the victim of a severe accident and as a result got his head badly battered. He was helping to get the gear ready to start discharging coal from the schr. Rosenblum at A. Harvey & Co's wharf. The iron handle of a winch revolved suddenly and struck Goss in the forehead, inflicting a terrible cut and knocking him to the deck senseless. Dr. Fraser, who was summoned, had to insert several stitches in the wound. The injured man lost much blood and had to be driven home.

Police Court.

(Before Mr. Hutchings, J.P.)
A 15 year old boy, charged with the larceny of a quantity of flour, was remanded.

Two drunks were each fined $1 or 3 days.
A 28 year old seaman of Bonavista, insane and attempting to commit suicide, was sent to the Lunatic Asylum.

A drunk and disorderly had to give bonds or go down for 30 days.
A butcher, summoned by Inspector O'Brien for not having his place clean, was fined $5 or 14 days.

Doing Splendid Work.

In a letter recently addressed by him to His Excellency the Governor, Lieut.-Colonel Burton states that the men of the 1st Nfld. Regiment are doing splendid work at the Dardanelles. This testimony from the Commanding Officer of the Regiment will be read with pleasure by the friends of our brave lads who are at present doing their bit at Gallipoli.

Will Stand by Vote.

Editor Evening Telegram.
I wish to express my appreciation for the splendid editorial which appeared in the Telegram issues of Friday and Saturday re the prohibition acts.

To have the learned Editor of our leading journal who is himself an M. H. A. make such a fair and just pronouncement as to the result of the recent prohibition election augurs well for this great reform movement. The Telegram has made a wise choice in lining up with this movement which is working for the best interests of our Island Home.
Mr. Furlong holding the position of Law Clerk to the Assembly while holding the Liquor dealers' rstrain would not be tolerated in England and should not be permitted here.
With regard to the question of validity or any other questions that may be raised, I wish to emphasize the point so ably made by you in your editorial where you express the opinion "That the Legislature will wipe away such technicalities and pass a prohibition act to come into force January 1st, 1917."

That opinion is endorsed by the majority of those who read that statement and will be endorsed by the whole 25,000 voters who voted for prohibition. The Government dare not ignore the voice of the people, especially when that voice is represented by a vote which was stronger than that which elected the present Government.
I am voicing the sentiment which I have heard expressed on all sides that that vote will be used to defeat any government which dares to ignore it. Don't waste your money in lawyers' fees, but rather bow to the will of the people and invest your capital in some labor giving business, and you will find your best customers among the Temperance People; and let us all work together for the uplift and benefit of our Island home without the poverty producing curse of strong drink.

Yours, etc.,
VOTER.

Very delicate children, whose appetites are poor and who do not do justice to their regular meals, should be given an extra allowance of hot broth or milk or an occasional cup of chocolate, with bread and butter or a rusk, between meals. Children should never be hurried off to school in the morning with an insufficient and rapidly eaten breakfast.

During school days the food must be abundant and must contain sufficient proteins, starches, sugars and inorganic salts to meet the constant demand for these constituents of a perfect food. Suppers should be light, not stimulating and the food should be made savory and appetizing.
