SUBDUED BY FIVE

C. N. R. Signal Operator Killed in Lonely Part of Yards.

Canadian Press Desnatch. Fort William, June 29 .- Joe Antoniuk, a crazed foreign dock laborer, is now lodged in jail on a charge of having slain one man and seriously injured two others in one of the bloodiest and most feroclous fights ever staged at the head of the lakes.

Atoniuk was knocked unconsciou and carried to jail only after a ter rific struggle with five men.

The slain man is William James Morgan, C.N.R. signal operator. The injured are Robert McManus, operator, and John Gall, C.N.R. constable. Both are suffering terrible scalp injuries, and it is feared Gall may ose his right eye. The fatal attack was staged early today in a lonely spot in the Canadian National Railway yards be-Antoniuk encountered his victims when police arrived, he turned from the unconscious Gall and gave battle to five. Not until he was knocked unconscious was his capture effected.

Morgan, who died from injuries received, was a married man with a large family, and was well known in Fort William.

GEORGE JONES BURIED.

The funeral of the late George E. Jones was held Sunday from Oatman's funeral home. Interment was made in Parkhill cemetery. Rev. J.

Directors' Trial Costs $500,000

Toronto, June 29.—It is estimated that the trial and conviction of the vice-president and five directors of the Home Bank, which convictions were set aside by the appellate court on Saturday, cost in the neighborhood of $500,000. Of this amount, $350,000, or thereabouts, was paid by the accused them-selves, it is estimated. Hon. W. H. Price, provincial treasurer of Ontario, stated that the expense of the trials to the province so far has been slightly under $100,000.

BALDWIN VICTOR IN CENSURE VOTE

MacDonald Motion Charged Failure To Meet Unemployment.

Associated Press Despatch London, June 29.-A motion of censure moved by Rt. Hon. J. Ramsay MacDonald, the Labor leader, against the government for failure to

The debate had a strong flavor of political controversy, the government speakers having the early report that the late Labor government had equally failed to solve the same problems. The report demonstrated that government had no heroie measures to propose.

Population Increase.

Premier Baldwin argued that ex-cept in the coal, iron, steel, ship-building and engineering industries which were more affected than others greatly restricted, while the difficul-ties were aggravated by the growing foreign tariffs against British trade. The premier laid stress on the fact that the British foreign policy was unswervingly devoted to fostering peace in Europe, an absolutely es-sential concomitant of any industrial progress at home, and in this connection, he said, the government hoped for much from the efforts to secure an agreement between France Germany, Belgium and Great Britain, which would go far to make foreign credits flourishing credits flourishing.

The government had a big electricity scheme in contemplation, but the premier could say nothing about it until the committee had presented its report Consider Subsidies.

Mr. Baldwin then came to his point when he said the government had been considering, and asked the House to consider, the possibility of subsidies to industries which at the The crossing had been closed to street traffic all day, while repairs subsidies to industries which at the moment seemed to be beaten down into a position of helplessness. He suggested bounties on production, or subsidies on specific contracts and orders mainly for export, or subsidies orders mainty for export, or standard in especially distressed districts in aid of local rates and railway freights. He admitted the difficulties were great, but thought them not insur-mountable.

Asked whether this applied to coal, he replied that he did not propose to touch the coal question, pending a settlement of the present dispute in Another interesting point dealt with by the prime minister was the film industry proving that the recent agitation against U. S. film proponderance had influenced the government. He declared that the time had arrived in the national interest to inquire into the possibility of providing that solve the unemployment problem was voted down in the House of Commons tonight, 373 to 143

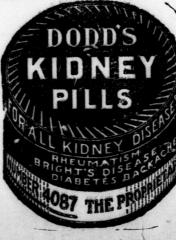

The motion declared that the government, "after a lengthy period of examination of the question having regard for the enormous power of the industrial depression, and confronted by an alarming growth in the number of unemployed, has failed to take measures to deal with a situation of unprecedented gravity."

The debate had a strong flavor of examination of the question having regard for the enormous power of the film developed for propaganda purposes and the danger to which the country and the empire subjected themselves if they allowed this method of propaganda to remain entirely in the hands of foreign countries.

Moreover, it should be remembered that the population had increased and emigration had been greatly restreited, while the difficulpreviously taken most of two days to accomplish.

Soldier Organizations Are Scored For Separating Veterans of War

Canadian Press Despatch. Ottawa, June 29.—"To me it is an appalling situation when men who might have fought in the same platoon in France, and who might have slept in the same dugout, are hardly on speaking terms because they belong to different soldier organizations, and I rejoice that we have at least something tangible on which to form a union of the different organizations," said Lieut.-General Sir Richard Turner, V.C., former commanding officer of the Canadian forces in England, recently elected president of the G. W. V. A., and who was formally installed in office this
