auds Work Accomplished by Methodism Prior To Joining the United Church.

LARGE ATTENDANCE Over Three Hundred Celebrate Jubilee With Congregation

at Chicken Dinner.

From the time of its founding by John Wesley, almost 150 years ago, until it went into union this year Methodism accomplished a wonderful work throughout the world, declared Dr. J. W. Aitkens of Toronto in his address at Dundas Centre church last evening. "But now that we have become a unit of the United church of Canada we must cast in our lot wholeheartedly that we may help to keep apace with the progress that was made during those years."

Dr. Aitkens, who spoke at the anniversary services at Dundas Centre yesterday, again space at that church last evening, following the Thanksgiving i chicken dinner held in the school-room, at which over 300 were present.

Dr. Aitkens spoke on "Church Pews and Some of the People Who Occupy Them." He dealt with the more inumorous side of the topic, and for one hour and a half held the undivided attention of his audience as he related the many varied experiences with which he has met.

"I have travelled across Canada from Labrador to British Columbia I have spoken to every class of people, and from my own observaattentive audience at that church last people, and from my own observa-tion it is my unbiased opinion that the best-living people you can find are to be found within the walls of the Christian church," the speaker

"I have seen every side of the people of my congregations. I have seen their best side and I have seen their worst side. I have seen them their worst side. I have seen them in their happiness and in their sorrow and distress. They have represented every type of people, but they were all together in their one great purpose to receive the gospel of Jesus Christ."

Dr. Aitkens enumerated the various types of people who occupy the ous types of people who occupy the pews of our churches, including the children of the congregations, upon whose shoulders rests the destinies of the church of tomorrow. He mentioned the superannuated ministers of the church of tomorrow of the superannuated ministers of the superannuated ministers. who were always so faithful in attendance, and of such help to the minister who occupies the pulpit. He dealt also with the hospitable and the prejudiced, and spoke of the way to open the hearts of this latter class to open the hearts of this latter class to the teachings of Christianity.

Several musical numbers were offered during the evening by various well-known local artists. Delightful solos were offered by Leon Adams and Lloyd Yorke, while Mrs. Schofield and Mr. Adams rendered a beautiful vocal duet. On the special request of Dr. Aitkens, the choir of 40 voices of the local church rendered a beautiful anthem.

Form Club Under Direction of Frank C. Irwin at Enthusiastic Meeting.

The University of Western Ontario gained an important club when the Old Scouts who are atending the university held an enthusiastic meet- after ing there last night and under the direction of the well-known scout organizer, Frank C. Irwin, they formed a club similar to those at U. of T. and McGill.

The members elected Clarke Wright as president and, although "Cap" Tindall was also nominated "Cap" Tindall was also nominated, he chose to make the vote unanimous and passed up the honor to the freshman representative. The president and Ken. Stanbury were appointed as the club's representatives to the annual scout banquet at Tecumseh Hotel, on Nov. 20. All the members were called upon to introduce themselves by giving a short review of their scouting experience, and Mr. Irwin gave a very short review of the system caperience, and Mr. Irwin gave a very interesting review of the fifteen years of his scout work, which he began as a patrol leader at Moose Jaw and which subsequently has taken him as far as France and India on organization work.

He stated that the object of the club was to keep up interest in scouting among the boys, who have given up active participation on account of their University work, so that some day they may be available for organization duties, and added that he would eagerly look forward that he would eagerly look forward that he would eagerly look forward to meeting the Western "U" Old Scouts on his next visit to London.

AWARD PROPERTIES Commission Orders Corbetton Church To Minority Voters.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Toronto, Nov. 16.—On the applications of the Presbyterian minorities at St. James' church, Corbetton, and of the Riverview Presbyterian church in Dufferin county. Chairman, J. D. in Dufferin county, Chairman J. D. Falconbridge and Commissioner R. S. Cassels, K.C., of the Ontario church S. Cassels, K.C., of the Ontario church property commission, agree that the minority of these two congregations should be awarded the Presbyterian church at Corbetton, on the fulfilment by one of the applicants of his promise to provide a site for the United church.

Commissioner Wardrone represent

Commissioner Wardrope, representing the United church, dissented, holding the minority should be given the Riverview church instead of the Corbetton church.

Splendid Features, Fine Display of Local Talent Combine in Splendid Show.

Real entertainment is the best term to describe the Orient club minstrel show, which will hold the poards at the Grand the first half of this week. From the opening scene to the last the whole performance is a medley of various forms of amusement, which not only please because of their own intrinsic merit, but also of their own intrinsic merit, but also because local talent creates an atmosphere different from that of the professional company. The large audience last night was delighted with the whole performance, and on its own value apart from local consideration, the show deserves capacity audiences today and tomorrow.

Frank Tucker is intelocutor in

Frank Tucker is intelocutor in the opening minstrel scene, and adds more laurels to those he has earned in previous efforts. Possessed of a pleasing personality and voice, a better choice than Mr. Tucker for the position upon which so much of the show depends could not be made. In this scene the chorus gets in its real work. To say it does it with the professional finish would not be true. keep the anxious customers in line It is its refreshing amateurism that makes it worth-while.

Fred Dowling, a singer who needs no introduction to Londoners, sings two songs in the first act, that last night received more applause than single performer. Dowling sings with an appeal and sincerity that attracts everyone. The jokes of the end men at the expense of prominent persons in the audience, created much fun last night.

The second act opens with a sketch, At the Station. The characters sketch, At the Station The characters are most ludicrous and the sight of Fred Gammage playing 'Little Willie' is delightful. The very ridiculousness of this skit is its recommendation. As a joy dispenser it more than fulfilled its purpose last night.

A second amusing playlet is also presented in this act. Frank Tucker is the leading man in it, and it has a spontaneity that is soothing.

The musical and dancing numbers of the whole show are good. Special eredit must go, however, to Miss Dora Mitchell. The vivaciousness of her Charleston dancing and personality winsome hearts of her audience last night. No mistake would have been made if more solo dancing by Miss Mitchell had been included in the program.

The chorus of local young girls in the cabaret scenes much excels that which one sees in the professiona show for beauty and for latent talent The butterfly dance of Miss Helen Wilkie and the singing of Virginia Dyer with the cabaret girls are also worthy of special mention. On the whole, the show is the best produced by the Orient club yet and that is saying a great deal.
