NEW GOVERNMENT AGENT IN PEACE RIVER DISTRICT

F. C. Campbell is in the City to receive his final instructions

F. C. Campbell, who has just appointed government agent in the Peace River district, is in the city to receive his final instructions leaving for his new headquarters.

Mr. Campbell for the last time has been mining recorder in Kootenays. He leaves Edmonton for the Peace River district on Monday and his trip will be a troublesome one. Accompanied by Constable of Prince Rupert, he leaves for Athabasca. Landing by distance of one hundred miles there by steamer they go up the Peace River to its confluence with the Lesser Slave river, and then to the head of Lesser Slave. There is but one place on this portion of the strip, and place on the Lesser Slave, which is a canyon impossible to navigate. Then they make a run up the Peace River Crossing, when they land again until they reach St. John. This will be the last of the trip.

Mr. Campbell has been instructed to look the district over and to report on its conditions and its possibilities. A considerable number of claims have been going in from all over the province, and the provincial government has authorized the necessity of an authority over the land in this section.

The Dominion land grant of 100,000 acres in this district lies in a block, but the province has a claim on a portion of it. The district is supposed to contain coal, oil, gold, and in addition of the land is prairie wheat and cattle can graze all winter. St. John is on the Peace River, 100 miles from the provincial boundary.

Vancouver, B. C., April 8.—A speech delivered before the Conservative Club in Vancouver last night, G. H. Cowan, said:

"I feel it my duty to tell you that Laurier is the greatest false alarm in the history of Canada."

Referring to the better question and the Premier's attitude, he added:

"It is only a white-coward and a man who respects for justice who deny us a fair and impartial hearing."
