AN UNKNOWN HERO. A Local Circumstance Recalls an Even in Irish History.

A Local Circumstance Recalls an Event in Irish History.

Efforts are being made just now to raise a sum of money for the erection of a memorial of one who is not generally known to fame.

Patrick Tierney was born in Ennis, the county town of Clare, in the year 1842. Like many another spirited young Irishman for whom there is no attractive civil career open he enlisted as a private in the S7th regiment of infantry. Before enlisting he had been a member of some of the many revolutionary erganizations that then abounded in Ireland. It was the days of informers, and one of the most notorious of the time was a fellow named warner. Warner had been a soldier, but finding informing probably more congenial and remunerative he took to that loathsome realing. He joined various Fenian societies and, gaining a great deal of information in this manner, he was the means of sending many of his fellows to prison. As may well be believed, this treacherous conduct made his very name execrated throughout the length and breadth of Ireland. So strong was the feeling that Warner had to be kept constantly under police protection. This did not serve to shield him from "the vergeance long of him who treasures up a wrong." Patrick Tierney was then in Ireland and he as the constantly under police protection. This did not serve to shield him from "the vergeance long of him who treasures up a wrong." Patrick Tierney was then in Ireland and he

This season's trade with Oak Hall bas already opened up with an immense sale of fall overcoats, and they have never known in previous seasons such a run in boys' and youths' clothing.

Or. Allen has prohibited further dumping of night soil at the compost heap near Winchester-street. The Health Officer says this has been done because the dumping ground is full, not because any nuisance is caused by the material. He says it has been thoroughly disinfected before being taken there.

Chronic Derangements of the Stomach, Liver and Blood, are speedily removed by the active principle of the ingredients entering into the composition of Parmelee's Vegetable Pills. These bills act specifically on the deranged organs, stimulating to action the dormant energies of the system, thereby removing disease and renewing life and vitality to the afflicted. In this lies the great secret of the popularity of Parmelee's Vegetable Pilis.
