TREATMENT OF LEPROSY

Whole Outlook in Fight Against Disease Changed
 Vancouver.—The whole outlook in the fight against leprosy has been changed by comparatively recent results in the use of the latest method of treatment, according to W. H. P. Anderson, general secretary of the Mission to Lepers with headquarters in London, England.
 Mr. Anderson, who is a native of Guelph, Ont., has been engaged for the last 20 years in work among the lepers, 12 years of which were spent in India and during the last nine months has visited 26 leper stations in various parts of the Far East in which there were 700 inmates. He reached Vancouver from Australia on the liner Aorangi Friday.
 "When I first went out to India," Mr. Anderson stated, "lepers in their dreadful misery, expressed a desire to die. Today, they say: 'we are alive for the second time!'"
 In India, where the main work of the mission was being carried on by the secretary, said, about 55,000 lepers are being cared for in its own aided institutions.

The Right Way to Boil Potatoes

Put the potatoes in an SMP Enamelled Potato Pot. Cover with water. Add salt to taste. Boil until soft. When finished, drain off all the boiling water through the strainer spout. No danger of steam scalding the hands because the handle securely locks the cover on. If your family uses potatoes, you require one of these.

THE FARMER
 It is no fun to be a farmer
 Who, when to woo his Felice Charm-
 er
 The Early Morning Cal me-ows,
 Must brave the dark to milk the Cows
 While sparrows chirp their Obligato
 He gathers Beans and props Tomatoes
 About the time the sun is up
 He gets his Breakfast Coffee Cup.
 He spends his Leisure Plowing, Sowing,
 Manuring, Pulling Turnips, Mowing,
 And Praying, as he views his Grain.
 For lots of Sun or Lots of Rain.
 When Anxious Farmers get together
 They Wish for Varied Kinds of Weather;
 And when the weather comes along,
 No matter what it is, its Wrong.
 Good Cause the Farmer has to grum-

 If Crops are good, the prices tumble.
 He never even thinks he's through;
 There's always Something Else to do.

Here and There

That a new market has been found for Canadian lobsters, is shown by the report that twenty-six hundred cases of lobsters, valued at about $78,000, were shipped to Sweden from Halifax, N.S., during the first week in July.

The gold mines of Northern Ontario are now realizing aggregate profits of a million dollars a month, according to estimates compiled at Timmins, Ont. There was a gross income of $2,650,000 during the month of June.

Six hundred and twenty-four families from Great Britain and other European countries settled in the West on 187,000 acres of land, sold in the fiscal year ending May 31st, according to the records of the Canada Colonization Association.

Quebec is this year enjoying the greatest influx of tourists it has known for a considerable time. Hundreds of motorists, the majority from the States, are camped in and around the city, and the Chateau Frontenac reports capacity bookings.

During his tour of Western Canada Field Marshal Earl Haig passed through the town on the Canadian Pacific Railway which was named for him several years ago, for the first time. The Field Marshal, on learning his connection with the town, looked as pleased as though he had just won another famous victory.

According to the report of the Department of Agriculture, livestock marketings in Canada during the past year were the best experienced for many years. There were 975,020 cattle, 355,179 calves, 3,094,291 hogs and 485,606 sheep marketed in 1924, as compared with 882,921, 315,522, 2,363,402 and 512,390 respectively in the previous year.

According to J. M. Gibbon, secretary of the Trail Riders of the Canadian Rockies, who recently left Montreal for the West, the annual cross-country ride and pow-wow undertaken by that organization, is becoming so popular that lovers of the outdoors from England and Australia are attending this year, in addition to the members from the United States and Canada.

The "Beatty Boys," four British youngsters, brought out here by E. W. Beatty, K.C., President of the Canadian Pacific Railway, to study Canadian farm methods, arrived in Canada on the "Montcalm" this month. They are expert farmers selected by the Minister of Agriculture from the members of the Young Farmers' Club of Great Britain and will remain in Canada for two months as the guests of Mr. Beatty.

That elk, in the Panther River country, not far from Banff, are rapidly increasing in number and may possibly become a menace, is the opinion of Baltimore Brown, an artist of New York who recently returned from a painting tour through the Rocky Mountains. Mr. Brown is regarded as an authority on wild animals and states that there will be, ten years from now, 10,000 elk in the district, unless steps are taken to decrease their numbers.
 French-Canadian agricultural experts, theologians, students and others, touring the country under the auspices of the University of Montreal express unanimous amazement at the agricultural development of British Columbia, the scenery of Alberta, the prairies of Manitoba, the beauties of Northern Ontario and the vastness of the country in general. A similar excursion left Toronto recently under the auspices of the Teachers' Federation of Canada also over Canadian Pacific lines, and will return the middle of August.

VISCOUNT BURNHAM PAYS BIG TRIBUTE TO C. P. R. SERVICE

Disclaims Flattery or Hyperbole When He Calls It Greatest British Enterprise.

SPLENDID TRADITIONS

Corporation Has Always Been Much More Than a Road—A. R. Calder Is Honored

Vancouver.—High tribute was paid to the C. P. R. here today by Viscount Burnham, president of the Empire Press Union, and head of the delegation on its way to the Imperial Press Conference in Australia.

Speaking before one of the largest audiences in the history of the Vancouver Canadian Club, Lord Burnham said: "I am not using the language of flattery or hyperbole when I say that the C.P.R. is the greatest not only of all Canadian enterprises, but because it is essentially Canadian, the greatest of all British enterprises in our modern world. No other race could have done it. They might have done it about it perhaps but they could never have carried it through half a century ago out of the far-seeing genius and the unquenchable courage of the plain citizen."
 "No more, no corporation, either public or private, ever created and maintained so splendidly a tradition in so short a time. Esprit de corps never had a finer embodiment than in the service of a road, which has always been much more than a road, and which Lord Shaughnessy loyally called on his deathbed a great Canadian property and a great Canadian enterprise."
 "Maybe this is hardly worth saying in this city of Vancouver, but I feel impelled to say it once more because it is so heartening for the future of western Canada. I call to mind the famous prophecy of Sir William Van Horne, whom I met here more than thirty years ago, when standing on the rocks and stumps which are now the centre of this city. He predicted that 'from this place, an all-year-round port, will sail fleets of vessels engaged in trade all over the world.'"
 "Later in the day after the delegates had been entertained at the beautiful home of R. J. Cromie, publisher of the Vancouver Sun, Viscount Burnham presided at a happy presentation to Arthur B. Calder, special representative of the C. P. R., who has done so much to make memorable the trip across Canada of the distinguished British press men.
 Referring to the fact that five years ago Mr. Calder had acted in a similar capacity for a similar party, Viscount Burnham paid tribute to the unflinching native courtesy, the consummate tact and the constant care which had the whole trip across Canada a perfect delight and had made every member of the party regard Mr. Calder in the light of 'guide, philosopher and friend.'"
 He expressed the hope that when another Imperial press party came to Canada again it would find Mr. Calder still in office and again delegated to care for it as part of his delightful duty as a true 'ambassador to the human race.'"
 A feeling reference to Alexander Calder, veteran railroad himself and father of the guest of the occasion evoked much enthusiasm among the delegates. The presentation took the form of a handsome travelling bag fully equipped.
 Mr. Calder replied briefly. He spoke of the pleasure he had taken in association with so happy and distinguished a party but disclaimed personal credit, declaring that he was but one of the best of loyal servants of the Canadian Pacific who value above every monetary consideration the opportunity to serve and assist in the upbuilding of so great an organization.

TO PAY HALF COST OF COLONIZATION

British Government Willing, Lord Burnham Says At Vancouver

Vancouver, B. C.—Any workable scheme of immigration to colonize with people from Britain would be aided by the British Government to the extent of half the expense, Lord Burnham announced in his address to the joint luncheon of the Canadian Club and Woman's Canadian Club today.
 "While I have no right to speak for the Government, I have some authority to say to you, there is no considered scheme for settlement which may be agreed on, to which the Government will not contribute half the money which may be required. The British Government will, as the saying is, go fifty-fifty with you. The Government has spent but a small part of what has been asked for colonization purposes," said Lord Burnham.
 This statement, which was considered the most important part in the studied address of Lord Burnham, was greeted with loud applause.
 Complimenting the Canadian Club, he said it was a factor in forming public opinion not only of Canada, but of the Empire.

SUMMER COMPLAINTS KILL LITTLE ONES

At the first sign of illness during the hot weather give the little ones Baby's Own Tablets or in a few hours they may be beyond aid. These Tablets will prevent summer complaints if given occasionally to the well child, and will promptly relieve these troubles if they come on suddenly. Baby's Own Tablets should always be kept in every home where there are young children. There is no other medicine as good and the mother has the guarantee of a government analyst that they are absolutely safe. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25c a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

A TOURIST CAMP AT NIGHT

The blazon sounds the knell of parting day.
 Some late arrivals through the dust clouds creep.
 And three hours after we have hit the hay
 The noise calms down so that we can get to sleep.
 Save where, from yonder pennant-clad Sedan,
 The radio set emits its raucous squeal,
 And underneath a nearby light a man
 Pounds until daylight on a busted wheel.
 Beneath those tattered tops, those patent tents
 Where falls the dust into each sun-burned pore,
 Each on his folding bed of slight expense,
 The rule explorers of the highway snore.
 Let not ambition mock their weary cars,
 Their khaki clothes of vintage quite obscure,
 Nor grandeur view, with hauteur like a czar's,
 The shirt and simple flippers of the poor.
 The hoist of shiny paint, the pump of power,
 And all that charms the motoristic cop,
 Await alike the inevitable hour—
 The paths of touring lead but to the shop.
 Can streamline hood or silver-plated hubs,
 Back to its mansion call the missing spark,
 Can plush upholstery foil the clumsy
 Who hang into your tenders in the dark?
 Full many a boob or preet ray serene
 Succumb each summer to the touring itch,
 Full many a car is doomed to bluish
 And waste its sweetness in a high-way ditch.

TAKE THE SUNNY SIDE

Let's ottener talk of noble deeds,
 And rarer of the bad ones,
 And sing about our happy days,
 And not about the sad ones.
 We are not made to fret and sigh,
 And when grief seizes, to wail it;
 Bright happiness is standing by;
 This life is what we make it.

The Tourist's Eternal Triangle

Someone has just published a book about Canada. It is only a little book—about eighty pages—but it contains an astonishing amount of information. It will tell you how many cities there are in Canada; how many people there are in those cities; how many bushels of wheat were grown in 1924 and how much money the government makes out of the business of governing. It will also tell you, incidentally, that Victoria, B.C. is one of the most beautiful cities of the world and that Vancouver has the second finest harbor there is anywhere.

Columbia and as such is the centre of the province's recreational, industrial, and social activities and that's saying a whole lot. Then there's Vancouver. Look at its bathing beach. No wonder the citizens have built the second finest harbor in the world when they have a great and beautiful slab of the Pacific Ocean to fling themselves and each other into to revive their weary bodies and minds whenever the business of operating their famous harbor becomes burdensome.

These two cities are linked with each other and with Seattle, to the south, by what is known as the Triangle Route of steamships of which the Princess Kathleen, of the Canadian Pacific Coastal service is a member. The 'Kathleen' recently made her inaugural trip on this route and is now permanently in the service.

"MY CROSS"

Mine was a hard rough road to tread
 The gaps were deep and wide
 No summer sun on me did shine
 No flowers grew by my side.
 The hill I chose to climb was steep
 Old wrecks strewn on its shelf,
 And oh my cross was heavy, too;
 I made the cross myself.
 I chose the heaviest wood I could,
 I nailed it firm and strong,
 I bound it round with iron bands,
 Few could have borne it long.
 It never thro' my mind had pass'd
 That it was meant for me;
 I would have made a lighter cross
 To bear to Calvary.

TO LIVE—BUT TO BE WELL

SUMMER DIARRHOEA
 August and September are the months during which Summer Diarrhoea takes its heaviest toll of life. Especially among children of one or two years of age are the losses occasioned by it severe. In one Nova Scotia town last year no less than 44 infants died in those months, the births during the two months in the same town totalling 167. In other words the mortality represented the loss of 3 infants out of 10, and this was mostly due to diarrhoea. Much can be done to prevent this:
 1. Breast feeding, especially in hot weather, is the most important single factor in keeping infants well.
 2. Cleanliness of the baby is important and not only his cleanliness but the cleanliness of all who come into contact with him. Infection is usually brought to him by someone from outside source.
 3. Keep the baby comfortable, in cool well ventilated places, and protect him from flies. If he must be fed from the bottle, see that the bottle and nipple are boiled before being used.
 4. Milk is probably the basis of the food of all babies. See that it is good and as pure as can be obtained. Pasteurize or boil it if necessary, after which cool it rapidly. If you do this remember that the baby may require with the milk the vitamins which may be obtained from living food.
 5. Be sure your milk mixture is correct. No two babies agree in respect to their food requirements or their tastes.
 6. Do not forget that baby gets thirsty, as you do. Give him water, but be sure the water is pure. Boil the water and cool it, if you are not sure of its purity.
 7. When in doubt, or at the first appearance of illness, see your Doctor.
